

Index

- Abstraction, 2–3 of ‘gesture’, 3–4 chain of, 3
‘Acknowledgments’, 171
Actions, 33, 192–202, 208,
 209–210, 224
Active witnesses (theorai),
 200–201
Additive ‘bandwidth’, 25
Affordances, 131
Agency, 234
Agent, 230–233, 235, 237
Agent-shapes-scene (P(SA)), 237–238
Alphabet, 68
Analytical categories, 230
Animal languages, 66
Anti-democratic character, 215
Anti-positivist methodologists, 95
‘Anti-social’ behaviour, 34
‘Anti-sociality’ problems, 223
Apodeictic deixis, 201–202
Apologia, 216
Association of Internet
 Researchers, 17
Audience, 184
Auditory effect, 32–33

Behavioural level, 65, 66, 83–84
Behaviourist empiricism, 82–83
Broadcast technologies, 105
Burke’s pentad, 233–234

Cartesian space, 107–108
Catholic notion of mediation, 143

Chaos theory, 1, 18
Chomskyan linguistics, 67–68
Cipher, 69
Co-action, 208, 209
Code as language, 66–70
Coding, 22–23
Cognitive/cognition, 125–126
 linguistics, 68–69
 process and context, 35
 semantics, 68–69
Coherence, 206
 coherent objects, 1
Colloquialisms, 21
Communication, 2, 4–6, 12–13,
 59, 60, 64–65, 76, 99, 100,
 101, 102–103, 155, 162,
 191, 201, 205–206, 220
 computer-mediated, 8, 15, 24, 25, 27, 34, 51, 152–153
 continuous intersubjectivity, 12–13
 and control, 21–22, 24 dimensions, 227–241 electronically and digitally mediated forms, 7 explosion of forms, 225 functions, 119–126
 fundamental gestural character of, 227
 importance of deictic,
 epideictic, and phatic
 aspects, 201–202
 of information, 70–78
 media, 24–25
 mediated spaces, 225–226

- and mediation, 127–133
- modes, 135, 137
- relational dimensions in
 - communication philosophy and theory, 231
- as rhetorical, 189–190
- skill, 38
- as space-making, 148–154
- spaces of, 115
- studies, 18
- Communicators, 102, 152
- Communities, 13
- Competition, 218
- Complexity theory, 18
- Comprehension, 82
- Computer-mediated
 - communication, 8, 15, 24, 25, 27, 34, 51, 152–153
- Conative function of language, 121–122
- Conceptualizing spaces, 107–108
- Confirmation bias, 36–37
- Connotation, 46
- Consciousness, 5–6
- Conservative rhetoric, 211–212
 - of ‘Real America’, 214
- Constitutive rhetoric, 188
- Consubstantiality, 180–181
- CONTAINER metaphor, 104, 105, 107, 115
- Contemporary rhetorical theories, 165
- Contexts, 85–91
 - collapse, 21–22
- Continuous intersubjectivity, 13
 - communication, 12–13
- Conventional linguistics, 70
- Conventional sociolinguistic methods, 56
- “Conversation for action”, 33–34
- “Conversation for social maintenance”, 33–34
- Cooperation, 218
- Counting, 22–23
- Credibility, 201
- Crisis, 178
- Critical theory, 76
- Cues-reduced models, 25, 27
- Cultural studies, 76
- Culture, 128, 130–131
- Curative rhetoric, 214
- Cybernetics, 58, 62, 67, 70, 99, 123, 143, 164
- Cyberpragmatics, 57
- Cyberselves, 47–51
- Cyberspace, 116–117, 130–131, 132
- ‘Dark side’ of epideictic, 211, 212–213
- Data, 92–93
- Datum, 78–79
- Declaration of Mental Independence (Owen), 212–213
- Deflection of reality, 183–184
- Degenerative relational processes, 210
- Deictic*, 118
 - communication, 160–161
- Deixis, 118, 166, 201–202
 - in language, 119, 127
- Deliberative rhetoric
 - communication, 166
- Denotation, 46
- Denunciation, 216
- Destination, 59
- Digital
 - codes, 10, 11
 - community, 17
 - identities, 47–51

- interaction, 42
- metaphysics, 99
- ontology, 99
- para-language, 30–38
- philosophy, 99
- technologies, 105
- text interaction, 53
- Digital communication, 22
 - technologies, 107
- Digital discourse, 20
 - language and para-language, 22–29
- Digital media, 131
 - phatic character of, 190
 - researchers, 17
 - technologies, 221, 226–227
- Digital pragmatics, 29–55
 - digital identities and
 - cyberselves, 47–51
 - digital para-language, 30–38
 - emoji, 43–47
 - emoticons, 38–43
 - orality and literacy, 51–55
 - redux, 55–58
- Digitally networked
 - communications, 226
 - technologies, 89, 104–105
- Digitally networked textual media, 28
- Discourse, 178
 - epideictic dimension of, 187
- Discrete analysis method, 17–18
- Discrete relations, 109
- Doxa*, 183
- Dramatism*, 104

- E-messages functions, 34
- Effective level, 65
- Effects, 10, 11, 14
- Egocentricity, 5

- Electronic communications
 - technologies, 103
- Electronic paralanguage, 31
- Embodied spatial orientation, 102
- Emoji, 43–47
- Emotes, 29–30
- Emoticons, 38–43
- Emotion(s), 39–40, 169, 172–173
 - emotional content, 65
 - indicators, 40
- ‘Emotional female’ stereotype, 48
- ‘Emotive-rhetorical’ content, 46
- Enactment of relations, 102–108
- Enthymeme, 168
- Environmental information (see Information as reality)
- Environmental medium, 128–130
- Epideictic
 - audience role, 178
 - deixis, 201–202
 - dimension, 182–183, 187
 - discourse, 212
 - enactment of reality, 184–188
 - of ideology, 177–184
 - speech, 182
 - territorializes, 218–219
- Epideictic function, 166–174
 - of discourse and
 - communication, 177
 - of rhetorical exclusion, 211
- Epideictic rhetoric, 188
 - ommunication, 166
- Epideiktikon, 187
- Episteme, 177–178
- Equal role, 86
- Ethics of information, 91–98
- Ethnicity, 49–50
- Ethnographic study, 31
- Ethnomethodology, 197
- Ethos, 167, 171, 173–174, 177, 181

- Euclidean space, 107–108
- Experiential function of language, 125
- Explicitly epideictic discourse, 182
- Expressions, 209–210
- Expressive function of language, 121–122
- Face-to-face
 conversation, 22
 interaction, 24, 32, 41–42, 54, 85–86, 116
- Facework, 26–27
- ‘Feedback’, 37, 62, 65–66
- ‘Feminine’ style, 48
- Fields of argument, 93
- Forensic rhetoric communication, 166
- FORUM conferencing system on ARPANET, 24
- ‘Freedom’, 217
 Owen’s definition of, 213
- ‘Function’, 123–124
- Functional approaches, 122–123
- Gender, 49–50
- Generative relational processes, 210
- Gesture, 4, 6, 33, 46, 202–205, 227
 abstraction of, 3–4 of liking, 226
 territorializes, 202
- Gibson’s theory
 ecological theory of visual perception, 128 of perception, 132
- Google Maps, 110–112
- Grammars, 87, 151
 of motives, 233–234
- Graph theory, 109
- Hand gestures, 204
- Hermeneutic horizon, 94
- Home Territories* (Morely), 104
- Human geography theories, 106
- Human language, 69
- Hume’s Law, 177
- Hyper-social, 221
- Hyperpersonal communication, 36–37
- Ideational function of language, 121–122, 125
- Ideational metafunction, 126
- Identity, 50
- Ideology, 189
 epideictic and materiality of, 177–184
- Illocutionary force, 39–40
 indicators, 40
- Illocutionary interaction, 196
- Immaterial’ labour, 104
- Immateriality, 104
- Incivility, 215–216
- Indicative gesture, 203
- Individual interlocutor, 184, 185
- Industrial Revolution, 103
- Information, 46, 78–85, 99, 100, 165, 191–202 mathematical theory of information transmission, 3 as reality, 192–194 for reality, 192–194 about reality, 192–194 reception, 162
 source, 59 spaces, 117
 theory, 58, 59, 62, 67, 70, 75, 123, 143
- Information richness theory, 26
- Information-carrying capacity, 26

- Informative communication, 155–156, 162
 Informative function, 159
 Instructional communication, 90–91
 Intellectual space, 117
 Intellectual function, 120
 Intentional actor, 100–101
 Intentionality, 100
 Inter/Media, 23
 Interaction, 2, 5–6
 digital, 42
 face-to-face, 24, 32, 41–42, 54, 85–86, 116
 illocutionary, 196
 locutionary, 196
 modes of, 146–147
 order, 197–198
 perlocutionary, 196
 synchronous machine-mediated, 30 text-based, 47–48
 textual, 41–42
 Interaction dimensions, 191 dimensions of communication, 227–241
 gesture, 202–205
 information, rhetoric, and action, 192–202 meaning making, 205–217
 mediational means of territorialization, 217–227 planes of indication, 236 rhetorical dimensions of information and communication theory, 228–229 vectors of indication in interaction, 238
 Interactional processes, 17, 209
 Interactional technologies, 226
 Interactive written discourse, 52
 Intercultural communication, 141
 Interface-specific effect, 23
 Internet communications technologies (ICTs), 14
 Interpellation, 109–110
 Interpersonal function of language, 121–122
 Interpersonal noise, 27
 Interpretant domain, 199
 Interpretation, 82
 Interpretive method, 93
 Intra-action, 207
 Intra-subjectivity, 207
 Invective discourse, 213–214, 216
 Isolates, 10, 14

 Jakobson's model, 121

Kairos, 200–201
 Kaomoji, 43
 “Keyboard-to-screen” communication, 23
 Knowledge, 99, 219

 Language, 5–6, 19–20, 22–29, 70–78, 118, 119–120, 123, 146–147, 222
 as code, 66–70
 deixis in, 119, 127
 functions, 120, 185
 human, 134
 metafunctions, 121, 122
 skill, 38
 as social action, 75
 as social interaction, 125 spoken, 133–134
 written, 6–7, 68
Langue, 67
 ‘Liking’, gesture of, 226

- Linear transmission of message, 100
- Linguistic approach, 20, 150
- Linguistic-pragmatic function, 44
- indicators, 39–40
- Linguistics, 71
- Linking function of language, 124
- Liquid sociality, 113–114
- ‘Liquid space’ metaphors, 113–114
- Literacy, 50–55
- Literate-written language, 52
- Location-based social networks, 111
- Locative media, 110–111
- Locutionary interaction, 196
- Logic proper, 83
- Logical function of language, 121–122, 125
- Logical positivism, 82–83
- Logos, 167, 171, 173–174, 176, 219
- Machine languages, 66
- Making meaning of information, 100
- communication and mediation, 127–133
- communication as space-making, 148–154
- functions of communication, 119–126
- mediation and mediational means, 142–148
- mediation and modality, 133–142
- of networks, and other political metaphors, 108–114
- space concept, 102–108, 114–119
- Market-based competition, 112
- ‘Masculine’ features, 48–49
- Masse parlante* functions, 72–73
- Materiality of ideology, 177–184
- Mathematical theory
- of communication, 59
- of data communication, 59
- Mathematics, 232
- McLuhan’s media theory, 144
- Meaning, 60, 91–98, 104, 160
- Meaning-making, 205–217
- to spacemaking, 119–126
- Meaningful social act, 162–163
- Media (see also Digital media), 87, 127–128
- communication, 24–25
- digitally networked textual, 28
- locative, 110–111
- richness theory, 26
- social, 17, 89, 155–156
- studies, 76
- technological, 129
- Mediated communication, 132
- Mediated discourse analysis, 141
- Mediated spaces of communication, 225–226
- Mediation, 85–91, 149, 190
- communication and, 127–133
- and mediational means, 142–148
- and modality, 133–142
- Mediational means, 140–141, 220
- mediation and, 142–148
- of territorialization, 217–227
- Medium, 127–129, 143
- Memory, 99, 174–177
- Mentation, 124
- Message, 59, 64–65, 101
- Meta-communication, 22, 65–66, 90–91, 100, 149
- Meta-communicative cues, 84

- Meta-linguistic function, 121
 “Metafunctions” of language, 121
Michelangelo’s Finger, 4–5
 Mobile privatisation, 105
 Modality, 87
 mediation and, 133–142
 theory, 87
 Mode of information, 140
 reception, 136
 Mode(s), 87, 134–135, 149
 communication, 137
 of interaction, 146–147
 of perception, 146–147
 of realization, 171 of reception, 146–147 of sensory perception, 136, 140
 Modern functional approaches, 120
 Modulation, 139
 Multi-user domain (MUD), 33
 Multimodal interactional analysis, 141
 Multimodal method, 138–139, 147
 Multimodal semiotics, 87
 Mutual intelligibility, 96

 Narrative function, 159
 Negative entropy, 2
 Negative phatic communion, 163
 Neo-Aristotelian rhetorical criticism, 167
 Neo-sophistic approaches, 165
 Neoliberal epideictic, 215
 NETWORK metaphor, 111, 114
 Networks, 108–114
 networked computer messaging systems, 24
 theory, 108–109
No Sense of Place, 104
 Nodes, 108
 Noise, 59

 Nominally democratic society, 217
 Non-emotional meaning indicators, 40
 Non-linguistic, 20
 Non-places, 106
 Non-pluralistic character, 215
 Non-verbal betray, 54
 communication, 11, 24, 28–29, 42, 125, 204
 conveys, 86
 function, 44, 84
 information, 41
 interactional phenomena, 20
 modes, 86
 Normative judgments, 184
 Novelty, 8–9

 Ocularcentrism, 87–88
 Oral-spoken language, 52
 Orality, 50–55
 Ordinary spoken language, 65
 Ostension, 4–5

 Para-linguistic, 22, 84, 88
 betray, 54
 cue, 37
 elements, 40
 forms and expressions, 31
 ‘Para’-language, 22–29
 Paradigms, 93
Parole, 67
 Passive audiences (kritai), 200–201
 Patheism, 172
 Pathology, 172–173
 Pathos, 167, 168, 171, 172, 173–174, 177
 Patterns, 10, 14
 Perceptual level, 65, 66, 83–84

- Perlocutionary interaction, 196
- Person, 230–233, 235, 237
- Person-agent (PA), 235–237
- Person-subject (PS), 235–237
- Person/object dimension, 233
- Phatic
 - communication, 155–164
 - communion, 156, 158, 159
 - function, 121
- Phenomenology, 18
- Philosophical pragmatism, 82–83
- Phonetic description, 68
- Pisteis, 178, 181
- Places, 106, 115–116, 117
- Platform-specific effect, 23
- Poetic function, 121
- Pointing, 203
- Politeness theory, 26–27
- Political metaphors, 108–114
- Polyphony, 68
- Positivistically oriented scholars, 219–220
- Pragmateia, 178
- Pragmatic(s), 57, 81–82
 - communication, 149–150
 - discourse, 170
 - function, 159
 - rhetoric, 168
- Pragmatikon, 187
- Praxeis, 178
- Praxis, 118
- Pre-decoded information, 79
- Pre-encoded information, 79
- Pre-linguistic gestural character of communication, 227
- Pre-symbolic gestural character of communication, 227
- Presentational meaning (see Ideational function of language)
- Proto-human cultures, 205
- Psychology, 172–173
- Pure grammar, 83
- Pure rhetoric, 83
- Qualitative method, 93
- Quality, 37
- Quantity, 37
- Quantum physics, 18
- Quasi-numbers, 95
- Race, 49–50
- Rationality, 87–88, 191
- ‘Re-creative’ rhetorical criticism, 167–168
- Re-membering, rhetorical
 - character of, 174–177
- ‘Real America’, Conservative rhetoric of, 214
- Reality, epideictic enactment of, 184–188
- Reasoning, 173, 191, 219
- Receiver, 38, 59, 63–64
- Reception, 100, 184
- Recognition, 82
- Reflection of reality, 183–184
- Regimes of knowledge, 93
- Regulation of human behaviour, 124
- Regulative function, 120
- Relevance, 201
 - theory, 57, 151, 152
- Representational function of language, 121–122
- Rhetoric, 179, 192–202
 - conception, 169–170
 - of orthodoxies, 183
- Rhetoric as making of meaning
 - communication, 189–190
 - phatic communication, 156–164
 - rhetorical pragmatics, 164–188

- ‘Rhetoric of Hitler’s ‘Battle The’, 211
- Rhetorical performance, 7
- Rhetorical pragmatics, 164–188
epideictic, 166–174
epideictic and materiality of ideology, 177–184
epideictic enactment of reality,
184–188
memory, 174–177
- Rules systems, 194
- ‘Sarcasm mark’, 28
- Saussure’s authentic linguistic
theory, 71
- Saussure’s model, 59
- Scene-shapes-agent ((SA)P), 237–238
- Scientific rationalism, 172–173
- “Second Persona, The” (Black),
180
- Secondary orality, 51
- Selection of reality, 183–184
- Self-contained cybernetic-information system, 99
- Selves, 13
- Semantic(s), 81–82
communication, 149–150
information, 192–194
level, 65, 66, 83–84
- Semiology, 59
of communication, 71
- Semiosis, 88, 119–120
- Semiotic(s), 58
codes, 10, 11
ethics of information, 91–98
language, and communication of information, 70–78
language as code, code as language, 66–70
signification and information, 78–85
signification and mediation, 85–91
social, 72–73, 138–139
structuralist, 75
theory, 72–73
- Semiotics of Emoji* (Danesi),
44–45
- Semiotik*, 59
- Sender, 38, 59
- Sender-message-receiver, 192
- Sensory organs, 63–64
- Sets, 10, 14
- Shannon’s mathematical theory, 59
- Sign, 9–10, 99–100
exchange, 59
language, 205
- Sign-making act*, 75–76
- Signal, 59
transmission, 59
- Signification
and information, 78–85
and meaning, 91–98
and mediation, 85–91
- Situations, 10, 11, 14
- Social
constructionism, 10 coordination function, 120 identity and deindividuation theory (SIDE theory), 35–36
information processing, 36–37 life, 189
pathology, 223
phenomena, 92 process, 17
semiotics, 72–73, 138–139
sentiments, 157 skills, 38
space, 112

- Social media, 89, 155–156
 - technologies, 17
- Social presence, 24–25
 - theory, 24–25
- Sociocultural technological scale, 115
- Sociological theory of information, 197
- Sociotechnological phenomena, 17
- Space concept, 102–108
- SPACEAS-CONTAINER metaphors, 113
- Spacemaking
 - communication as, 148–154
 - meaning-making to, 119–126
- ‘Spaces of flows’, 113
- ‘Spaces of places’, 113
- Spacetime, 224
- Spatial orientation, 5, 116
- Spatial relations, 117–118
- Speech, 157–158
 - act theory, 39–40, 151, 196
 - communication functions, 120
 - written, 29–30, 52–53
- Stability, 1, 206
- STAGE metaphor, 104
- Strategies, 10, 11, 14
- “Strategy of affirmation”, 211
- “Strategy of subversion”, 211
- Structuralist
 - corruption, 71
 - linguistics, 58, 75
 - semiotics, 75
- Structures of dominance, 93
- Subject, 230–233, 235, 237
- Subject himself* audience, 184
- Subject-agent (SA), 236–237
- Super-ordinate, 86
- Symbol grounding problem, 79
- Symbolic
 - action, 196
 - language, 124
 - Symbolic communication, 160
 - violence, 216
- Synchronous machine-mediated interaction, 30
- Syntactic information, 192–194
- Syntactical system, 67
- Syntax, 81–82, 125
- Systemic functional grammar, 87, 121, 125
- Task-oriented organizational communication, 35
- Techne, 62
 - rhetoric as, 163–164
- Technical level, 65
- Technological
 - affordances, 133
 - agency, 133
 - determinism, 133
 - media, 129
- Technological medium, 133–134, 139
 - of communication, 132
- Telecocooning, 105, 107–108
- Telegraph, 103
- Terministic screens, 183
- Territorialization, 126
 - mediational means of, 217–227
- Text-based communication, 39
- Text-based interaction, 47–48
- Textisms, 38
- Texts, 85–91
- Textual
 - function of language, 121, 122
 - interaction, 41–42
 - para-linguistic cues, 25–26
- Theoros, 179, 186
- Theory of Cognitive Dissonance, A (Festinger), 168–169

- Time and space, 117
 - deictics mark relations in, 118–119
- 'Toaster studies', 17
- Transactional function, 121
- Transactional theory, 26–27
- Transistor radios, 105
- Transmission, 127
 - of information, 114, 191, 221
 - metaphor, 103
 - model, 59, 101, 155, 164
- Transmitter, 59
- Two Cultures, The*, 18

- Uncertainty reduction theory, 25
- Universal audience, 184
- US government-funded research, 18
- Utterance, 158

- Ventriloquism, 148

- Verbal codes, 29
- Verbal communication, 24
- Virtual conversation, 29–30
- Visual
 - effect, 32–33
 - rhetoric, 76
 - syntax, 151
 - system, 87–88
- von Neumann, John (father of contemporary computing technology), 142

- Web 2.0, 23
- Wiener's cybernetics, 67–68
- Written communication
 - composition process, 34–35
- Written language, 6–7, 68
- Written speech, 29–30, 52–53