

Index

Note: Page numbers followed by “n” indicate notes.

- Act, 188–189
- Activity-based offices, 184
- Adaptability, 61
- Adaptive structuration theory (AST), 40, 42–43
- Advanced communication technologies, 40
- Affect theory of social exchange, 24–25, 28–29
- Agency, 184, 188–189
- Agent, 188–189
- Agent–scene romanticisation of WFH, 189
 - agent–scene scripts, 193
 - analysis of narrative ratios, 189–192
 - coding WFH pins, 187–189
 - dramatism and pentadic criticism methodology, 186
 - employee as agent, 193–195
 - employer as agent, 195
 - enhancing WFH agency of employees, 196
 - implications of agent–scene ratio for WFH, 192
 - romanticisation of WFH, 192–193
 - scenes of work garner attention, 183–184
 - work scenes literature review, 184–185
- Aggregate average trend analysis, 12
- Allen curve, 17
- Alphabet (parent company of Google), 23
- American Community Service (ACS), 76
- Appropriation, 43
- Architects, 185
- Autonomous motivation, 137–138
- Autonomy, 154
- Being innovative, 66–67
- Being real, 67
- Being whole, 65–66
- Boundary theory, 62
- Brainstorming, 62
- Builders, 185
- Call-and-meeting-function, 45
- Career management, 61
 - practices, 161
- Case study method, 206
- CEO, 107
 - dynamic between CEO, team and membership, 107–109
 - shared leadership, 109
- Chief financial officers (CFOs), 18
- Co-worker support, 26, 28–30
- Coding WFH pins, 187
 - coding rhetorical artefacts, 188–189
 - selecting rhetorical artefacts, 187–188
- Collaboration, 216–217
 - collaboration/connectedness, 8–10
- Collectivism, 157
- Communication, 62 (see also Digital communication)
 - COVID-19 and use of, 41
 - remote work policy, 160
 - technologies, 8
- Comparative fit index (CFI), 85

- Compatibility, 81, 85
 - information quality influence on, 88–89
 - online teaching satisfaction and, 87–88
 - relationship among online
 - teaching satisfaction,
 - online teaching intention,
 - psychological availability and, 83
 - relationship between information, system, and service quality and, 82
 - service quality influence on, 88
- Compensation theory, 60
- Competing Values Framework, 33, 176
- Computer-aided supplemental work at home, 205
- Conflicts and trust, 216
- Connectedness, 4
- Connectivity, 61
- Control variables, 85
- Convenience, 215–216
- Coordination, 216–217
- Corporate culture, 18
- Corporate social responsibility (CSR), 67, 107
- Counter-normative employment practices, 156
- Country norms, 156–157
- COVID-19, 63
 - crisis, 4, 98
 - EVb through digital voice channels, 41–42
 - guiding framework, 42–43
 - organisational environment and COVID restrictions, 46–47
 - outbreak, 5
 - pandemic, 22–23, 40, 97, 148, 173, 184, 203
 - and use of communication technologies, 41
 - virus, 21, 166
- Creative problem-solving, 62
- Crisis leaders, 98
- CrossFit, 22
- Culture conceptualisations, 167–168
 - in WFH space, 168–169
- Data analysis, 105
- Differentiation paradigm views
 - culture, 168
- Digital communication, 8, 40, 43, 52
 - structures of digital communication technology, 45–46
- Digital distractions, 52
- Digital nomads, 62
- Digital platforms, 215
- Digital voice channel, 40
 - EVb through, 41–42
 - missing spark in, 49–53
- Digitalisation, 40
 - EVb, 44–45
 - findings, 44
 - future research, 53–54
 - group internal systems, 47
 - methodology, 43–44
 - missing spark in digital voice channels, 49–53
 - organisational environment and COVID restrictions, 46–47
 - practical and theoretical implications, 54–55
 - structures of digital communication technology, 45–46
 - of voice channels, 47–48
- Dimensions, 78
- Dispersed attention, 52
- Dramatism, 184, 186–187
- Dual-career families, 7
- Dugnad, 68
- Electronic communication,
 - robustness of, 155
- Embedded agency, 204

- Employee voice behaviour (EVB),
 - 40–41
 - through digital voice channels, 41–42
- Employees, 76, 134, 173, 217
 - employee–management relationships, 42
 - engagement, 138
 - loneliness connection, 25
 - need for autonomy, 173–174
 - need for competence, 174–175
 - need for relatedness, 174
 - productivity, 153
 - satisfaction, 183
 - socialisation, 154
 - turnover, 149
 - WFH trainings, 121
- Employer as agent, 195
- Employment, 205
 - practices, 156
- Engineers, 185
- Entrepreneur, 217
- Environmental Comfort model, 135
- Environmental psychology, 135
- Executive presidium, 109–110
- Experimentation, 215
- External stakeholders, 103
- Extroversion, 134
- Extroverts at work, 135–136
- Facebook, 23
- FaceTime, 63
- Feminism, 156
- Five-unit Likert scale, 11
- Formal interactions, 214
- Fragmentation paradigm, 168
- Freedom, United States and, 69
- Gender roles/norms, 60
- GetAbstract, 132
- Global COVID-19 pandemic, 10
- Global virtual workforce, 4
- Goal setting, 61
- Google, 63
- Grade point average (GPA), 138
- Gradient organisationality, 184, 185
- Great Depression, 4
- Group internal systems, 47
- Hawthorne effects, 8
- Hierarchy, 215
- Hiring, 214–215
- Home-based work, 23
- Home–work conflict, 78
- Human beings, 28
- Human resource management (HRM), 171–173, 205
- Human resources (HR), 5, 157, 166, 214
- Human–technology interaction, 43
- Hybrid workspace, 222–223
- In-depth interviews, 87
- In-person collaborative interactions, 17
- In-person instruction, 81
- India
 - within case analysis, 208–214
 - case selection and data collection, 206–207
 - collaboration and coordination, 216–217
 - conflicts and trust, 216
 - convenience, 215–216
 - COVID-19 pandemic, 203
 - data analysis, 207–208
 - employee and entrepreneur, 217
 - formal and informal interactions, 214
 - future research agenda, 224
 - hierarchy and type of work, 215
 - hiring and onboarding, 214–215
 - hybrid workspace, 222–223
 - innovation and experimentation, 215
 - institutional logics, 204–205, 217
 - managerial and policy implications, 223

- organisational culture, 214
- reporting and control, 215
- research methodology, 206
- theoretical framework and literature review, 204
- WFH literature, 205–206
- WFH space, 221–222
- WFO space, 217–221
- work from home in, 204, 216
- Individual innovation, 66
- Individualism, 156
- Industry norms, 156
- Influential organisational agents, 185
- Informal digital communication technologies, 40–41
- Informal interactions, 152, 214
- Information and communication technologies (ICTs), 76, 78, 205
- Information quality, 79, 85
 - influence on compatibility, 88–89
- Information systems, 62
- Information systems success model (ISSM), 78–79
- Information technology (IT), 43, 150
- Innovation, 66–67, 215
- Institutional entrepreneurship, 204
- Institutional logics, 204–205, 217
- Institutional Review Board (IRB), 12
- Institutional theory, 204
- Institutional work, 204
- Institutionalized practices, 99
- Instructional technologies, 78
- Instructional technology system, 79–80
- Integration paradigm views culture, 168
- Internal organisational actors, 177
- Internal stakeholders, 103
- International Labour Organizations (ILO), 148, 203
- International women leaders, 63
- Internet connection, 16
- Introversion, 134
- Introverts at work, 135–136
- Intuitive working relations, 99
- Job satisfaction, 4, 7–8
- Kenneth Burke's dramatism
 - approach, 184
- Knowledge sharing, 152
- Labour force, 60
- Leadership, 98–99
- Life course framework, 61
- Life integration framework, 65, 67
 - being innovative, 66–67
 - being real, 67
 - being whole, 65–66
 - literature review, 59–64
 - methodology, 64–65
 - Norway and equality, 67–68
 - Sri Lanka and family first, 68–69
 - United States and freedom, 69
 - WFH, 58
- Life space, 60
- Likert scale, 12, 83
- Limited career advancement
 - opportunities as barrier, 118–120
- Lockdown, 101
- Loneliness, 21–22
- Managerial perceptions of productivity, 4
- Mandatory social distancing, 166
- Masculinity contest culture (MCC), 22, 30 (see also Organisational culture)
 - at work, 26–28
- Mass virtual adoption
 - design, 11
 - implications and contribution to knowledge, 17–18
 - limitations, 16–17
 - literature review, 4–10
 - materials and procedure, 11–12

- method, 10
- participants, 11
- results, 12–15
- sustained virtual working effects
 - on worker productivity
 - during pandemic, 4
- virtual work 15–16
- Meaningful identity, 61
- Mentoring relationships, 122–123
- Microsoft Teams, 63
- Missing spark in digital voice channels, 49–53
- Mixed-method approach, 77, 83
- Narrative ratios analysis, 189, 192
 - commercialising agents, commercialised scenes, 190
 - organising agents, organised scenes, 190–191
 - producing agents, productive scenes, 191
 - scene–agent ratio, 191–192
- NCR Corporation, 159–160
- New York City (NYC), 23
- Nike, 22, 27
- Non-verbal communication, 50
- Norway and equality, 67–68
- Oil crisis (1970s), 5
- Onboarding, 214–215
- Online education, 81–82
- Online teaching intention, 83, 85
- Online teaching satisfaction, 83, 85
 - and compatibility, 87–88
- Open-ended questions, 64, 87
- Organisation culture theory, 166
- Organisational behaviour, 134
- Organisational culture, 148–149, 167, 214
 - characteristics of remote work and implications for, 149–150
 - conceptualisation of culture in WFH Space, 168–169
 - culture conceptualisations, 167–168
 - remote work outcomes with, 150
 - stronger/weaker effect on
 - organisational culture, 153–157
 - triadic assessment of concerns and responses to external shocks, 169
 - WFH implications and influences on, 175–177
- Organisational environment and COVID restrictions, 46–47
- Organisational identification, 150–151
- Organisational legitimacy, 204
- Organisational policies and practices to support effective WFH, 120–123
- Organisational space, 185
- Organisational support, 160–161
- Organised scenes, 190–191
- Organising agents, 190–191
- Orientation, 160
- Pentadic criticism methodology, 186, 187
- Perceived productivity, 4, 12
- Performance management system, 120–121
- Personality
 - characteristics, 136
 - personality-work environment, 139
 - traits, 132, 139
 - type, 140
- Pinterest, 190
 - and WFH pins and boards, 187–188
- Post-pandemic, 159
- Producing agents, 191
- Productive scenes, 191
- Productivity, 5–7, 17, 183
- Prohibitive EVB, 41
- Promotive EVB, 41

- Psychological availability, 81–82, 85, 89
 - relationship among information, system, and service quality and, 82–83
 - relationship among online teaching satisfaction, online teaching intention, compatibility, and, 83
 - system quality influence on, 89–90
- Purpose, 188–189
- PwC, 148
- Qualitative approach, 64
- Qualitative research, 105
 - design, 43
- Qualtrics, 11
- Rational tactics, 194
- Remote work, 7, 40, 184
 - characteristics and implications for organisational culture, 149–150
 - communicate remote work policy, 160
 - country norms, 156–157
 - employee productivity, 153
 - employee socialisation, 154
 - implications, 157
 - industry norms, 156
 - isolation, 151
 - knowledge sharing, 152
 - opportunities, 62
 - organisational and supervisory support, 160–161
 - organisational culture, 148–149
 - organisational identification, 150–151
 - outcomes with organisational culture as mediating mechanism, 150
 - practical implications, 159
 - programme type, 153–154
 - remote workers vs. those in-office, 158
 - research implications, 158
 - robustness of electronic communication, 155
 - stronger/weaker effect on organisational culture, 153
 - supervisory support, 154–155
 - training and orientation, 160
 - turnover, 152
 - work group/departmental differences, 159
- Remote workers vs. those in-office, 158
- Reporting and control, 215
- Resource-based approach of shared leadership, 99
- Results-only work environment (ROWE), 6
- Robustness of electronic communication, 155
- Role modelling, opportunities for, 122
- Romanticisation of WFH, 192–193
- Root mean square error of approximation (RMSEA), 85
- Scene, 188–189
 - scene–agent ratio, 191–192
- Scholastic aptitude test (SAT), 138
- Science, technology, engineering, and mathematics fields (STEM fields), 114
- Self-determination theory (SDT), 132, 134, 137
- Semi-structured in-depth interviews, 43
- Sense of collaboration, 4
- Sense-making, 98
- Service quality, 80, 85
 - influence on compatibility, 88
- Seven-dimensional ACHIEVE questionnaire, 6
- Severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2), 4

- Sexual harassment, 26–27
- Shared leadership, 16, 98–99
 - CEO's shared leadership, 109
 - during COVID-19 crisis, 98
 - dynamic between CEO, team and membership, 107–109
 - executive presidium, 109–110
 - literature review, 98–101
 - new role in enhanced advocacy, 107
 - research setting and methodology, 101–105
 - serving membership, 105–106
- She-cession, 69
- Simple post-crisis rebound recovery, 97
- Six-dimensional productivity, 7–8
- 6-point Likert scale, 84
- Social distancing, 21–22
- Social exchange, 24–25
- Social isolation, 16, 22
- Social networking sites (SNS), 187–188
- Social support, 116
- Socialisation, 154
- SocialPro, 22
- Socio-technical processes, 42
- Solidarity, 25
- Spillover theory, 59
- Spontaneous collaboration, 99
- Sri Lanka and family first, 68–69
- Stakeholder, 109–110
- Standardised root mean square residual (SRMR), 85
- Statistical analysis, 85
- Stay-at-home orders, 166
- Strategic HR management, 166
- Stressor, 134–135
- Structural equation modelling (SEM), 85
- Structural features, 45
- Structural solidity, 99
- Structuration theory, 43
- Sundar Pichai (CEO of Google), 23
- Supervisor actions to facilitate effective WFH, 123–124
- Supervisory support, 154–155, 160–161
- Support services, 80
- Supportive leadership, 123
- Supportive workplaces, 195
- Sustained virtual working effects on worker productivity, 4
- System quality, 79–80, 85
 - influence on psychological availability, 89–90
- Systems theory, 61
- Task-technology fit, 78
- Team-level satisfaction, 99–100
- TeamDigCom, 46–47
- Technology, 62
 - adoption model, 78
 - technology-assisted supplemental work, 205
- Technology, entertainment, design (TED), 133
- Telecommuters, 77
- Telecommuting, 5, 22, 76–78, 184
- Telework, 166
 - productivity, 5–6
 - research, 62
- Top management team (TMT), 166, 169–171
- Training, 160
- Trends, 184
- Triadic assessment of concerns and responses to external shocks, 169
- Trust, 100
 - conflicts and, 216
- Turnover, 152
- Uber, 22
- Uncivil virtual WFH interactions, preventing, 121–122
- Unified theory of acceptance, 78
- United States and freedom, 69

- University faculty, 76–77
- US Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), 114
- V return, 97
- Videoconferencing, 87
- Virtual commuting, 184
- Virtual migration, 18
- Virtual teams, 16, 100
- Virtual teamwork and collaboration, 124
- Virtual work, 5
- Virtual work-friendly organisational models, 18
- Virtual workers, 7, 10
- Virtual working, 10
- Virtual working environment (VWE), 4, 5
- Voice channel, 42
 - digitalisation of, 47–48
- Voluntary work, 68
- WhatsApp, 215
- Wholeness, 65
- Women, 58
 - contributions, 124
 - lack of inclusion as barrier, 116–118
 - leaders, 63
 - limited career advancement
 - opportunities as barrier, 118–120
 - in male-dominated fields, 114
 - mitigate or exacerbate existing barriers for, 125–126
 - and WFH implications, 114
 - work–family conflict as barrier, 114–116
- Work
 - environment, 133, 134–135
 - group/departmental differences, 159
 - and home boundary, 216
 - MCC at, 26–28
 - scenes literature review, 184–185
 - type, 215
 - work/family border theory, 60
- Work engagement in diverse employees
 - acknowledge unexpected productivity and engagement trends during pandemic, 141
 - applied examples of organisations now embracing diversity in work preferences, 141–142
 - autonomous motivation, 137–138
 - changing workplace with advancing technology, 133–134
 - compensation considerations, 140
 - global pandemic, 131–132
 - implications for practice, 140
 - introverts vs. extroverts at work, 135–136
 - open conversations on workspace preferences, 140
 - planning and providing possible technical support, 141
 - productivity, 133
 - SDT, 137
 - supporting introverts and extroverts at work, 136–137
 - theoretical implications and future research, 139–140
 - work environment, 134–135
- Work from office (WFO), 133, 204–205
 - space, 217–221
- Work-extending technology (WET), 205
- Work-Life Integration Project (WLIP), 59, 64–65
- Work(ing) from home (WFH), 22–24, 58–59, 76, 99, 113, 133, 166, 183, 204
 - actionable strategies for garnering benefits and avoiding pitfalls of, 120
 - barriers for women in male-dominated fields and WFH implications, 114–120
 - compatibility, 81

- conceptualisation of culture in
 - WFH Space, 168–169
- implications, 90–91
- implications and influences on
 - organisational culture, 175–177
- implications of agent–scene ratio
 - for, 192
- information quality, 79
- information quality influence on
 - compatibility, 88–89
- ISSM, 78–79
- literature review, 77–78
- measures, 84–85
- methods, 83
- mitigate or exacerbate existing
 - barriers for women
 - in male-dominated occupations, 125–126
- online teaching satisfaction and
 - compatibility, 87–88
- organisational policies and
 - practices to support effective, 120–123
- psychological availability, 81–82
- psychological availability, 89
- relationship among information,
 - system, and service quality and psychological availability, 82–83
- relationship among online teaching
 - satisfaction, online teaching intention, compatibility, and psychological availability, 83
- relationship between information,
 - system, and service quality and compatibility, 82
- results and analysis, 85
- results of SEM, 86
- romanticisation of, 192–193
- sample, 83–84
- service quality, 80
- service quality influence on
 - compatibility, 88
- space, 221–222
- statistical analysis, 85
- supervisor actions to facilitate
 - effective, 123–124
- system quality, 79–80
- system quality influence on
 - psychological availability, 89–90
- theory and hypotheses, 78
- university faculty, 76–77
- Worker
 - stress, 23
 - sustained virtual working effects
 - on worker productivity, 4
- Work–family balance, 59, 157
- Work–family conflict, 8, 23, 59
 - as barrier, 114
 - WFH potential to exacerbate, 115–116
 - WFH potential to mitigate, 115
- Work–life balance (WLB), 58–59, 64, 76, 101, 183, 205–206
 - literature, 184
- Work–life integration (WLI), 59, 64
- Work–life interface, 7–8, 59, 205–206
- Workplace, 99
 - changing with advancing technology, 133–134
 - limitations and future research, 33
 - loneliness, 22, 25–26
 - managerial implications, 31–33
 - support, 195
 - theoretical implications, 30–31
 - WFH effects on, 22–24
- Zoom, 63, 90, 215
 - fatigue, 81
- Zuckerberg, Mark (CEO of Facebook), 23