

List of Tables

Table 1.1	The strategic paradigm applied to the Israeli high-tech take-off — summary	10
Table 1.2	Reciprocal relations among the paradigm's parameters (by analytic level)	15
Table 2.1	Investments of foreign residents in Israel from 1990 through 1997 ($ million, current prices)	23
Table 2.2	Investments of Israelis abroad from 1990 to 1997 ($ million, current prices)	24
Table 3.1	Israeli privatized companies and method.	37
Table 3.2	Summary findings compared with the TASE.	41
Table 3.3	Summary findings compared with the sector stock index	43
Table 3.4	Post privatization and company value	44
Table 3.5	Chemical sector share returns compared to other sectors	44
Table 3.6	Percentage return on the major companies compared with other companies	45
Table 4.1	Characteristics of the research sample.	51
Table 4.2	List of local and foreign companies	52
Table 4.3	Research variables	54
Table 6.1	The association between product characteristics and performance.	92
Table 6.2	The association between general managers' attention and startup performance	93
Table 6.3	The association between planning and performance.	93
Table 6.4	The association between awareness to customers' needs and performance.	94
Table 6.5	The association between strategic capabilities and performance.	94
Table 7.1	Association between strategic dimensions and performance . . .	108
Table 8.1	Companies in the sample.	114
Table 8.2	Definition of research variables and statistical characteristics.	116
Table 8.3	Impact of social network and industry structure on number of company employees	119

xii List of Tables

Table 8.4	Impact of social network and internal strategy on change in company market value	120
Table 8.5	Impact of social network and external strategy on company sales	121
Table 8.6	Impact of social network, external strategy and industry structure on company sales	121
Table 8.7	Summary: impact of strategic components and correlation with social network on company performance.	122
Table 9.1	The impact of board of directors on performance	132
Table 9.2	Discriminant function classification results	135
Table 10.1	Topics of competitive intelligence.	148
Table 10.2	Organizational obstacles	149
Table 10.3	Improving organizational obstacles.	150
Table 11.1	Medical technology firms in Israel	167
Table 11.2	Research perspectives, variables definition and differences between the two time periods (1998 versus 1995).	170