

Index

- Agency arrangements, 59–60
Altruism, 42
Awareness of surrogacy, 23–26
- Bourdieu's theory of convertibility of capital, 30, 82
- Childbirth, 73–77
Client parents, 11–12, 55–56, 58, 91, 121–122
Commercial surrogacy, 119–121
 agencies, 36–37
Commodification, 58
Commuting arrangements, 99–103
Commuting surrogacy worker, 81–82, 84
Continuous motion, 99–103
COVID-19, 111
 impact, 111–113
 pandemic, 119
Current liberal policy context, challenges and potential changes to, 114–118
- Departure, 103–108
Direct or agency-mediated surrogacy arrangement, 58–65
Disruptions, 111–113
- Embryo transfer (s), 92–96
Emotion
 'in the field', 21–22
 work, 21, 36
Employee–employer arrangement, 70–71
- Financial penalties, 14–15
Framing of surrogacy, 122–123
- Gabriela's story, 79–80
Geographic stratification, 82
 in selecting and paying surrogacy workers, 86–92
Geopolitical stratification, 82
 in selecting and paying surrogacy workers, 86–92
Graded payment schemes, 88–92
- (Im)mobility, nine months of, 96–103
In vitro fertilisation (IVF), 5–6
- Legal settings of surrogacy in Russia, 8–15
Lived realities of mobilised and immobilised 'carriers', 92–103
- Meddesk. ru website, 11–12, 84
Methods, sample and recruitment, 17–20
Migrant surrogacy worker, 81–82, 84, 96, 99
Mobility, 96
Moral, 33–34
- Non-compliance, 14–15
- Philanthropic motives, 29
Pre-term births, 14
Pregnancy, 96–103
Provincial surrogacy worker, 86–88
- Racialized imaginaries, 46–52
Reconfigurations, 114–118
Relational work, 55, 65–66

- Relationships, 55
 childbirth, 73–77
 direct or agency-mediated surrogacy arrangement, 58–65
 don't work, 71–73
 as duty, 65–69
 personal relationships, 71
 surrogacy worker and client parents, 55–56
 work, 65, 69, 71, 73
- Repro-hubs, 82, 86–87
- Reproductive capital, 30, 57
- Reproductive migrations, 81 delivery and departure, 103–108 geographic and geopolitical stratifications in selecting and paying surrogacy workers, 86–92
 lived realities of mobilised and immobilised 'carriers', 92–103
 Russia's Repro-hubs, St. Petersburg and Moscow, 82–86
- Reproflows, 82–83
- Russian Association of Human Reproduction (RAHR), 8
- Russian public attitudes to surrogacy, 23–24
- SARS-CoV-2, 111
- Serious games, 56
- Social organisation of surrogacy in Russia, 8–15
- Social relations, 56
- St. Petersburg, 1–2
- Stratified reproduction, 82
- Subsistence farming, 87–88
- Sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS), 114–115
- Surrogacy, 5–6, 111
 agencies, 11, 19, 21, 44
 arrangements, 5–6, 24
 awareness of, 23–26
 Bill, 119–120
 exclusive, 42–43
 gestation as work, 26–30
 hubs, 82
 pregnancy, 1
 research matters, 15–17
 in Russia, 6, 8, 23, 41 types of surrogacy, 5
- Surrogacy workers, 1, 11–14, 18, 23, 121–122 challenging assumptions of motherhood, 33–38 make decision, 62–65
 organising, 38–41
 perception of relationship to surrogate child, 30–33 selecting docile, healthy and 'poor, but not too poor' worker mother, 41–46
- VIP arrangements, 64