

INDEX

- Academia, 7
Academics, 65–66
Access to Information Law (LAI), 42
Affect, 60
AI-5 authoritarian act, 29–30
American Congress in Washington, 81
Amnesty Commission, 73–74
1979 Amnesty Law, 4–5
Anti-science pattern, 65–66
Anti-scientific knowledge, 32–37
Appraisal framework, 60–61
Asthe rhetoric of hate, 18–19
Attitude, 60–61
Attorney General of the Republic (PGR), 56–57

Blame-shifting, 55
Bolsonarisation, 67
Bolsonarism, 20–21, 23, 81–82
Bolsonarist camps, 80–81
Bottom-up approach, 72–73
Brasil Nunca Mais (Brazil Never More), 30–31
Brazil's digital memory and discontents, 1 digital memory theories and disputed memory in Brazil, 7–13 methodology and data analysis, 13–16
 new right populism in Brazil, 16–26
Brazil's social media ecology, 73–77

Brazilian democracy, 80–81
Brazilian dictatorship, 82–83
Brazilian electronic voting system, 60–61
Brazilian military dictatorship, 1
Brazilian military regime, 75
Brazilian re-democratisation, 4
Breaking the Silence (1987), 5–6

Calumnies, 32
Capitol attack, 81–82
Car Wash corruption investigation, 6–7
Cercadinho, 51
Civil-military coup, 1, 4, 28
Communal engagement, 12
Communism, 53–54
Communist Party of Brazil (PCdoB), 28–29
Community of memory, 12
Connective, 8–9
Constitutionalism, 55–56
Coronavirus, 42
Coup plotters, 53
Crimes, 1
Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA), 15, 82–83
Cultural Marxism, 19–20 conspiracy theory, 33–34
Cultural War, 57–58, 63, 66, 76–77, 81–82

Decontextualisation, 28, 30–31, 35, 47–48
Democracy, 57–58
Democracy defence, 49
Dictators, 53

- Dictatorship, elastic concepts of, 37–40
- Digital activism equals popular sovereignty, 49–52
- Digital Age, 13
- Digital environment, 65, 67
- Digital memory (see also Fragmented memory), 28, 59–60, 66
- of Brazilian Dictatorship, 42–43
- doubts, 73–77
- future in Brazil, 59
- linearity and cohesion to fragmented digital memory, 60–63
- missing points on mapping, 63–73
- studies, 10–12
- theories, 7–13
- Digital networks, 24, 42
- Digital populism research, 13
- Digital strategies, 6
- Digital technologies, 9–10
- Discursive mechanism, 59–60
- Discursive strategies (Bolsonaros), 59–61, 63
- Disputed memory in Brazil, 7–13
- Engagement, 60–61
- Fascists, 53
- First-person accounts, 30–31
- Fragmented memory
- Bolsonaros' discursive strategies, 60–63
- Brazil's social media ecology, 73–77
- elastic concepts of dictatorship, 37–40
- media's double-role and anti-scientific knowledge, 32–37
- objectives and strategies of, 59
- one-sided memory, 28–32
- patterns, 28
- impact of platform affordances, 63–73
- Globalism conspiracy theory, 53–54
- Graduation, 60–61
- Hate's Cabinet, 56–57
- Hell Branch*, 5–6
- Historic memory, 6
- Hydroxychloroquine, 42
- Institutional Act of 13 December 1968, 29–30
- Institutional mediation, 57–58
- Intellectuals, 65–66
- Internet, 10–11
- Jornal Nacional* (Globo), 33
- Judgement, 60–61
- Kidnappings, 1
- Left-armed struggle, 31–32
- Lesá Patria Operation, 80–81
- Liberals, 32–33
- Libraries, 10–11
- Lies, 32
- Linearity, 65
- and cohesion to fragmented digital memory, 60–63
- Livro, 5–6
- Lula processes, 6–7
- Make America Great Again*, 6–7
- Media's double-role, 32–37
- Memory, 6
- Military community of memory, 65–66
- Military dictatorship, 28
- Military Supreme Court, 4–5
- Misrepresentations, 32
- Mnemonic appropriation, 12
- Museums, 10–11
- Narratives, 32
- National Bank for Economic and Social Development (BNDES), 65–66
- National Truth Commission (CNV), 2–3

- Nazists, 53
- New right populism in Brazil, 16–26
- Official archives, 10–11
- Online identity, 12
- Opposition equals coup and dictatorship, 52–58
- Orvil*, 4–5
tale, 33–34
- Orvil–Power Grab Attempts*, 2
- Overstretched elasticity of fragmented memory in Covid era, 41–42
- digital activism equals popular sovereignty, 49–52
- opposition equals coup and dictatorship, 52–58
- popular sovereignty equals democracy, 43–48
- Partiality, 32
- Partido dos Trabalhadores (PT), 3–4
- Peer-to-peer engagement, 72–73
- Peer-to-peer produced memory, 12
- Personal attack, 1
- Personalisation, 34–35
- Platform affordances, impact of, 63–73
- Political strategies, 59–60
- Popular sovereignty equals democracy, 43–48
- Populism, 13, 25
- Power abusers, 53
- Pro-government acts, 47–48
- Professors, 65–66
- Republican Party, 81–82
- Right to Memory and Truth–Special Commission on Political Deaths and Disappearances*, 2
- Robbery, 1
- Scientists, 65–66
- Social esteem, 60
- Social media, 71–72
- Social network memory, 8–9
- Social platforms, 68
- Social sanction, 60–61
- Socio-technological mutability, 8–9
- Special Commission on Political Deaths and Disappearances, 73–74
- STF, 80–81
- Story the Left Doesn't Want Brazil to Know, The (2006), 5–6
- Suffocated Truth, The*, 5–6, 31
- Terrorism, 1, 48
- @TerrorismNeverMore, 36–37
- Three Powers invasion, 59–60
- Twitter, 61, 63, 66–68, 70–72
- Two demons' theory, 28
- Tyrants, 53
- Universities, 10–11
- US Capitol invasion, 6–7
- Valency, 12
- Vulnerability, 8–9
- Wide Front, 65
- World Health Organization (WHO), 41–42
- Years of Lead, 29–30
- YouTube, 61, 63, 66–68, 70–72