

INDEX

- Acceptable behavior, 69
- Active recovery process, 214
- Adultcare, 228, 235
- Advance employee well-being at work, 245
 - analytic considerations for mixed methods and person-centered work, 249
 - respectfully studying vulnerable populations, 245–249
- Affective responses, 179
- Affective tendencies, 173
- Agency problem, 111
- Alignment, 44
 - alignment and generalized trust, 55
 - and dense networks, 53–54
 - in HR ecosystem, 45–51
- Altruism, 110
- Amazon Flex, 51
- Ambiguity, 76
- Antecedents of HR attributions, 170
 - boundary conditions, 188–189
 - configurations of collective HR attributions, 184–186
 - discussion of research on HR attributions' outcomes, 181
 - emergence and trajectories of collective HR attributions, 187–188
 - general discussion, 186–187
 - HR attributions of single (vs. multiple) practices, 183–184
 - integration of HR attributions and HR strength, 189–190
 - job mobility, 180–181
 - outcomes of HR attributions, 179
 - psychological contract, 179–180
 - receiver-related antecedents, 173–174, 178
 - research method, 182
 - research on HR attributions' antecedents, 176
 - signal-related antecedents, 172–173, 176–177
 - signaler-related antecedents, 171–172, 177
 - signaling environment-related antecedents, 175–176, 178–179
 - social exchange outcomes, 179
 - study design, 182
 - trust formation, 180
- Attitudes, 82
- Attribution theory-based research, 168
- Attributional tendencies, 173
- Autism, 207, 223–224
- Behavior-based incentives, 104
- Behavioral prediction, 14–15
- Behavioral safety indicators, 104
- Behaviors, 67
- Benevolent attributions, 169
- Bi-dimensional space, 142, 144
- Big data, 134
 - attributes of big data, 136–140
 - big data meta-attributes, 140–142
 - central big data attributes, 135
 - COVID-19 pandemic, 149–150
 - HRM practitioners, 148–149
 - HRM-centered big data initiatives, 151–152
 - illuminated opportunities, 142–144
 - integrative definition of, 142
 - theoretical implications for Big Data in HRM, 145–148
 - understanding, 136
- Big Five factor, 141
- Bottom-up influences, 188
- Boundary conditions, 188–189

- “Can do” factors, 8
- Caregivers, organizational supports
 - for, 228–236
- Caregiving, 207
 - actionable considerations in
 - crafting organizational support solutions, 233–235
 - current state of organizational support for caregivers, 229–231
 - employee caretaking, 228–229
 - need for HRM scholarship to address shortcomings of support to caregiving, 231–233
 - and work, 228
- Causal asymmetry, 252
- Central tendency, 29
- Childcare, 228, 235
- Chronicness, 231, 232
- Closeness, 24
- Cognitive heuristic strategies, 30
- Collaboration, 213
- Collective HR attributions
 - configurations of, 184–186
 - emergence and trajectories of, 187–188
- Collectivism, 110
- Commitment-focused HR
 - attributions, 180, 181
- Commitment-oriented HR
 - attribution, 173
- Common method variance, 4
- Common Rule, 28
- Comparative validity, 15
- Competition
 - duality of, 46
 - supporting, 49–51
- Complexity, 140–142
- Concealable stigmas, 207
- Concealable stigmas at work, 221
 - future directions for HRM, concealable stigmas, and well-being, 225–227
 - intersection of HRM practices, concealable stigmas, and employee well-being, 223–225
- Conceptualized moral identity, 72
- Conjunction, 251
- Conscientiousness, 65
- Constructive conformity, 82
- Constructive deviance, 62–64, 65–67
 - directions for future research, 85–87
 - forms of, 68
 - future, 80–81
 - implications for human resource management, 84–85
 - literature review, 64
 - model development, 70–83
 - negative attitudes, 83–84
 - organizational rules and norms, 67–70
 - outcomes of, 81–83
 - practical implications, 87–88
 - reactions to, 79–80
 - workplace deviance, 64–65
- Constructive deviance, 63
- Contamination-related concerns, 139
- Contemporary HR attributional theories, 168
- Content approach, 158
- Context, 74–76
- Control, 209
- Control-focused HR attributions, 180, 181
- Control-oriented HR attribution, 173
- Cooperation
 - duality of, 46
 - ensuring, 46–49
- Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act), 219
- Cosmopolitan role, 66
- Cost effectiveness, 104–105
- “Cost reduction”, 168
- Cost-benefit analysis, 222
- Counter-role behavior, 68
- Counterproductive workplace behaviors, 63
- Courageous principled action, 63, 68
- COVID-19 pandemic, 207, 213
- Crafting organizational support solutions, 233–235

- Creativity, 77, 100
 - incentive effects, 115–119
- Critical review, 237
- Criticality, 208, 251
- “Cultural holes”, 51
- Data collection and storage, 247–248
- Data science, 139
- Data variety, 137
- Deficiency-related concerns, 138–139
- Degree of acquaintanceship, 24
- Dense networks, alignment and, 53–54
- Detrimental citizenship behavior, 68
- Difference-education, 225
- Discriminant validity, 66
- Dispositions, 71
- Disruption
 - and dyadic trust, 55
 - in HR ecosystem, 45–51
 - and sparse networks, 54
- Domain specific recovery, 211
- “Dominant administrative coalition”, 64
- DoorDash, 51
- “Double-duty” expectations, 208
- Duality of cooperation and competition, 46
- Dyadic trust, 54
 - disruption and, 55
- Dynamism, 140–142
- Dysfunctional deviant behaviors, 65
- EBSCO, 170
- Ecosystems, 49
- Egoism, 110
- Eldercare, 228, 235
- Emergency care services, 234
- Emotional stability, 65
- Empathetic accuracy, 3
- Employee
 - culture, 27–28
 - empowerment, 73
 - perceptions, 74
 - personality, 174
 - self-efficacy, 71
- “Employee exploitation”, 168
- Employee HR attributions
 - antecedents of HR attributions, 170–190
 - conceptual model, 162
 - definition and taxonomy of, 168–170
 - employees attribute, 159–160
 - explication of four groups of antecedents, 163–165
 - literature search for antecedents and outcomes of HR attributions, 170
 - outcomes, 166
 - outcomes of HR attributions, 161
 - summary of empirical studies reviewed, 197–204
 - taxonomy of different types (and Measures) of employees HR attributions, 160
- Employee Resource Group program, 230
- Employee turnover, HRM role in, 240–241
- Employee well-being, 168
 - HR attributions, 173
- Empowerment, 72
- Environmental, social, and governance (ESG), 151
- Environmental logic, 45
- Equality-based incentives, 114
- Equifinality, 251–252
- Equity theory, 65
- Equity-based incentives, 114
- Expectancy theory of motivation, 72
- Explanatory models, 4
- External attributions, 169
- Extra-role behavior, 68
- “Extraorganizational stressors”, 238
- Familiarity, 24
- Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), 229
- Fee-for-service (FFS), 108
- Feedback, 181
- Feelings of being, 82
- Felt obligation, 73
- Financial incentives, 111

- Firms, 44, 51
- Flexible spending account (FSA), 219
- Flexible working hours, 212, 253
- Formality of flexible work arrangements, 234
- Freelancer, 55
- Fuzzy set qualitative comparative analysis (fsQCA), 250, 252
- General discussion, 186–187
- Generalized trust, 54
alignment and, 55
- Google, 209
Google Scholar, 17
- Granularity, 138
- Guru (worker platforms), 55
- Health reimbursement arrangement (HRA), 219
- Health savings account (HSA), 219
- Hidden experiences of womanhood, 214–221
- Hierarchical job level, similarity in, 26–27
- High-performance work system (HPWS), 173
- “Home shift” work, 208
- Hourly rate, 107
- Howard Huges Medical Institute (HHMI), 117
- HR attributions, 158
- Human capital, 44
- Human resource (HR), 44
analytics, 139 content, 172
integration of HR attributions and HR strength, 189–190
system strength, 169
- Human resource ecosystem alignment and disruption in, 45
duality of cooperation and competition, 46
ensuring cooperation, 46–49
governing workforce capabilities, 52–53
governing workforce composition, 53–54
governing workforce cultures, 54–55
research implications, 51
SHRM, 44–45
supporting competition, 49–51
work in HR, 51–52
- Human resource management (HRM), 2, 134 advantages of other-ratings for HRM practice, 6–8 advantages of other-ratings for HRM research, 4–6 assessing target thinks and feels about work, 11–14 future directions for HRM, concealable stigmas, and well-being, 225–227 impact on buffering identity-focused impact of jolts, 243 impact on buffering work disruption impact of jolts, 242–243 implications for, 84–85
initial evidence pointing to potential of other-ratings, 16–17
intersection of HRM practices, concealable stigmas, and employee well-being, 223–225 measuring mediating role of job engagement using self-and other-ratings, 5 moderators of self-other agreement, 21–28 other-rating, 2–4
other-ratings in HRM research, 8–10 other-ratings in other literatures, 10–11 practical considerations including other-ratings in HRM research, 28–31

- promoting employee thriving and rest, 213–214
 - role in employee turnover following socio-environmental jolts, 240–241
 - role in helping employees navigate socio-environmental jolts, 241–242
 - self-other agreement, 17–21
 - substitutes or supplements, 14–16
 - theoretical implications for Big Data in, 145–148
- Human resources (HR), 207
- Hybrid incentive, 115

- Identity management, 221–222
- Identity theory, 80
- In vitro fertilization (IVF), 217
- Incentive effects
 - on creativity, 115–119
 - on quality, 106–110
 - theories, 101–102
- Incentives
 - conceptualization of, 101
 - research, 100
- Individual incentive plan, 110
- Individual incentives, 114
- Infertility, 217–218
- “Infertility-informed leadership”, 218
- Informant reports, 2
- Information Revolution, 134
- Instawork, 51
- Institutional contexts, 175
- Institutional Review Board, 28
- Instrumentality, 101
- Intel, 209
- Intensity, 231, 233
- Internal alignment, 44
- Internal locus of control, 71
- International Labour Organization (ILO), 213
- Interpersonal contexts, 175
- Intraclass correlations, 185
- Issue selling, 68

- Job
 - mobility, 161, 180
 - performance ratings, 9
 - sharing, 234
- Job demands-resources model (JD-R model), 161, 181
- Journal of Public Economics*, 113
- Judgment accuracy, 11

- “Keep in touch” programs, 219
- Knowledge, skills, abilities, and other characteristics (KSAOs), 52
 - alignment and common architectural, 53
 - disruption and common component, 53

- Latent profile analysis (LPA), 250
- Leader, 77–79
 - characteristics, 79
- Leader–member-exchange (LMX), 77, 175
- Leadership styles, 77
- Lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and/or questioning identities (LGBTQ+), 207–208, 222
 - status, 224
- Leverage technology, 235
- Line managers
 - bottom-line mentality, 172
 - communication, 171–172
 - HR attributions, 172
 - implementation, 171
- Local role, 66
- Locus of control, 71
- Loss aversion, 182

- Machiavellianism, 66
- Malevolent attributions, 169
- Managers
 - role in enacting boundaries, 210–211
 - role in enacting breaks, 211–213
- Mastery, 209

- Menstruation, motherhood, and menopause (three Ms), 215 intersection of HRM and menstruation and menopause, 219
- Meta-attributes, big data, 140–142
- #MeToo social movement, 239, 240
- Micro-behavioral expressions, 12
- Microbreaks, 212
- Modern HR models, 52
- Modularity, 49, 51
- “Motivation laundering”, 112
- Multi-level framework, 161
- Multilevel LPA (MLPA), 251
- National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing (NAS CAR), 104
- National Institute of Health (NIH), 117
- Necessary evils, 63, 68
- Noncompliant behavior, 68
- Nonmonetary incentives, 114
- Operationalized firm-level personality, 185
- Organization ecosystems, 45
- Organization-gain issues, 68
- Organizational citizenship behaviors (OCBs), 4, 63, 79, 110
- Organizational climate, 75
- Organizational commitment, 12
- Organizational contexts, 175
- Organizational cynicism, 174
- Organizational expedience, 68
- Organizational factors, 75
- Organizational justice, 74
- Organizational leaders, 80
- Organizational misbehavior, 68
- Organizational politics, 74
- Organizational retaliation behavior, 68
- Organizational rules, 62
- Organizational scholars, 100
- Organizational scholarship on socio-environmental jolts, 243–244
- Organizational supports for caregivers, 228–236
- Organizations, 211
 role in enacting boundaries, 210–211
 role in enacting breaks, 211–213
- Other-rating, 2–4
 advantages for HRM research, 4–6 in HRM research, 8–10
 initial evidence pointing to potential of, 16–17 in other literatures, 10–11
 practical considerations including other-ratings in HRM research, 28–31
- Outcome-based incentives, 104
- Outcome-based model, 111
- Outsourceability, 231, 232–233
- Overarching theory-driven, 161
- Part-time roles, 234
- “Peltzman effect”, 104
- Perceived organizational support (POS), 4
- Perceptual accuracy, 12
- Performance incentives, 101
- Performance-focused HR attribution, 181
- Performance-targeted incentives, 111
- Person, 70–71
- Person-centered approach, 250–251, 253
- Person-centered work, 249
- Person-perception literature, 11
- Personality
 profile, 63
 traits, 71, 174
- Piece-rate, 107
- Piece-rate incentive system, 103
- Politics, 74
- Positive deviance, 68
- Postpartum depression (PPD), 218
- Predictive models, 15
- Preliminary meta-analysis, 17–21
- Principal factor analysis, 169

- Principled organizational dissent, 68
- Principlism, 110
- Pro-social rule breaking, 63, 68
- Proactive behaviors, 75, 79
- Proactive personality, 71
- Process approach, 158
- Productive nonconformity, 63, 68
- Productivity
 - conceptualization of incentives, 101
 - costs of failure, 100–101
 - incentive effects on creativity, 115–119
 - incentive effects on prosocial behavior, 110–111
 - incentive effects on quality, 106–110
 - incentives and safety, 102–104
 - prosocial incentive effects, 111–115
 - research evidence, 119–122
 - safety incentive effects, 104–106
 - theories of incentive effects, 101–102
- Prosocial behavior, 110
- Prosocial incentive effects, 111–115
- Prosociality, 111
- Prosocially violating organizational rules, 62
- Psychological constructs, 2
- Psychological contract, 82, 179–180
- Psychological detachment, 208–209
- Psychological empowerment, 72
- Psychometric evidence, 16
- PsycINFO, 17, 170

- Qualitative method, 182–183
- Quality
 - incentive effects, 107
 - incentive effects on, 106–110
 - of information, 23
 - performance, 106
- Quality-of-care indicators, 108
- Quantity performance, 106

- Realistic accuracy model (RAM), 12

- Receiver-related antecedents, 173–174, 178
- Reciprocity, 111
- Recovery at work, 207, 208–210
- Recruitment, 246–247
- Reinforcement model, 25
- Relationships, 77
- Relative leader–member exchange (RLMX), 78
- Relative price model, 111
- Relaxation, 209
- Reliability information, 18–19
- Research evidence, 119–122
- Response styles, 29
- Results Only Work Environment model, 233
- Role breadth self-efficacy, 66
- Role characteristics, 76
- Role extension, 69
- Role innovation, 69
- Role-confirming behaviors, 81

- Safety
 - incentive effects, 104–106
 - outcomes, 102
 - performance, 103
- Salary payment, 108
- Scopus database, 159, 170
- Self-efficacy, 71–72
- Self-identity, 111
- Self-other agreement, 14, 17–21
 - employee culture, 27–28
 - good information, 23–25
 - good judges and good targets, 22
 - good traits, 23
 - moderators of, 21
 - similarity in hierarchical job level, 26–27
 - similarity in work-related psychological attributes, 25–26
- Self-ratings of performance, 8
- Self-report ratings, 2
- Self-serving bias, 6
- Self-transcendence value, 174
- Sensemaking, 170

- Service quality, 173
 “Service quality enhancement”, 168
 Shift-swapping, 235
 Shock, 240–241
 Signal-related antecedents, 172–173, 176–177
 Signaler-related antecedents, 171–172, 177
 Signaling environment-related antecedents, 175–176, 178–179
 Signaling theory, 161, 170
 Similarity, 25
 in hierarchical job level, 26–27
 in work-related psychological attributes, 25–26
 Situational factors, 75
 Slack, 208
 “Smartness”, 140
 Social categorization theory, 27
 Social class, 207, 224
 Social communities, 52
 Social distancing, 188
 Social exchange outcomes, 179
 Social exchange theory, 65, 73, 161
 Social identity, 27
 high disruption to work, high relevance to, 239–240 high disruption to work, low relevance to, 238 low disruption to work, high relevance to, 238–239
 Social information processing theory, 184–185
 Social learning, 80
 Social recognition incentives, 114
 Social shocks, 227, 240, 244
 Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM), 213 research on alignment, 52
 Socio-environmental jolts framework, 238
 future considerations for organizational scholarship on, 243–244 high disruption to work, high relevance to social identity, 239–240 high disruption to work, low relevance to social identity, 238
 HRM impact on buffering identity-focused impact of jolts, 243
 HRM impact on buffering work disruption impact of jolts, 242–243
 HRM role in employee turnover following, 240–241
 HRM role in helping employees navigate, 241–242
 low disruption to work, high relevance to social identity, 238–239 support employees following, 236
 understanding, 237
 Socio-environmental jolts, 207–208
 Sparse networks, disruption and, 54
 Standard deviation (SD_r), 18
 Standard error (SE_r), 18
 Stigmatized identity, 222
 Strategic human resource management (SHRM), 44
 Subclimates, 77
 Supervisor support for recovery (SSR), 209
 Supervisors, 211
 Supportive leaders, 88
 Task Rabbit (worker platforms), 55
 Task revision assessment, 70
 Taxonomy of employee HR attributions, 168–170
 Tempered radicalism, 69
 #TimesUp movements, 240
 Top-down influences, 188
 Top-down phenomenon, 80
 Traditional management models, 52
 Traits, 71
 Tried-and-true methods, 139
 Trust formation, 180

- Trusted Health, 51
- Turnover shock, 240
- “Unintended negative consequences”, 100
- Unpredictability, 231, 232
- Upwork (worker platform), 55
- “V-centric” attributes, 137
- Value, 140
- Variability, 137
- Variable-centered methods, 249
- Variety, data, 137
- Velocity, 137
- Veracity, 138
- Voice, 69
- Vulnerable populations, respectfully studying, 245–249
- Web of Science, 170
- Well-being, 206–207
 - caregiving and work, 228–236
 - concealable stigmas at work, 221–227
 - future directions in HRM
 - promoting employee thriving and rest, 213–214
 - jolts to system, 236–244
 - methodological considerations to advance employee well-being at work, 245–253
 - recovery at work, 208–210
 - role of organizations and managers in enacting boundaries, 210–211
 - role of organizations and managers in enacting breaks, 211–213
 - women’s health at work, 214–221
- Whistle-blowing, 69
- “Will do” factors, 8
- Womanhood, hidden experiences of, 214
 - intersection of HRM and motherhood, 215–219
- Women’s health, 207
 - future directions for HRM and, 220–221
 - at work, 214–221
- Work
 - caregiving and, 228–236
 - concealable stigmas at, 221–227
 - experience, 174
 - high disruption to work, high relevance to social identity, 239–240
 - high disruption to work, low relevance to social identity, 238
 - low disruption to work, high relevance to social identity, 238–239
 - methodological considerations to advance employee well-being at, 245–253
 - women’s health at, 214–221
 - work-enabling help, 216
- “Work shift”, 208
- Work-interfering help, 216
- Work-related communication, 211
- Work-related feelings, 3
- Work-related psychological attributes, similarity in, 25–26
- Work-related psychological constructs, 23, 30
- Work-to-family enrichment, 212
- Worker platforms, 55
- Work–family conflict, 210
- Workforce
 - complexity, 44
 - dimensions, 52
 - governing workforce capabilities, 52–53
 - governing workforce composition, 53–54
 - governing workforce cultures, 54–55
- Working apps, 51
- Working conditions, 181
- Work–life benefits, 225
- Workplace, 23
 - behavior theories, 2
 - deviance, 62
 - rules and norms, 80