Index

Academia, tensions between, 50–52
Academic community, 4–5
Academic consultancy, 75–76
Academic incentives, 51–52
Academic team, 110
Apprenticeships, 134–135
Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB), 33, 41

Boyer's articulation, 43
Bridging process, 153
British Academy, 37–38, 134, 145
Business, 8, 46–47, 105, 115 benefits to, 129–130
  distinctive engagement and practice, 98
  interventions, 76
  models, 145
  need for engagement, 95–97, 100 perspective, 102
  shared responsibility, 99
  sustainable engagement, 96
  tensions as business and society seek to recover from crisis, 148
  tensions between, 50–52
  three levels of intervention, 99–100 value of relational approach, 97
Business schools, 1, 4, 7, 12, 16–17, 32, 40–41, 45, 48, 57, 91–92, 99, 111–112, 135–136, 138, 149–151 accreditation bodies, 33
  engagement, 13
  services, 37–38
  stakeholders, 33
  tensions about future of, 52–53

Call to action
  central ideas of engaged business school, 7–8 engagement matters and it matters now, 8–14
  for managers, students and academics alike, 4–6 success story, 6–7
  untapped strengths and well-kept secrets, 1–3
Can-do approach, 22, 80
Chartered Association of Business Schools, The, 37–40
Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development (CIPD), 112–113
Civic engagement agendas, 139
Client system, 70–71, 104
Co-production, 54–55
Collegiate School, The, 126
Commentators, 128
Conceptual leap, 153
Confederation of Business Industries (CBI), 35–36
Consultancy process, 69–70
Consultative approaches, 138
Consultative process, 66, 91
Consulting process, 71
Continuing professional development (CPD), 6–7
Contrasting provider story, the, 22, 80
Credibility, 21, 83, 85
Crisis, 13–14, 143
  grand challenges in, 147–148 role of tensions as business and society seek to recover from, 148
Critics, 72

Customised-provision tension, 69–71

Degree apprenticeships, 38–39
Demand Dilemma, 61, 68, 79
  re-framing, 71–79
Demand-led approach, 16–17, 41, 66, 91
Design, 107–108
Development process, 108
Differentiated business school, 124–128
Digital platforms, 39
Disengagement, 82
Distinctive engagement, 16–17, 65–68, 79, 143
  concept, 91
  customised or standardised-provision tension, 69–71 and practice, 98
  re-framing demand dilemma, 71–79
Dynamic conceptual model, 64

Education, 146
Empathy, 103
Engage process, 102–103, 108
Engaged academics, 136–138
Engaged approach, 34–35
Engaged business school, 2, 4, 8, 12–13, 17, 27, 30–31, 98, 135, 137 benefits to business, 129–130
  central ideas of, 7–8
  differentiated business school, 124–128
  engaged academics, 136–138
  engagement, 128–133
  engagement with university, 138–140 framework for stakeholders, 119–120
  framework mapping exercise, 120–122
  framing mission, 118–119
  for managers and professionals, 130–133
  students, 133–141
  tensions and, 61–63
  work places learning places, 140–141
Engaged response to recovery sand growth grand challenges in crisis, 147–148 role of tensions as business and society seek to recover from crisis, 148 Engaged scholarship, 43–44, 136
Engagement, 31, 44, 122
  legitimacy tensions, 58–60 making of, 128–133
  model, 63–64
  tensions, 50
  tensions about future of business schools, 52–53
  tensions and engaged business school, 61–63 tensions between academia and business, 50–52 tensions in research, 53–56
  tensions in teaching, 56–58
  with university, 138–140 Engagement framework, 118 engagement as activity, 35–39 engagement as mission, 43–45 engagement as relationship, 39–41 engagement as vocation and scholarship of engagement, 41–43 engaging stakeholders, 31–35 framework from business perspective, 45–47 framing engagement, 35–45
  language and structure for engagement, 47–48
  relationships, 122
Engagement ladder, 122
Engagement model
  distinctive engagement, 16–17
  relational engagement, 17–18
  scaffolding and springboards, 26–30 stories of engagement, 19–26
  sustainable futures, 18
  systems and skills, 18–19

Engagement model, 83, 90, 96
Engagement of business, 150
Engagement process, 95–97, 100, 116
  analysis, 106–107
  business need for engagement, 95–100 employ, 108–110
  to engage, 100–110
  from engage to engagement, 110–115
  entry-initial engagement with client, 100–103
  evaluate, 112–113
  gather information to understanding need, 105–106 generate, 107–108
  manage, 110–112
  negotiate, 103–105
  nurture, 113–114
  transfer, 114–115
Engagement stories, 19, 26, 30, 71, 103
  contrasting provider story, the, 22
  greatest strength story, the, 22–23
  nurturing story, the, 24–25
  relationship story, the, 23–24
  research as storytelling, 154–155
  selection story, the, 21–22
  sense of research, 154
  skill set story, the, 25–26
  springboard story, the, 26
Evaluation process, 96, 112–113
Evidence based approach, 99
Executive education provision, 38–39

Familiar research processes, 136–137
Financial crisis (2007), 8–9
Flipped learning approach, 108–109
Frame engagement, 118
Framework mapping exercise, 120–122
Framing mission, 118–119
Frustration, 150

Goodwill, 83–84
Governments, 13
  policy, 11–12, 44
Graduate Management Admission Council, The, 6
Greatest strength story, the, 22–23

Health sciences, 10
Help to Grow, 38–39
Hewlett Packard (HP), 2 Higher education (HE)
  HE-employer engagement, 81
  policy, 10
Higher Education Funding Council (HEFCE), 44

Industrial Strategy, 44
Industrial Strategy Council, The, 11–12, 37
Integration, 75
Intervention, levels of, 99–100

Knowledge application approach, 125
Knowledge exchange, 44
Knowledge transfer gap, 42–43
Knowledge transfer partnerships (KTPs), 39

Leaders, engaging next generation of, 133–141
Leading demand activity, 90
  approaches, 17, 73–74
Learning into practice and learning for partnership, 114–115
Legitimacy, 62
  tensions, 58–60
Listening, 102

Managers, 132–133
  engaging generation, 133–141
Manufacturing process, 9–10
Mapping exercise, 122
  process, 117–118
Market-based approach, 11
Massive open online courses (MOOCs), 37–38
Monograph, 151

Movement Schools, 126

National Co-ordinating Centre for Public Engagement (NCCPE), 44
Necessary skills story, 88
Non-executive director (NED), 1–2
Nurture, 113–114
Nurturing, 67, 85–86, 152
Nurturing story, the, 24–25, 61, 85

One-dimensional processual models, 92–93
Online learning, 39
Original study, 152
Oxford/AstraZeneca approach, 9–10
Oxford/AstraZeneca vaccine, 10

Pandemic, 145, 148
Place-based government policy, 33–34
Placed-based approach, 33–34
Placements, 134–135
Policy, 13–14
Practice business schools, 101–102
Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME), 33, 118–119
Programme management, 68
Provocation story, 20
Public engagement agendas, 139
Purposeful engagement
  distinctive engagement, 65–66, 68, 79
  dynamic model of purposeful engagement, 90–93 overview of purposeful engagement model, 65–68
  relational engagement, 66–67, 79, 86
  skills and systems, 67–68, 87, 90
  springboard to new opportunities, 86–87
  sustainable futures, 67, 86–87

Quaker-run companies, 126

Reframing strategies, 75
Relational approach, 66–67, 99
  value of, 97
Relational engagement (see also Distinctive engagement), 17–19, 61–62, 66–67, 79, 86
  credibility, 83–85
  nurturing, 85–86
  process, 67, 92
  relationship building, 81–83
  tension, 81
  transactional and relational tensions, 80–81
Relational tensions, 80–81
Relationship building, 81–83
  skills, 62
Relationship marketing, 80–81
Relationship story, the, 23–24, 61, 80, 85–86
Relevance, 63, 90
Reputation, 84
Research
  as storytelling, 154–155
  tensions in, 53–56
Researchers, 131–132
Resolution Foundation, 146
Rigour, 63, 90

Scaffolding, 26–30
Selection process, 22
Selection Story, The, 20–22, 69, 83–84
Sense making, 19
Shared responsibility, 99
Skill set story, the, 20–21, 25–26, 67–68
Skills development, 78
Small Business Charter, 119
Springboard story, the, 20–21, 26, 86–87
Springboards, 26–30
Stakeholders, 31–32
  engaging, 31–35
  framework for, 119–120
  relationships, 143–144

Standardised-provision tension, 69–71
Students, 133–141
Sustainable engagement, 18–19, 96
Sustainable relationship, 113–114

Teaching
  process, 100
  tensions in, 56–58
Tensions, 50, 60, 153–154
  between academia and business, 50–52 distinctive, 61
  and engaged business school, 61–63 future of business schools, 52–53
  relational engagement, 61–62
  in research, 53–56
  role as business and society seek to recover from crisis, 148
  skills and systems, 62
  sustainable futures, 62
  in teaching, 56–58
Termination, 82
Time constraints, 139
Transactional relations, 80–81
Transactional tensions, 80–81
Transfer of learning, 115
Tsoukas's strategy, 154

UK business schools, 149
UK commission for employment and skills (UKCES), 76
UK HE system, 138
UN sustainable development goals, 118–119
Undergraduates, 135–136
Universities Commonwealth Association, 44
University systems, 90

Virtual learning environment (VLE), 108–109

Work Foundation, 149
Work places learning places, 140–141