

INDEX

- “Ad-hoc” categories, 76
- Africa Venture Capital Association (AVCA), 120, 122
- African Agricultural Capital, 120
- Analog technologies, First wave, 234–236
- Analysts categorization, 79
- Analytic method, 371–373
- Analytical approach, 124–125
- “Anonymous currency”, 190, 196, 199, 208
- Antecedents of category spanning, 356–357, 371–372
- Apple Company, 71–72, 253–254
- Audience’s theory of value, 7, 8–9, 10, 328

- B2B e-commerce software company, 155
- Bank Charter Act, 192
- Biotechnology, 12, 172–173
- Bitcoin, 188
 - history of, 193–194
- Body Mass Index (BMI), 313
- Breusch–Pagan Lagrange multiplier test, 342

- Candidate identity, caveats on, 57–58
- Carbon 60 (C60), 365, 366
- Categor(ies), 4, 22, 72, 84, 114, 115–116, 194–195, 260, 299, 328, 356
 - agreement, 301
 - authority, 301, 314–315, 318
 - boundaries, 169–170
 - category-level influences on
 - spanning, 360–361
 - central tendency, 333
 - creation, 298–299
 - decay, 172–174
 - durability, 299, 320
 - proof, 312–313
 - truce, 315–316
 - emergence, 299
 - formation, 262, 263, 264
 - imprinting, 306–309, 311
 - knowledge base, 309–310
 - label, 34, 79–80, 164–166, 190
 - misalignment, 195–196
 - promoters, 22
 - schemes, 49–51
 - spanning, 362–364
 - symbolic boundaries, 167–169
 - taken-for-grantedness, 170–172
 - translation, 226
- Categorical contrast, 340
- Categorical imperative, 19, 32, 33, 45–47, 298, 356
- Categorical membership, 33
- Categorical purity, 33, 34, 37, 47, 51
- Categorization, 4, 19, 33, 152, 328, 356
 - consistency, 43–44
 - customer segmentation, 42–43
 - limits of, 208–210
 - principles, 44

- as theoretical tool, 33, 42, 60, 328–329, 334–336, 349
- vertical differentiation
 - imperative, 44
 - volume contributions, 14–23
- Category spanning, 22–23, 328–329, 330, 333, 339, 341
 - antecedents of, 356–357
 - USPTO patent, 357–358
- Causal view of categories, 334
- Citizens United v. First Election Commission, 189
- Cluster analysis, 201
- Cognitive approach, 4, 13
 - audience’s theory of value, 8–9
 - categorization as, 6
 - characteristics of, 8
 - empirical results, 6–7
- Cognitive map, 79–80, 93, 103
- Cognitive psychology, 4, 333, 360
- Commitment, social risks from, 45, 53–55
- “Commodity” label, 189
- Communication technologies, 224
- Communities, 165
- Consensus, 22, 299, 301–303, 307, 312, 314, 320
- Consumer(s), 168
 - categorical purity in markets, 39–40
 - marketplace metacognition, 262
- Contextualizing category
 - development, 160–161
- Coordination, social risks from, 53–55
- Corporate social responsibility (CSR), 12, 126, 128
- Customer segmentation, 42–43
- Decay, category, 172–174
- Decentralization, 210–211
- “Decentralized” label, 215
- Demand-side imperatives, 35–36
- Demand-side principles, 52
- “Density” variable, 371
- Development finance
 - institutions (DFIs), 119–120
- Differentiation imperatives, 35
 - See also* Categorical imperative
- Discourse analysis, 154–155
 - approach, 168
 - contributions of, 157
- Discursive approaches, 177–178
- “Dynamic capabilities”, 169
- Economic sociology, 32
- Empirical analyses, 198
 - macro level
 - cluster analysis, 201
 - within-cluster inconsistencies, 201–203
 - meso level, 203–205
 - micro level, 205, 206
- Enactment, 11
- Ethereum, 189
- Ethical investing, 118
- European Central Bank (ECB), 203
- European Investment Bank (EIB), 119–120
- European Union (EU), 239
- Expertise, 7, 197, 383
 - home category expertise, 362–363
 - knowledge-based, 320
 - scientific expertise, 367
- Extraprofessional status, 38–39

- Fair Information Practices
 - Principles framework, 237
- Federal Electronic
 - Communications Privacy Act, 237–238
- Federal Trade Commission (FTC), 239, 251, 252
- Fiat, 299, 307, 312, 314–315
 - mechanism, 22
 - process, 304–305
- Financial intermediaries, 120
- Firm's tenure calculation, 340–341
- Foreign direct investment (FDI), 118–119
- Forest Stewardship Council (FSC), 129, 133
- Framing techniques, 75, 103
- Full-service law firms, 335, 337, 348
- Fullerene, 365, 366
- Fund, 117–118, 120, 126
- “Futurist” community, 166
- Fuzziness, 92–93

- Genetic engineering, 172–173
- Global impact investing network (GIIN), 121–124
- Global impact investing rating system (GIIRS), 134–135
- Goal-based approach, 7
- Goal-derived categories, 75–76
- Government record keeping and digital data banks, 236–238

- Hannan et al.'s theory of organization forms, 39–40
- Hazard rate models
 - competing, 358, 373, 380
 - continuous, 88, 90, 96
- Heterogeneity, 157–158
- High-status professionals, 41, 57, 61
- “Home category”, 23, 358, 361
- Horizontally differentiated category, 34
- Hybrid categories, 114, 125
 - creating new knowledge and new collective identity, 126–128
 - data analysis, 124–125
 - data sources and data collection, 121–124
 - emergence of impact investing, 125–126
 - events, 126
 - market category, 114
 - membership for legitimacy transfer, 134–137
 - membership for political advantage, 132–134
 - political actions and outcomes, 138
 - as political devices, 114–115, 137
 - research context, 117–121
 - theoretical foundation, 115
 - politics, power, and categories, 115–116
 - and power relations, 116–117
 - weak institutional setting, 130–132

- Identity
 - change in identity consensus level, 339
 - consensus, 339
 - implications for identity research, 350
 - politics, 55

- “Impact investing” category,
 - 126–127
 - emergence of, 125–126
- Industry-based categorical imperative, 60–61
- Information technology (IT), 85
- Informational privacy, 226–227, 231, 234
 - first wave, 234–236
 - second wave, 236–238
 - third wave, 239–241
- Innovations, 32, 33, 190
 - Bitcoin, 192–193
- Institutional context, 13
- Institutional embeddedness of categories, 230
- “Institutional entrepreneurs”, 300
- Institutional translation, 246–252
- Insurance industry, 158
- “Intelligent e-business solutions”, 155
- Intermediaries, 260
 - case of Sundance Institute, 285
 - in category creation, 261
 - category formation, 287–288
 - in maintenance of market categories, 260
 - theoretical foundations, 262–266
- International corporate law market, 336–338
- International Finance Corporation (IFC), 119
- Internet, 213–214, 239–241
- Interpretive process, 158
- Interview records, 234
- Intraprofessional status, 37–39
- Invariant behavioral tendency, 40–42
- Involuntary resettlement, 133
- Irrationality, 44–45
- Labeling
 - persistence of labeling inconsistencies, 205, 207–208
 - process, 12
- Labels, 194–195
 - exploring, 196
 - function, 92
 - misalignment between categories and, 195–196
- Law firms, 337, 338–339
- Legitimate commentary, 264
- Leniency, 92–93
- Lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender (LGBT), 115
- Magic quadrant reports, 86–87
 - issue, 98–100
 - logit models on, 102
 - negative binomial models on, 101
- “Manufacturing” category, 190
- Market
 - categorization, 4–5, 72–75, 81–82
 - as activation of cognitive processes, 6–9
 - perspectives, 5–6
 - research on, 5
 - as social process, 9–14
 - category, 114, 153, 281–282
 - intermediaries in maintenance of, 260
 - systems, 300
 - for cultural goods, 263
 - intermediaries, 83, 84–85
 - label, 194
 - makers, 32
 - participants, 153

- power dynamics among
 - market participants, 159–160
 - stakeholders, 164
- “Meso-physics” labels, 166
- Metadata repository, 87
- Money-related innovation in
 - United Kingdom, 191
 - barter to electronic payments, 191–192
- Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA), 267
- Nanotechnology, 364–365
 - category, 166
 - label, 159–160
- National Forestry Agency (NFA), 130, 131
- National Nanotechnology Initiative, 160
- “Natural categories”, 225
- New Forests Company (NFC), 20, 114–115
- New market, 260–261, 263
 - category, 261, 262, 264
- Nominally differentiated category, 34
- Nonintersecting knowledge domains, 211
- Orders of worth, 230, 246–252
- Organization theory, 4, 32, 39
- Organizational identity, 331
- Parametric models, 372
- Peer-to-peer electronic cash system, 188
- Politics, 115–116
- Power, 115–116
 - dynamics, 20, 159–160
 - relations, 116–117
- Privacy category, 231
- Producer market category, 96–98
- Producers categorization, 76–78
- Proof process, 299, 303–304, 307, 312–313
- Protocategory creation, 164–166
- Prototype approach, 4
- Prototype theory, 40
- Radical innovation, 210
- Relational similarity, 363–364
 - variable, 367–369
- Rhetorical contestation, 246
- Rhetorical elements, 158
- Semi-structured interviews, 124, 266–267
- Signaling, 12
- “Single-layer deposition” labels, 166
- Social
 - boundaries, 169–170
 - categorization, 317
 - cognition, 309–311
 - mechanisms, 36
 - movements, 115
 - negotiation, 11
- Social process, 4–5
 - actors, 9–11
 - acts of categorization, 12–13
 - categorization as, 9
 - context characteristics, 13
 - entity, 11
 - temporality aspects, 14
- Social risks, 53–55
- Socially responsible investing (SRI), 118
- Sociology of markets, 4
- Software producers, 94–96

- Speculative markets, 60
- Stakeholders, 153
- Status, 33, 57
 - extraprofessional, 38–39
 - hierarchy, 57
 - high-status professionals, 41, 57
 - intraprofessional, 37–39
- Stinchcombe's imprinting, 307
- Stock market, 60
 - analysts, 80
- Strategic categorization, 72–74
 - goal-derived categories, 75–76
 - producers, 73–74, 76–78
 - software, 94–96
- Sundance Institute, 261, 266, 272
- Superordinate category, 211–213
- Symbolic boundaries, 167–169

- Taken-for-grantedness, 170–172
- Technology sector, 85
- Temporality aspects, 14

- Theories of moral sentiments, 314
- Theory of value, 33, 45, 331
 - variation in, 48–49
- Translation processes, 241
 - OECD, 242
- Truce process, 299, 305–307, 312, 315–316
- “Typicality judgment” approach, 329, 331–334

- Valuations process, 32–33, 45–46
- Venture capitalists (VC), 32, 214
- Vertical differentiation imperative, 44
- Vertically differentiated category, 34
- Virtual currency, 189, 203

- World Health Organization (WHO), 313