ABOUT THE EDITORS

Luca Fiorito received his PhD in Economics from the New School for Social Research in New York and is currently Professor at the University of Palermo. His main area of interest is the history of American economic thought in the Progressive Era and the interwar years. He has published many works on the contributions of the institutionalists and on the relationship between economics and eugenics.

Scott Scheall is Assistant Professor in the Faculty of Social Science in Arizona State University's College of Integrative Sciences and Arts. He has published extensively on topics related to the history and philosophy of the Austrian School of economics. Scott is the author of F. A. Hayek and the Epistemology of Politics: The Curious Task of Economics (Routledge, 2020)

Carlos Eduardo Suprinyak is Associate Professor of Economics at the American University of Paris. He specializes in the history of political economy, exploring the intersections between economics and politics in different historical contexts, from early modern England to Cold War Latin America. Besides numerous papers in peer-reviewed journals, he is also co-editor of The Political Economy of Latin American Independence (Routledge, 2017) and Political Economy and International Order in Interwar Europe (Palgrave, 2020).

VOLUME INTRODUCTION

Volume 41A of Research in the History of Economic Thought and Methodology features a symposium on “Religion, the Scottish Enlightenment, and the Rise of Liberalism,” guest edited by Jordan J. Ballor and Erik W. Matson. The symposium includes contributions from Jimena Hurtado, Maria Pia Paganelli, Paul Oslington, Daniel B. Klein, Christina McRorie, and Paul D. Mueller.

The volume also features a new research essay by Syed Mohib Ali that considers Amartya Sen’s interpretation of Piero Sraffa’s work.

Volume 41A also includes a roundtable addressing a new essay by esteemed economist Geoffrey Hodgson in which Hodgson reflects on the role that institutional economics has played in his work. The roundtable features contributions from Felipe Almeida, Angela Ambrosino, Daniel H. Cole, Richard N. Langlois, Alain Marciano, and Deirdre McCloskey.
