

Special issue on recent advances in electrical and electronics engineering

This special issue of the International Journal for Computation and Mathematics in Electrical and Electronic Engineering (COMPEL) includes eight extended and improved versions of selected papers presented at the International Conference on Trends in Technology for Convergence (TITCON'15). The TITCON'15 was organized by AVS Engineering College, Salem, India in association with Nizwa College of Technology, Oman. The conference has attracted 1,894 papers from various countries, of which 423 were shortlisted based on peer review process.

I would like express my sincere gratitude to our management, members of faculties, technical committee members, the authors, session chairs, and anonymous expert reviewers for their contributions to this conference, and to this special issue.

Finally, I would like to express my truthful salutations to Professor Jan Sykulski Editor-in-Chief COMPEL, Kay Wilkinson Editorial Administration, Daniel Jopling the Publisher, and Abi Masha Content Editor, for their valuable support and suggestion for this special issue.

H. Abdul Shabeer

Department of Research and Development, AVS Engineering College, Salem, India