About the Authors

Ulrike M. Vieten, PhD, is an Assistant Professor/Lecturer in Sociology, and Fellow of the Mitchell Institute for Global Peace, Security and Justice, at Queen's University Belfast (QUB). Her research focuses on the historical construction and shifting of racialized, gendered and classed group boundaries. She has published widely on theoretical and empirical aspects of European citizenship, minority ethnic identity, migration and gender, racism, and far-right-populism. She is the Editor-in-Chief of the European Journal of Cultural and Political Sociology (EJCPS), since 2020. She is active with the Britain-based sociological activists' network Social Scientists Against the Hostile Environment (SSAHE).

Scott Poynting is an Adjunct Professor, Center for Islamic Studies and Civilization at Charles Sturt University, researching on Islamophobia. He is also Adjunct Professor in the School of Justice at Queensland University of Technology. He is a co-author of Bin Laden in the Suburbs: Criminalising the Arab Other.
