

Index

- Acceptability of employees, 56–57
- Accountability, 46
 - of employees, 56–57
 - system, 60
- Adaptive network-based fuzzy
 - Interface systems (ANTIS), 131
- Adobe Company, 201
- Adoption of Artificial intelligence in HR practices
 - administration of HR, 70
 - AI, 68
 - AI and HRM, 68–69
 - communalities, 75
 - data analysis, 72
 - descriptive statistics, reliability, and correlations, 72–75
 - development and learning, 70–71
 - factor loading under Varimax rotation, 76
 - importance of research, 66–67
 - KMO and Bartlett's Test, 74
 - literature and hypothesis development, 68
 - management of talent, 71
 - measures, 72
 - need for AI in HRM, 67
 - onboarding, 70
 - purpose of study, 68
 - research methodology, 71–72
 - result, 72
 - sampling and procedure, 71–72
 - talent acquisition, 69–70
- Agnostic Chabot technology, 66
- Agriculture, 188
- Airbnb (Company), 222
- Ajzen and Fishbein's Theory of Reasoned Action (Ajzen and Fishbein's TRA), 47
- Alta program, 227
- Amazon (Company), 222
 - Amazon's AI recruiting tool, failure of, 95
- American AI Initiative, 187
- Analytical software, 159
- Analytics, 240
- Ancillary benefits, 2
- Application Tracking System (ATS), 6
- Artificial intelligence (AI), 2, 14, 33, 35–36, 68, 86, 88, 112, 140, 128, 182–184, 201, 222–224
 - accelerate competitive advantages, 116
 - adoption of different AI-empowered tools in talent acquisition by select companies, 226–227
 - advantages of, 226
 - advantages over current modalities in education sector, 165–166
 - AI market size/revenue comparisons 2018–2027, 137
 - AI Market Spending Worldwide 2020, 138
 - AI Timeline, 141
 - AI-assisted IT solutions, 120
 - AI-based algorithms, 83, 93, 159
 - AI-based chatbots, 85
 - AI-based classrooms, 167
 - AI-based HRM technologies, 225
 - AI-based programs, 154
 - AI-based teaching system, 167
 - AI-based technologies, 151
 - AI-based tools, 165
 - AI-derived teaching, 167

- AI-enabled chatbots, 4, 132
- AI/ML Project, 187
- AI/RPA adoption, 137
- algorithms, 163, 165
- better employee experience, 117
- better employee relationship management, 116
- better workplace learning, 119
- challenges, 47–53, 61
- challenges encountered by HRM
 - in adopting, 120–122
- change in AI investment in global companies, 139
- chatbot in HR, 116
- companies using AI in training and development, 227–229
- current limitations of AI in learning and development, 166–168
- definition of AI, 183–185
- effective learning and development, 117
- effective utilisation of HR
 - budgeting, 117
- and employee engagement, 230–232
- employees' acceptance of AI practices in performance appraisal, 55–57
- employers' accountability and performance appraisal using, 57–60
- enhance efficiency, 119
- global business and HR Leaders on AI impact to job numbers, 140
- in healthcare learning, development, and delivery, 164–165
- in HR functions, 47–48
- in HRM, 3, 68–69
- in HRM practices, benefits of, 115
- in HRM Practices, role of, 117–119
- in human resources and interview preparation, 158–160
- hypothesis, 135
- interview process, 119
- investment, 140
 - and ITS utility, 152–153
- job replacement theory, 187
- in learning and development, 50
- less administrative burden, 119
- less human bias, 116
- Loreal Case, 7–10
- in medical education and training, 160–162
- methodology, 134–142, 151–152, 223
- need for AI in HRM, 67
- objectives, 134
- onboarding, 119
- organisational structure, 50
- in performance appraisal, 50
- and performance management, 229–230
- promotion of inclusion and equality, 118
- recruitment, 118
- for recruitment and selection
- in recruitment and selection process, 49
- reduce discrimination, 119
- reduction in employee turnover, 118
- requirement of AI in organisation, 185–186
- in research and development, 163–164
- results and analysis, 135
- review of literature, 132
- scanning resumes, 118
- in school, college and technical education, 156–157
- selection, 119
- significance of, 224–225
- streamlined process, 115
- and talent acquisition, 225–227
- techniques, 116
- technology, 2, 66
- tools in re-inventing HRM, 225

- and training and development, 227
- understanding employee referrals, 117
- utility of AI in learning and development, 153–165
- Artificial neural networks, 151
- Augmented reality (AR), 162
- Automated responding machine (see Chatbox system)
- Automated tools, 36
- Automation, 53
 - technology, 188
- Automotive industry, 153

- Barlett's test of sphericity, 74
- Base theory, 47
- Behaviour mapping, 231
- Benefits of using AI technology tools, 8
- Big data, 35, 152
 - analytics, 112
- Biometrics, 3
- Blockchain, 112
- Book bots, 35
- Boundaryless career, 34*n*3, 37–38
- Brazen (recruiting chatbot), 5–6
- British NHS, 116
- Business intelligence (BI), 184, 195
- Business leaders, 182
- Businesses, 182

- Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy (CMIE), 135
- Challenges
 - of AI, 82
 - of using AI technology tools, 9
- Change nature of work, 35–36
- Chatbots, 3, 8, 231
 - in HR, 116
 - system, 118
- Cisco, 226
- Cloud technique, 244
- Cognitive skills essential for upskilling and reskilling, 194–195
- Collaboration tools, 231

- College, AI in, 156–157
- Complex Cognitive Skills, 194
- Complex system, 34
- Complexity, 34
- Computers, 119
 - vision, 152–153
- Continuous learning skills, 195
- Contradictions, 47
- Conventional methods, 229
- COVID-19, 32, 163, 190
 - induced uncertainty, 128
 - pandemic, 142, 222
- Creativity (CR), 18
- Customer-focused process, 214
- Cutting-edge technology, 112

- Data analysis, 20–22, 72, 203
 - ANOVA for change acceptance factors, 24
 - demographic study, 22–24
 - KMO and Bartlett's Test, 21
 - rotated component matrix, 23
 - skills, 194
- Data analytics, 152, 159
- Data collection, 51, 238
- Data identification, 238
- Data inclusion, 240
- De-contextualisation, 56
- Decision-making process, 66, 83
 - skills, 195
- Deep learning, 85, 88, 151, 152, 163, 165
- Deloitte (companies), 135, 232
 - Deloitte's 2019 Global Human Capital Trends report, 15
- Digital employees', 201
- Digital Era', 200
- Digital expertise, 53
- Digital services, 201
- Digital skills, 194
- Digital technologies, 118–119, 202
- Digital tools, 209
- Digital transformation', 200
 - in HRM', 202

- Digitalisation process, 200, 202, 208–212
 - advantages and disadvantages, 212–213
 - in HRM', 202
 - pre-requisites for implementing digitalisation in HRM, 213
 - significances of HRM digitalisation, 212
- Diversity, 236
- Dynamic skill theory, 186
- E-HRM, 203
- E-learning tools, 159
- E-recruitment, 204, 206
- Economist Robert Gordon, 182
- Education, 148, 157, 189
 - advantages of AI over current modalities in, 165–166
 - sector, 148
 - system, 153
- Educational data mining (EDM), 166
- Educational institutions, 153
- Educational systems, 156
- Educators, 157
- Electronic HR systems (e-HR systems), 66
- Emotional intelligence, 69
- Empirical analysis, 74
- Employees, 159, 191, 201
 - acceptability and accountability of employees, 56–57
 - AI and Employee engagement, 230
 - base theory and contradictions, 47
 - challenges of AI, 47–53
 - companies, 231–232
 - data review, 58–59
 - employees' acceptance of AI practices in performance appraisal, 55
 - employers' accountability and performance appraisal using AI, 57–61
 - existing models on change readiness of, 19–20
 - getting personal with technology, 53–55
 - HR practices and Employees' acceptability and accountability
 - referrals, 117
 - relationship management, 116
 - responsibility, 57
- Employers' accountability using AI, 57–61
- Employers' performance appraisal using AI, 57–61
- Energy, 189
- Equality, promotion of, 118
- Evidence-based approach', 246
- Explainability, 55
- Explicit instruction (EI), 165
- Facebook, 226
 - messengers, 132
- Finance, 115
- Fuzzy artificial neural networks (FANN), 131
- Fuzzy transaction data-mining algorithm (MFTDA), 131
- Game theory, 3
- Generation gap (GG), 39
- Genetic algorithms, 85, 151
- Global Human Capital Trends, 131
- Globalisation, 82, 236
- Google, 222
- Harvard Business Review (HBS), 54, 141
- Health care, 188
 - AI in healthcare learning, development, and delivery, 164–165
 - industry, 160, 165
- Hub-and-spoke' strategy, 123
- Human cognitive process 114
- Human intellectual processes, 184
- Human intelligence, 2
- Human resource drivers (HRD), 71

- Human Resource Information Systems (HRIS), 17, 66
- Human resource management (HRM), 2, 33, 68–69, 88, 133, 158, 238, 240
 - adopting artificial technology in Human resource management practices
 - analytics, 245
 - articles selected for review, 203–207
 - benefits of AI in, 115–117
 - challenges encountered by HRM in adopting AI, 120–122
 - change mindset, 122
 - department, 40
 - digitalisation, 202, 208–216
 - employee's fear, 122
 - ethical and work culture decisions, 120–121
 - financial constrain, 122
 - implement 'hub-and-spoke' strategy, 123
 - implications, 216
 - improve data quality and quantity, 123
 - inadequate-proven applications, 121
 - integrate AI With Cloud, 123
 - integration capabilities, 121
 - lack of appropriate data, 121
 - lack of understanding, 120
 - limitation of study, 123–124
 - literature review, 114–115, 202
 - management is apprehensive about having to replace old systems, 121
 - need for AI in, 67
 - ongoing management, 121
 - practical implication, 216–217
 - pre-requisites for implementing digitalisation in, 213
 - privacy concerns, 121
 - proper alignment, 122
 - reduce biasness, 122
 - research implications, 216
 - results, 207–208
 - robust IT system, 120
 - role of AI in, 117–119
 - search for AI experts, 120
 - significance of study, 115
 - significances of HRM digitalisation, 212
 - strategies to overcome challenges, 122
 - struggles to find effective vendor, 121
 - traits of, 112–114
 - transparency strategy, 123
 - understand ethical issues, 122
 - unstructured data, 120
- Human resources (HR), 115, 158, 225, 236, 238, 240
 - administration of, 70
 - AI in Human resources and interview preparation, 158–160
 - analysis based on metadata, 241–246
 - analytics, 236, 238, 240
 - application of AI in, 17–18
 - assessing relevant literatures, 88
 - challenges of AI implementation in HRM, 90–92
 - chatbot in, 116
 - data analysis, 20–22
 - department global companies, 57
 - descriptive analysis, 89
 - developing search criteria, 88
 - development of HR analytics research, 242–243
 - effective utilisation of HR budgeting, 117
 - existing models on change readiness of employees, 19–20
 - extracting main content, 88
 - factors affecting acceptance of AI, 18
 - functions, 134, 223
 - functions, 47–48, 201

- high investment, 93
- in implementing Artificial Intelligence
 - intelligent assistants, 83
 - lack of digital infrastructure, 93
 - lack of government regulations, 94
 - lack of talents with appropriate skills, 95
 - lack of top management support, 93–94
 - lack of trust, 90–93
 - less relevance of insights, 94
 - managers, 216–217
 - observations + recommendations, 241
 - practices, 36–37
 - practices by employees
 - professionals, 52
 - research design, 20
 - research methodology, 86–88, 238–240
 - research questions, 238
 - resistance to change, 93
 - review of literature, 16
 - search databases and keywords, 88
 - secondary case study, 95–96
 - selecting study dimensions, 88
 - system, 211
 - trends, 246–248
- Human-like traits, 14
- Human–computer interaction (HCI), 67
- Human–machine collaborations, 141
- Humanoid machine, 14

- IBM (company), 113
- IDC, 135
- Inclusion, 236
 - promotion of, 118
- Information and communication technology (ICT), 33
- Information technology (IT), 115, 201, 236
 - in HRM theory, 77
- Initial screening, 240

- Intelligent algorithms, 159
- Intelligent automation (IA), 131
- Intelligent search, 3
 - algorithms, 3
- Intelligent teaching tools, 167
- Intelligent technologies in HRM, 160
- Intelligent tutoring systems, 162, 166
- International Federation of Robotics, 137
- International Telecommunication Union, 33
- Internet of things, 112
- Interview process, 119
- ITS utility, AI and, 152–153

- Kaiser–Meyer–Oklin (KMO), 74

- Labour force–displacement, 187
- Learners, 157
- Learning, 148
 - development and, 70–71
 - tools, 167
- Learning and development (LD), 50, 70, 117, 163
 - current limitations of AI in, 166–168
 - utility of AI in, 153–156
- Lineage development, 151
- Lloyds Banking Group (LBG), 192
- Logic Theorist, 152
- Logistics, 189
- Loreal case, 7–10
- Low-interaction employment, 182
- Low-skilled employment, 182

- Machine learning (ML), 14, 49, 151–152, 159, 165, 167, 167, 183, 224
 - and AI, 161
- Machine-based recruitment, 49
- Marketing, 115
- Massive open online courses (MOOC), 166
- Mc Kinsey, 135
- Medical education, 160

- AI in Medical education and training, 160–162
- Metadata, analysis based on, 241
 - development of HR analytics research, 242–243
 - journals-wise publications, 243–244
 - keywords used in title, 244–246
 - publications based on ‘year’, 241–242
- Microsoft’s ‘MyAnalytics’ (personalized dashboard), 83
- Mobile apps, 112
- Mobile sensors, 36
- Model’s efficiency, 215
- Monster Salary Index, 54
- Mya (recruiting chatbot), 6

- Nanotechnologies, 35
- Natural language processing (NLP), 14, 151–152, 164
 - natural language processing-based technology, 118
- Netflix, 153, 222, 226
- Neural network, 85, 88, 152, 153, 162, 183
- North Carolina (NC), 35

- Olivia (product of Paradox), 4–5
- Onboarding process (OB process), 70, 119
- Open Learning Initiative (OLI), 151
- Optical character reader, 3
- Organisation, 90, 202
 - system, 51
- Organisational readiness for AI, 18

- Pattern recognition, 85
- Paul Formosa’s research study, 37
- PD@GE tool, 230
- People analytic, 236
- Perceived ease of use (PEOU), 209
- Performance appraisal, 50–51
 - employees’ acceptance of AI practices in, 55–57
- Performance management, AI and, 229
 - companies, 230
- Performance Management System (PMS), 229
- Pre-requisites for implementing digitalisation in HRM, 213
- Preactor’ (software), 94
- Predictive analytics, 231
- Problem-solving, 14
- Production, 115
- Protean career, 34n2, 37–38
- Psychological contract, 37–38
- Pymetrics, 7

- Re-inventing HRM, AI tools in, 225
- Real-time feedback tools, 231
- Recruitment, 47, 118
 - process, 2, 9, 49, 92, 129
- Recruitment chatbots, 3
- Relational Database Management System (RDBMS), 120
- Research design, 20
- Research papers considered for conducting systematic literature review, 105–109
- Reskilling
 - cognitive skills essential for upskilling and reskilling, 194–195
 - definition of AI, 183–186
 - evergreen skills for upskilling and reskilling, 195
 - and ML, 193
 - problem statement, 186–187
 - skills necessary for upskilling and reskilling workforce, 194
 - technological skills vital for upskilling and reskilling, 194
 - upskilling and, 187–193
- Responsive feedback tools, 231
- Retail, 189
- Returns on investment (ROI), 237

- Robotic automation
 - hypothesis, 135
 - methodology, 134–142
 - objectives, 134
 - results and analysis, 135
 - review of literature, 132
- Robotics, 35, 140, 152
- Robots, 36, 152

- Sarah Banking, 37
- Scanning resumes, 118
- School, AI in, 156–157
- Screening initial data, 240
- Secondary material sources, 114
- Selection, 47
 - process, 49
- Self-efficacy (SE), 18
- Self-learning, 14
- Sentiment analysis, 93
- Skilling, 189
- Skills necessary for upskilling and reskilling workforce, 194
- Small data, 54
- Smart cities, 189
- Social data analytics, 35
- Social media scrapping tool, 6
- Social robotics, 33
- Software, 159
- Speech recognition, 85
- Start-ups witnessed growth, 201
- Statista, 135
- Strata, 135
- Strategic Human Resource Management (SHRM), 51
- Streamlined process, 115
- Students, 157
- Systematic literature review, 82
- Systematic survey approach, 20

- Talent acquisition (TA), 67, 69–70
 - adoption of different
 - AI-empowered tools in talent acquisition by select companies, 226–227
 - advantages of, 226
 - AI and, 225
- Talent gap, 204
- Talent management (TM), 71
- Teachers, 154, 157
- Technical education, 166
 - AI in, 156–157
- Technological bias, 55
- Technological skills vital for upskilling and reskilling, 194
- Technology, 39, 82, 165–166, 200
 - additional skills to impart, 53–55
 - and change nature of work, 35–36
 - getting personal with, 53
 - HR Practices, 36–37
 - implications, 40
 - literature review, 35
 - psychological contract, protean career, and boundaryless career, 37–38
- Technology Adoption Model (TAM), 19, 47
- Thinking machines, 182
- 3D printing, 36
- TOE–TAM integration, 19
- TOP model, 203, 210
- Tractica, 135
- Training, 148
 - AI and, 227
 - and development, 61
- Transition management theory, 34
- Transparency, 55
- Transportation, 189
- Trust, 55

- Uber, 37
- Uncertainty (UC), 17
- Unilever (companies), 7
- Upskilling and reskilling, 187
 - cognitive skills essential for, 194–195
 - evergreen skills for, 195
 - findings, 188
 - objectives, 188
 - research methodology, 188

- skills necessary for upskilling workforce, 194
- technological skills vital for, 192
- UTAUT (technology models), 25

- Varimax rotation, 74
- Virtual learning, 154
- Virtual reality (VR), 154, 162

- Workforce analysis, 236
- Working from home (WFH), 53
- World Bank, 35
 - report, 34
- World Economic Forum (WEF), 187
- World Health Organisation, 32, 222

- Youtube, 153, 226–227

- Zalando (companies), 230