

Index

- Activity tourism, 125
- 'Actors involved' grouping, 65, 72–73
- Agency theory, 62–63
- Algorithms, 18
- Amazon Mechanical Turk, 30
- Amplification strategies, 178–182
- Artificial intelligence (AI), 18
 - AI-powered robots, 22
- 'Asset light' strategies, 69
- 'Asset right' strategies, 69
- Atmosphere, 157
- Augmented reality (AR), 176, 184
- Average variance extracted (AVE), 37

- Baby boomers, 142
- Bed-and-breakfast model (B&B model), 126
- Brand differentiation, 178
- Brand management, 178–182
- Brand's social or experiential currency, 181
- Business
 - capability theory, 63
 - immediate effects of pandemic on business, 2–3
 - internationalization, 58
 - knowledge theory, 62–63
 - strategy, 65–66
- Business experience (Bx), 184–185

- Café
 - culture, 154–156
 - findings, 158–159
 - methodology, 156–158
 - tribes, 156–157
- Calorie information impacts on food choice and food purchasing behaviour, 167
- Calorie labelling, 164
- Capacity Management Model, 140, 147
- Casual dining restaurants, 22
- Challenge–hindrance appraisals
 - 'employees' STARA awareness and, 25–27
 - 'employees', 20
 - mediating role of challenge–hindrance appraisals of STARA awareness, 27–30
- China, rural tourism in, 121
- Chinese travel operators, 140
- Coach tours, 143
- Cognitive appraisal theory, 26
- Communication strategies, 82
- Communities, 154
- Composite reliability (CR), 37
- Consumer decision-making, 164
- Consumer purchasing behaviour, 2
 - challenges faced by retail supply chain, 6
 - changes in, 3–4
 - changes in grocery product preferences, 4–5
 - changes in way grocery consumers shop, 5–6
 - changes to shopping behaviour during lockdown, 7–8
 - findings, 7–11
 - immediate effects of pandemic on business, 2–3
 - immediate effects of pandemic on marketing, 3
 - methodology, 6–7
 - motivations underlying changes to shopping behaviour during lockdown, 9–10

- participants and methods, 7
- post-lockdown shopping
 - behaviour, 10–11
- Counter-culturalists, 155
- Covariance-based SEM (CB-SEM), 37
- COVID-19, 120
 - epidemic, 105
 - impact on entrepreneurs, 105–106
 - impact on tourism industry, 140
 - outbreak, 82, 85
 - pandemic, 2–3, 5, 86, 184
- Creativity, 121, 124–125
- Cretan wineries, 82, 87
- Crisis, 124–125
 - management, 104
- Critical approach to discourse
 - analysis (CDA), 127
- Cronbach's α , 37
- Culture, 154–156
- Customer experience, 176
- Customer experience management (CEM), 176
- Customer relationship management (CRM), 177
- Customer-centricity, 176
- Czech Tourism Agency (CTA), 120

- De-internationalization, 59
- Decision-making, 165
- Digital communication, 83
- Digital environment, 82–83
- Direct 2 Consumer model (D2C model), 4
- Dis-involvement syndrome, 24
- 'Disaster Management Plan', 141
- Domestic tourism, 120
- 'Drive in Fear' school, 26

- E-commerce, 2
- Eclectic theory framework, 62
- Eco-tourism, 125
- 'Employees' STARA awareness and challenge-hindrances appraisals, 25–27

- Entrepreneurship, 100
- Ethnic female entrepreneurs, 101
 - data analysis, 107
 - findings, 107–112
 - literature review, 101–106
 - sampling and data collection, 107
- Experiences, 176
 - future of experiential marketing, 184–185
 - relationship marketing, brand management and amplification strategies, 178–182
 - strategically implementing experiential marketing, 182–183
- Experiential marketing, 176–178
 - future of, 184–185
 - strategically implementing, 182–183

- Fast-food restaurants (see Quick-service restaurants (QSRs))
- Female entrepreneurs, 101–102
 - challenges for, 102–103
 - and COVID crisis, 106
 - motivations for, 103–104
- Female entrepreneurship, 100
- Firm-specific factors, 69
- Flaneur, 155, 157
- Food industry, 165
- Foreign direct investment (FDI), 61, 102
- Fornell–Larcker criterion, 37

- Glocalization, 58
- Grocery consumers shop, changes in, 5–6
- Grocery product preferences, changes in, 4–5
- Gross domestic product (GDP), 67, 140
- Group tour operators (GTOs), 140
 - alter holiday proposition, 142–143
- Growth, 68–69

- Hard-services, 61
- High-calorie foods, 164
- Hindrance stressors, 25–26
- Hotel chains, 64–65, 68, 70
- Hotel industry, 58, 60–61
 - motivation to internationalize for, 61–64
 - motivational factors for hotel industry-specific internationalization, 63
- Ice cream tourists, 145
- Idealized influence, 123
- Immigrant entrepreneur's motivation, 104–105
- Individual consideration, 123
- Industry 4.0, 18, 21
 - adoption of STARA in, 22
- Innovation, 121–122, 124–125
 - innovation-related models, 61
 - orientation, 121
 - in tourism industry, 121–122
- Innovative work behaviour, impact of STARA awareness on, 23–25
- Inspirational motivation, 123
- Intellectual stimulation, 123
- International tourism, 120, 144–145
- Internationalization
 - motivation to, 58–60
 - motives, 58
 - process, 58–59
 - traditional theories, 61
- Job
 - demands–resources model, 20
 - insecurity, 25–26
 - replacement theory, 20
 - satisfaction, 19
- Key performance indicators (KPIs), 183
- Labour market, adopting STARA and challenges in, 21–23
- Laissez-Faire leadership theory, 123
- Leadership, 122–125
- Macro/regional approach, 82
- Management employee group, structural model for, 37–42
- Marketing
 - immediate effects of pandemic on, 3
 - innovation, 122
- Measurement model, 35–37
- Menu labelling, 166
- Migrant, 102
- Networks, 104–105
- Non-management employee group, structural model for, 43–45
- 'Nong Jia le', 125–126
- Opportunity identification, 101
- Ordinary least squares regression (OLS regression), 31
- Organizational commitment, 19
- Organizational crisis, 125
- Organizational innovation, 122
- Out-of-home eating, 165
- Overtourism, 140, 143–144 (see also Rural tourism)
 - countries managed pandemic, 140–142
 - impact of COVID-19 on tourism industry, 140
 - GTOs alter holiday proposition, 142–143
 - impacts on host destination, 144–146
 - metrics to understand potential risks of, 147–150
 - strategies to combat, 146–147
- Ownership, location and internalization framework (OLI framework) (see Eclectic theory framework)
- Partial least squares–structural equation modelling method (PLS-SEM), 31, 35, 37
 - bootstrapping results for management sample, 40

- bootstrapping results for non-management sample, 44–45
- Post-lockdown shopping behaviour, 10–11
- Postmodern tribes, 156
- Pre-seeding, 182
- Proactive motives, 67–70
- Process innovation, 122
- Product innovation, 122
- Psychic distance, 71

- Qualitative Research methods, 64
- Quantitative analysis, 88
- Quick-service restaurants (QSRs), 164–165
 - calorie information impacts on food choice and food purchasing behaviour, 167
 - methodology, 168–169
 - policy of representing calorie labelling on menu, 166

- Reactive motives, 70–72
- Relationship marketing, 178–182
- Restaurant management, 23
- Retail industry, 2, 6
- Retail supply chain, challenges faced by, 6
- Return on investment (ROI), 183
- Robotics, 18
- ‘Rural Min Su’, 126
- Rural tourism, 120
 - in China, 121
 - development, 120
 - findings, 127–130
 - literature review, 121–126
 - methodology, 126–127

- Seeds of social network, 181
- Seeking new opportunities, 65–72
- Services, 60–61
- Slumdog’ tours of Mumbai’s slums, 145
- Small-and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), 106, 122
- Smart technology, 18

- Smartphone adoption, 184
- Social currency, 177, 180–181
- Social distancing, 142
- Social identity theory, 123
- Social media for wineries involved in wine tourism, 85–86
- Soft services, 58
 - findings, 65–73
 - motivation to internationalize, 58–60
 - motivation to internationalize for hotels, 61–64
 - research methodology, 64–65
 - services and hotel industry, 60–61
- Standardized root mean square residual (SRMR), 37
- STARA technologies, 18–19
 - adopting STARA and challenges in labour market, 21–23
 - data analysis, 31–33
 - ‘employees’ awareness, 19
 - ‘employees’ challenge–hindrance appraisals, 20
 - ‘employees’ STARA awareness and challenge–hindrance appraisals, 25–27
 - literature review and hypotheses development, 21–30
 - measurement model, 35–37
 - mediating role of challenge–hindrance appraisals of STARA awareness, 27–30
 - ‘respondents’ characteristics, 33–35
 - sampling and data collection, 30
 - impact of STARA awareness on innovative work behaviour, 23–25
 - structural model for management employee group, 37–42
 - structural model for non-management employee group, 43–45
 - survey instrument, 30–31
- Strategically implementing experiential marketing, 182–183

- Strategy, 101
- Stress, 25
- Structural model
 - for management employee group, 37–42
 - for non-management employee group, 43–45
- Talent, 121
- Teleworking, 106
- Template Analysis (TeA), 107
- Thematic analysis, 88
- Tinder, 184
- Tour operators, 140
- Tourism
 - business in rural area, 125–126
 - consumption, 122
 - impact of COVID-19 on tourism industry, 140
 - organizations, 146
- Tours, 140
- Transaction cost theory, 62–63
- Transactional model of stress, 25–26
- Transformational leadership, 122–124
- Tribes, 156
- Turnover intention, 19
- Two-dimensional framework, 25–26

- Unprompted international service requests, 71
- Uppsala models, 61
- Urban café sociality, 156

- Variance inflation factor (VIF), 37
- Vicarious learning, 71
- Vice president (VP), 64–65, 70, 72
- Virtual reality (VR), 184

- Wellbeing, 19
- Wellness tourism, 125
- Wine tourism, 83
 - social media for wineries involved in, 85–86
 - terroir, 83
- Wineries
 - perspective, 83–85
 - social media for wineries involved in wine tourism, 85–86
- Wines of Crete, 86–87
- Winescape, 82, 84
 - findings, 90–93
 - literature review, 83–86
 - methodology, 86–90
- Women entrepreneurs, 102–103, 106
- Word-of-mouth marketing (WOMM), 178, 180–181
- Work stressors, 25
- World Health Organization (WHO), 2
- World Travel and Tourism Council (WTTC), 140

- Z-scores, 31
- Zocdoc, 185