

INDEX

- Activity, 106
Aesthetic(s), 173
    code complexity, 59, 64
    dimension, 22
    innovation, 141–142, 147–148, 165
Aesthetization process, 3
Ambivalence, 230–231
Analysis, 143–144
Annual model, 147
Apple, 158
Art dealers or artists, 53
Artistic capitalism, 3
Autobiographies, 144–145
- Baseline model, 129
Beatport.com, 28
Biographies, 144–145
Blonde Salad blog, 134–135
- Case(s), 143
Categorization, 202
Category spanning, 49–50
CC Fashion Week, 233–234
Celebrity CEO, 157
City Government, 238–239
Coda, 95–96
Codes, 50, 70
    complexity, 50–52
Coherent-style typologies, 21, 25
Colour(s), 27
    theory, 21, 34
Communication, individual intensity of, 105–107
Competition, 200–201
Competitive advantage, 19–20
Competitor products, 200–201
Complexity, 50
Conformity, 230–231
Conspicuous consumption, 83
Conspicuousness, 83–84
- Consumer evaluations and implicit comparisons, 202–204
    social attention and evaluation, 203 style and evaluation, 202–203 stylistic similarity and social attention, 203–204
Contemporary art, 103
Conventionality, 121, 126–127
Core city (CC), 229
Core–periphery, 103
Craftsmanship, 124
Creative industries, 25–26, 51, 142
Creative innovators, 42
Creative personalities, 20
Critic(s), 104, 108–109, 111, 173, 179
    distance, 183–185
    as gatekeepers in diffusion of style, 177–180
    implications, limitations and future research, 191–193
    method, 181–186
    reactivity and peer influence in stylistic innovation, 180–181
    results, 187–191
    reviews, 185–186
    style and stylistic dynamics, 174–177
Cross-industry aesthetic innovation, 166 Cultural aestheticism in, 4 continuity, 176
    hybridization, 3 industries, 142
    innovation, 230–231
    mediators, 178–179
- Design, 141–142, 175
Differentiation, 230–231

- Digimind, 80–81
 Digital market, 121
Discogs, 28
 DJ-oriented marketplace, 28
 Double edge of legitimation, 228–229

 Elaboration of content, 106–107
 Electronic music, 26
 Embeddedness, 55, 69
 Enclothed cognition, 94
 Encoding–decoding process, 50–52
 Entrepreneurial pitches, 135
 Entrepreneurship scholarship, 122
 Entry timing, 200–202
 Environmental embeddedness, 237–238
 Ethnography, 233
 Etsy, 123–124
 Evaluation, 200
 Evangelical aesthetic innovation, 143, 159
 Extensiveness of content, 106–107

 Fashion, 80, 163, 227–228 game, 172–173
   gatekeepers, 174
   industry, 173
   observers, 177
 Fashion Weeks, 181–182
   two tiers of, 232–233
 Footwear, 79–80
 Fordism, 145–146
 Front-row VIPs, 242–243

 Gatekeepers, 172–174, 179
 General Motors (GM), 143
 Generalizability, 71–72
 Geography, 228–229, 247–248
 Global value chain analysis, 228
 Government funding, 238
Grand Prix d'Horlogerie de Genève, 57–58

 Heeled status-enhancement hypothesis, 79, 85
 Heels, 79, 82
 High-value sponsors, 240

 Ideal-typical styles of leadership, 102–103
 Imperfect imitation, 228–229
 Inertia, 176
 Innovation, 230
 Institutionalized aesthetic innovation contributions, 161–166
   limitations, 160–161
   methodological approach, 144–145
   Starbucks and fresh new brew, 150–155
   Steve jobs as high priest–evangelical aesthetic innovation, 155–159
   strategic aesthetic innovation, 145–149
 Integrator, 104, 108–109, 111

 Jobs, 143, 156

 ‘Kit of Parts’ store design model, 150–151
 Kroeber’s methodology, 176

 Language expectancy theory, 122
 Latent Dirichlet Allocation topic models, 123 Laypersons, 52–53
   evaluation of product range code complexities, 53–54
 Leadership styles, 6, 101–102, 108–109
 Legitimacy mediator, 239
   sources and signals of, 234
 ‘Legitimate distinctiveness’, 121
 Legitimation, 230–231, 246–247
 Local audience, 242–246

- front-row VIPs, 242–243
- general audience ticket sales, 243–244
- performance challenges, 244–246
- Luxury watchmaking, 51–52
  - contributions and implications, 70–71
  - control variables, 60–64
  - data and methodology, 56–68
  - dependent variables, 57–58
  - generalizability and future research, 71–72
  - independent variables, 58–60
  - research setting, 55–56
  - results and analysis, 64–68
  - theory, 52–55
- Matching, 69
- Media, 239–240
- Metropolitan coffee shops, 152–153
- Motion Picture Association of America ratings (MPAA ratings), 210
- Motivation, 69
- Movie industry, 205
- Multimodal lens, 143–144
- Multiparty evaluation, 51–53
- Narrative(s), 1, 6, 121–122
  - conventionality, 126–127
  - style, 120, 122
  - topic modelling approach to investigating, 123
- Negative binomial regression, 129
- OLS statistical model, 206–207
- One-way ANOVA, 86–87
- Online digital platforms, 135
- Online movie evaluations, 201
  - changes in demand and composition of consumers, 214–217
  - data, 205–206
  - empirical strategy, 207
  - evaluation in markets, 201–204
  - main analyses, 210–212
  - model, 206–207
  - research setting, 204–205
  - supplementary analyses and robustness checks, 212–217
  - temporary or persistent effects, 212–214
  - variables, 207–210
- Optimal distinctiveness, 163
- ORA software, 106–107
- Organization(al)
  - complexity, 51–52
  - culture, 8–9
  - identities, 6
  - level, 8
  - practices, 2
  - scholars, 22, 102
  - style, 21
- Organizer, 104
- Pathways, 143
- Peacekeeper. See Integrator
- Persistence, 106
- Photographers, 51
- Pinault-Printemps-Redoute (PPR), 181
- Poisson model, 129
- ‘Pop Art’ movement, 3
- Positioning choices, 200–201
- Power, 78–79, 89–90
  - in social hierarchies, 84–85
- Professional(s), 52–53
  - evaluation of product range code complexities, 54–55
  - movie critics, 207
  - schemas, 54
- Rankings, 202, 204
- Ratings, 205, 210
- Reader, 121
- Redundancy, 106
- Robust estimators, 129
- Romantic relationships, 83

- Semantic network analysis, 106–107
- Semi-peripheral city (SPC), 228–229 data analysis, 237–238 data collection, 235–237 semi-peripheral foundations for compromised symbolic content, 238–246
 setting and methods, 233–238
 SPC Fashion Week, 234–236, 242–243
 strategic balance and legitimation, 230–231
 stratification of place, 232–233
- Semi-peripheral geography, 229
- Seminal aesthetic innovation, 143
- Semiotic function, 21
- Shoe style, 86, 88–90, 93
- Shoot 'Em Up* (action/adventure movie), 200
- Signaling, 78
- Simplexity, 70–71
- Small groups, 101–103
- Social attention and evaluation, 203–204
- Social embeddedness, 52
- Social network
 analysis, 105–106
 positions, 107
- Social sequence analysis (SSA), 134
- Socio-semantic network analysis, 102–103
 case description and data, 103–105 contributions to semantic content, 107–113
 method, 105–107
 results, 107–113
- Sound dimension, 27–28
 analytical manipulation, 28–29
- Sponsors, 240–242
- Starbucks, 143, 150, 155
- Status, 78–79, 83–84
 in social hierarchies, 84–85
 status–power transfer hypothesis, 79, 85
- Steve jobs as high priest–evangelical aesthetic innovation, 155–159
- Storytelling, 6, 121
- Strategic aesthetic innovation, 143,
 145, 149, 159–160
- Strategic balance, 230–231, 246–247
- Strategic decision, 142
- Strategy, 21
- Stratification of place, 232–233
- Style, 10, 20, 23, 120–122, 172, 174, 177, 227–228
 analytical manipulation of sound dimension of style, 28–29 analytical manipulation of visual dimension of style, 29–30
 change, 177
 control variables, 31–34
 impact of critical feedback on, 187–191
 data, 28
 dependent variables, 30–31
 distance, 185
 empirical setting and hypotheses, 25–28
 and evaluation, 202–203
 independent variables, 31
 instrumental use of, 5–6 leadership, 10
 managerial scholarship, 4–5 multi-dimensional, socially situated, semiotic, 22–25
 in practice, 27–28
 progression across time, 187
 results, 34
 statistical methods, 30
 strategic implications, 20 technology, 11–12
 typologies, 19–22, 24–25
 value creation, 9–10
- Stylistic choice, 78
 heels, 79–82
 limitations and future research, 95 power and shoe style, 89–90

- results, 87–88, 91, 93
  - shoe style, 86, 88, 90, 93
  - status and conspicuousness, 83–84
  - theoretical contributions, 93–94
  - Stylistic dynamics, 174–177
  - Stylistic innovation, reactivity and
    - peer influence in, 180–181
  - Stylistic practice, 23
  - Stylistic similarity, 203–204
  - ‘Swiss made’ label, 58
  - Symbolic goods, 174–175
  - Systems theory, 176

  - Technological
    - code complexity, 60, 64
    - traits, 55
  - Textual fingerprinting, 120
  - Third-party evaluations, 200
  - Time series analysis, 176
  - Topic modelling approach, 121
    - empirical application, 123–127
    - example data, 123–124
    - to investigating narrative style, 123
  - model specification, 129
  - narratives and style, 121–122
  - results, 124–126
  - results, 129–132
  - variables, 127–129
- ‘Trickle down’ theory, 177–178
  - Two-way ANOVA, 91
  - Typological coherence, 24

  - Université Libre de Bruxelles (ULB),
    - 57–58
  - Urban spaces, 103

  - Variance inflation factors (VIFs), 129
  - Visual dimension, 27–28
    - analytical manipulation, 29–30

  - Web-scraping methods, 124
  - Within-category dynamics, 70
  - Wristwatch Annual* catalogue, 56–57