

INDEX

- Accounting
 - diversity, 5
 - framework, 131
 - measurement, 5
 - period for data, 61
 - Accounting for Leases of Aircraft
 - Fleet Assets, 6, 54
 - Accounting policy, 22, 24
 - analysis of accounting policy
 - options related to airline industry, 45–47
 - choices, 22
 - comparability of financial information, 24–27
 - data, 30
 - findings, 30
 - literature review on accounting policy choice in airline industry, 28–30
 - observations on IAS 1 presentation of financial statements, 30–41
 - observations on IAS 2 inventory, IAS 16 PPE, IAS 38 intangible assets, and IAS 40 investment property, 43–45
 - observations on IAS 7 statement of cash flows, 41–43
 - overall analysis of findings, 47–49
 - policy options, 22–24
 - research methodology, 30
 - Accounting Policy Task Force, 6
 - Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises of China (ASBE), 10
 - Aero Mexico, 90, 92, 94, 95
 - Aeromexico, 9–10
 - Africa
 - case of airlines from, 65
 - entity-wide disclosures, 105–106
 - factors used to identify airline’s reportable segments, 102
 - financial reporting in airline industry in, 14
 - identity of CODM, 106–107
 - income and expense items disclosed, 104–105
 - nature and number of segments reported by airlines, 101
 - observations on segment reporting in, 101
 - proportion of total revenues represented by separately reportable segments, 103
 - reporting currency, 104
 - segmental cash flow information, 105
 - segmental performance measures, 103
 - total assets, total liabilities, and other asset items for each reportable segment, 104
 - types of products and services reportable segment derives revenues, 102–103
- Air Canada, 9, 94
 - Air France–KLM (AF-KLM), 53, 139–140
 - accounting period for data, 61
 - effect of adoption of IFRS 15 in airline industry, 63–66
 - analysis of disclosures under IFRS 16, 77–78
 - constraint of research, 62
 - data, 61
 - effects of IFRS 15 and IFRS 16 on income statement, 70–71
 - effects of IFRS 15 and IFRS 16 on statement of financial position, 66–70

- first-time adoption of IFRS 15 and IFRS 16, 63
- effect of IFRS 15 and IFRS 16 on ratios, 71–77
- IFRS 15 revenue from contracts with customers, 52–54
- IFRS 16 Leases, 54–55
- IFRS 15 and IFRS 16 effects on statement of cash flows, 71
- literature review on compliance level of disclosures of IFRS 15 and IFRS 16, 60–61
- literature review on cumulative effect of IFRS 15 and IFRS 16, 59
- literature review on effect of IFRS 15, 55
- literature review on effect of IFRS 16, 55–59
- mandatory disclosures of, 79
- overall analysis of airlines, 66
- research methodology, 62
- steps of revenue recognition, 53
- voluntary Disclosures of, 80
- Air India, SpiceJet, 14
- Air Mauritius case, 140
- Air Partner, 66
- Air Transat, 9, 94
- Airline industry, 4
 - analysis of accounting policy options related to, 45–47
 - determinants of IFRS adoption in, 16
 - financial reporting framework at present, 9–16
 - financial reporting framework in past, 7–9
 - financial reporting in, 5–6
 - jurisdictional versions of IFRS in, 16–19
 - literature review on accounting policy choice in, 28–30
 - literature review on IFRS 8 segment reporting in, 89
 - literature review on international auditing in, 135–136
- Airline(s)
 - airline-related financial information, 5
 - nature and number of segments reported by, 84–85
 - passenger, 53
- All Nippon Airways (ANA), 14
- Americas
 - case of airlines from, 63
 - entity-wide disclosures, 93–95
 - factors used to identify airline’s reportable segments, 90
 - financial reporting in airline industry in, 9–10
 - identity of CODM, 95
 - income and expense items disclosed, 93
 - nature and number of segments reported by American airlines, 90
 - observations on segment reporting in, 90
 - proportion of total revenues represented by separately reportable segments, 92
 - reporting currency, 92
 - segmental cash flow information, 93
 - segmental performance measures, 92
 - total assets, total liabilities, and other asset items for each reportable segment, 92
 - types of products and services from which each reportable segment derives revenues, 91
- Asia-Pacific Region
 - case of airlines from, 65
 - entity-wide disclosures, 111–112
 - factors used to identify airline’s reportable segments, 107
 - financial reporting in airline industry in, 14–16
 - identity of CODM, 112
 - income and expense items disclosed, 110
 - nature and number of segments reported by airlines, 107

- observations on segment reporting
 - in, 107
 - proportion of total revenues
 - represented by separately reportable segments, 108
 - reporting currency, 109
 - segmental cash flow information, 110
 - segmental performance measures, 109
 - total assets, total liabilities, and
 - other asset items for each reportable segment, 109–110
 - types of products and services
 - from which each reportable segment derives revenues, 107–108
- Assets, 25
 - depreciable, 49
 - geographical allocation of, 88, 95, 122
 - intangible, 27, 49
 - items for each reportable segment, 86
 - net, 33
 - reporting, 36
 - total, 33, 86
- Audit firms, 130–131
 - in audit reports of airlines, 138–139
- Audit opinions, 131
 - in audit reports of airlines, 140
- “Audit quality”, 139
- Audit reports of airlines
 - audit firms in, 138–139
 - audit opinions in, 140
 - auditor types in, 139–140
 - content analysis of reporting
 - KAMs in, 146–150
 - emphasis of matter and other matter paragraphs in, 140–141
 - material uncertainty related to
 - going-concern in, 141–142
 - materiality in, 150–154
- Auditing Act of Finland, 129
- Auditing practices, 5
- Auditor types, 130–131
 - in audit reports of airlines, 139–140
- Australian Accounting Standards, 14
- Australian Auditing Standards, 130
 - Azul Brazilian, 94
 - Azul Brazilian Airlines, 9
- Balance sheet, 24–25, 30
 - capital employed, 36
 - format of, 32
 - net assets, 34–35, 37
 - title of, 31
 - total assets, 33–34
- Bangkok Airways, 14
- Big 4 audit firms, 131, 138–139
- Board of Directors (BoD), 88–89
- Business units, 84
- Cargojet Airways, 9
- Cash flow statement, 26
 - observations on IAS 7 statement of cash flows, 41–43
- Cathay Pacific Airlines, 10
- Chief Executive Officer (CEO), 88
- Chief Operating Decision Maker (CODM), 82–83, 86
 - in Americas, 95
 - in Asia-Pacific, 112
 - in China and Northern Asia, 117
 - in Europe, 101
 - identity of, 88–89
 - in Middle East and Africa, 106–107
- Chief Operating Officer, 88
- China
 - case of airlines from, 65
 - entity-wide disclosures, 116–117
 - factors used to identify airline’s reportable segments, 113
 - financial reporting in airline industry in, 10–11
 - identity of CODM, 117
 - income and expense items
 - disclosed, 115
 - nature and number of segments
 - reported by airlines, 112
 - observations on segment reporting
 - in, 112
 - proportion of total revenues
 - represented by separately reportable segments, 113–114

- reporting currency, 114
- segmental cash flow information, 115
- segmental performance measures, 114
- total assets, total liabilities, and other asset items for each reportable segment, 114–115
- types of products and services from which each reportable segment derives revenues, 113
- Combination, 84
- Company materiality, 154, 155
- Comparability of Financial Statements Project, 22
- Comparative analysis of IFRS accounting policy, 24
- Competence, 139
- Comprehensive income, 25, 38–40
- Content analysis of reporting KAMs in audit report of airlines, 146–150
- Contingent-liability method, 28
- Copa Airlines, 8, 9, 94
- Cost model, 27, 49
- Croatia Airlines, 13
- Cumulative catch-up method, 63
- Customer Loyalty Programmes, 28

- Deferred-revenue approach, 28
- Departure method, 88
- Deployment approach, 88
- Depreciable assets, 49
- Depreciation, 49
 - costs, 58
- Destination method, 88
- Direct-to-equity approach, 28
- Diversity, 5–6
 - in accounting policy options, 28–29
 - in financial reporting, 24
- Dividend, 26–27
- Double-declining, 29

- Earnings Before Interest, Tax, Depreciation, Amortization and Rent (EBITDAR), 56, 70, 75, 92
- Earnings before interest and tax (EBIT), 85
- Economic deregulation of airlines, 4
- Emirates, 8
- Entity-wide disclosures, 87–88
 - in Americas, 93–95
 - in Asia-Pacific, 111–112
 - in China and Northern Asia, 116–117
 - in Europe, 99–101
 - in Middle East and Africa, 105–106
- Equity
 - accounting, 26
 - method, 29
- Europe
 - case of airlines from, 63–65
 - entity-wide disclosures, 99–101
 - factors used to identify airline's reportable segments, 95
 - financial reporting in airline industry in, 11–14
 - identity of CODM, 101
 - income and expense items disclosed, 98–99
 - nature and number of segments reported by airlines, 95
 - observations on segment reporting in, 95
 - proportion of total revenues represented by separately reportable segments, 96
 - reporting currency, 98
 - segmental cash flow information, 99
 - segmental performance measures, 97
 - total assets, total liabilities, and other asset items for each reportable segment, 98
 - types of products and services from which each reportable segment derives revenues, 96
- European Commission (EC), 129
- European Economic Area (EEA), 13

- European Union (EU), 11
- Expense items disclose, 86–87
- Fair value model, 27, 49
- “Financial debt” account, 69
- Financial disclosure, 5
- Financial reporting (See also International auditing)
 - accounting period for data, 7
 - in airline industry, 4–5
 - considering diversity, harmonization, and airline industry, 5–6
 - constraint of research, 7
 - credibility, 139
 - data, 6–7
 - findings, 7
 - framework in airline industry at present, 9–16
 - framework in airline industry in past, 7–9
 - observations related to IFRS
 - adoption from perspective of airlines’ financial statements, 16–19
 - research methodology, 7
- Financial Reporting Council (FRC), 134
- Financial statements, 128
 - observations on IAS 1 presentation of, 30–41
 - observations related to IFRS
 - adoption from perspective of airlines, 16–19
- Financial Supervisory Commission
(FSC), 10–11, 18
- Financing, 26
 - cash flows, 42, 43
 - leases, 147
- First-in first-out (FIFO), 23
- Frequent-Flyer Programme
 - Accounting, 28
- Full retrospective method (FRM),
61, 63
- Garuda Indonesia, 14
- Geographical allocation of assets, 88,
95, 122
- GOL Linhas Aereas, 8, 9, 38, 140, 147
- Good auditing practice in Finland,
129
- Gross profit, 92
- Group materiality, 154, 155
- Harmonization, 5–6
- Hedge accounting, KAMs related to,
149
- Hong Kong Financial Reporting
Standards (HKFRS), 10
- Hong Kong Institute of Certified
Public Accountants
(HKICPA), 10
- Hong Kong Stock Exchange (HKSE),
10
- IAS 1, 27
 - observations on IAS 1 presentation
of financial statements, 30–41
- IAS 16 (PPE), 27, 43–45
- IAS 2 (inventory), 27, 43–45
- IAS 36 (impairment of assets), 60
- IAS 38 (intangible assets), 27, 43–45, 60
- IAS 40 (investment property), 27,
43–45
- IAS 7, 27
 - observations on IAS 7 statement of cash flows, 41–43
- Icelandair, 13
- Identity of CODM, 88–89
- IFRIC 13 (Customer Loyalty Programmes), 52
- IFRIC 15 (Agreements for Construction of Real Estate), 52
- IFRIC 18 (Transfers of Assets from Customers), 52
- IFRS 15 (revenue from contracts with customers), 52
 - effect of adoption of IFRS 15 in airline industry, 63–66
 - effects on income statement, 70–71
 - effects on statement of financial position, 66–70

- first-time adoption of, 63
 - literature review on cumulative effect of IFRS 15 and IFRS 16, 59
 - literature review on effect of IFRS 15, 55
- IFRS 16 (Leases), 54–55
 - analysis of disclosures under IFRS 16, 77–78
 - effects on income statement, 70–71
 - effects on statement of financial position, 66–70
 - first-time adoption of, 63
 - IFRS 15 and IFRS 16 effects on statement of cash flows, 71
 - literature review on cumulative effect of IFRS 15 and IFRS 16, 59
 - literature review on effect of IFRS 16, 55–59
- IFRS 3 (Business Combinations), 60
- IFRS 8 (operating segments), 82–84
 - analysis of segment reporting in global context, 117–123
 - data, 89
 - entity-wide disclosures, 87–88
 - factors used to identify airline's reportable segments, 85
 - findings, 90
 - identity of CODM, 88–89
 - income and expense items disclosed, 86–87
 - items of disclosures required by IAS 14 and IFRS 8, 83
 - literature review on IFRS 8 segment reporting in airline industry, 89
 - nature and number of segments reported by airlines, 84–85
 - observations on segment reporting in Americas, 90–95
 - observations on segment reporting in Asia-Pacific, 107–112
 - observations on segment reporting in China and Northern Asia, 112–117
 - observations on segment reporting in Europe, 95–101
 - observations on segment reporting in Middle East and Africa, 101–107
 - proportion of total revenues represented by separately reportable segments, 85
 - reporting currency in segment reporting, 86
 - research methodology, 89–90
 - segmental cash flow information, 87
 - segmental performance measures, 85–86
 - total assets, total liabilities, and other asset items for each reportable segment, 86
 - types of products and services from which each reportable segment derives revenues, 85
- Income
 - IFRS 15 and IFRS 16 effects on income statement, 70–71
 - items disclose, 86–87
 - statement, 37–38
- Incremental-cost method, 28
- Independence, 139
- Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS), 14
- Indonesian Accounting Standards, 14
- Industry Accounting Working Group (IAWG), 6, 29, 53–54
- Information about major customers, 88
- Intangible assets, 27, 49
- Interest expenses, 58
- Interest paid, 26
- International Accounting Standards Committee, 9, 22, 52
- International Air Transport Association (IATA), 6, 28, 52, 84
- International auditing (See also Financial reporting)

- ISAs, 128–130
 - observations on communicating
 - concept of materiality in planning and performing audit under
 - observations on material
 - uncertainty related to going concern considering ISA, 132–133
 - observations related to audit firms and types of auditors, 130–131
 - observations related to auditors' opinions and related paragraphs of audit report, 131–132
 - observations related to content
 - analysis of KAMs in audit report considering ISA 701, 133–134
 - observations related to elements of describing KAMs in audit report considering ISA 701, 133
- International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board (IAASB), 128
- International Federation of Accountants (IFAC), 128
- International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), 5, 22, 82, 128
 - as adopted by Republic of Korea, 14
 - adoption, 14
 - determinants of IFRS adoption in airline industry, 16
 - effects on statement of cash flows, 71
 - jurisdictional versions of IFRS in airline industry, 16–19
 - New Zealand equivalents to, 14
 - observations related to IFRS
 - adoption from perspective of airlines' financial statements, 16
- International Standards on Auditing (ISAs), 128–129
 - ISA 700, 131
 - ISA 705, 131
 - ISA 706, 131
 - material uncertainty related to
 - going concern considering, 132–133
- Inventory, 27
- Investing, 26
- Investment property, 27
- ISA 701, 134–135
 - analysis of elements of describing KAMs in audit report, 142–146
 - audit firms in audit reports of airlines, 138–139
 - audit opinions in audit reports of airlines, 140
 - auditor types in audit reports of airlines, 139–140
 - content analysis of reporting KAMs in audit report of airlines, 146–150
 - data, 136–137
 - emphasis of matter and other matter paragraphs in audit reports of airlines, 140–141
 - findings, 138
 - literature review on international auditing in airline industry, 135–136
 - material uncertainty related to going-concern in audit reports of airlines, 141–142
 - observations on materiality in planning and performing audit under, 134–135
 - observations related to content
 - analysis of KAMs in audit report considering, 133–134
 - observations related to elements of describing KAMs in audit report considering, 133
 - research methodology, 138
- Israeli Auditing Standards, 129

- Japan Airlines, 14
- Japan GAAP, 14
- Jet airplanes, 4
- “Jumbo jets”, 4
- Jurisdictional IFRS*, 14
- Key audit matters (KAMs), 132–133, 135–136, 142–143
 - analysis of elements of describing KAMs in audit report, 142
 - content analysis of reporting KAMs in audit report of airlines, 146
 - materiality in audit reports of airlines, 150–154
 - observations related to content analysis of KAMs in audit report considering ISA 701, 133–134
 - observations related to elements of describing KAMs in audit report considering ISA 701, 133
 - patterns of diversified elements of describing KAMs in auditor context, 144–146
 - patterns of elements of describing KAMs in global context, 143–144
 - rare KAMs, 149
 - related to aircraft assets and other PPE items, 147–148
 - related to hedge accounting, 149
 - related to lease accounting, 147
 - related to revenue recognition, 146–147
 - very rare KAMs, 149–150
- Korean Air, 86
- Korean Standards on Auditing, 130
- LATAM Airlines Group, 9
- Latam, 94
- Lease accounting, KAMs related to, 147
- “Lease debt” account, 69
- Liquidity ratios, 71–73
- Location method, 88
- “Location” method, 122
- Malaysian Financial Reporting Standards (MFRS), 14
- Mandatory disclosures of AF-KLM, 79
- Material uncertainty
 - related to going concern considering ISA, 132–133
 - related to going-concern in audit reports of airlines, 141–142
- Materiality
 - analysis of rationales behind group and company materiality benchmarks, 152
 - in audit reports of airlines, 150
 - declaration of group and company materiality in audit reports, 151–152
 - declaration of materiality related information in audit reports, 150–151
 - declaration of performance materiality in audit reports, 152–154
 - monetary and percentage value of group, company, and performance materiality, 154, 155
 - in planning and performing audit under ISA 701, 134–135
 - scope of audit, 154–156
- Matrix geographic regions, 84
- Matrix line of business, 84
- Mauritius Financial Reporting Act, 140
- Middle East
 - case of airlines from, 65
 - entity-wide disclosures, 105–106
 - factors used to identify airline’s reportable segments, 102
 - financial reporting in airline industry in, 14
 - identity of CODM, 106–107
 - income and expense items disclosed, 104–105

- nature and number of segments reported by airlines, 101
- observations on segment reporting in, 101
- proportion of total revenues represented by separately reportable segments, 103
- reporting currency, 104
- segmental cash flow information, 105
- segmental performance measures, 103
- total assets, total liabilities, and other asset items for each reportable segment, 104
- types of products and services from which each reportable segment derives revenues, 102–103
- Mixed geographic regions, 84
- Mixed line of business, 84
- Modified retrospective method (MRM), 63
- National Accounting Standards, 14
- National Audit Office, 138
- Net assets, 33
- Network approach, 88
- New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), 8
- No disclosure method, 88
- Non-Big 4 audit firms, 131
- Northern Asia
 - case of airlines from, 65
 - entity-wide disclosures, 116–117
 - factors used to identify airline's reportable segments, 113
 - financial reporting in airline industry in, 10–11
 - identity of CODM, 117
 - income and expense items disclosed, 115
 - nature and number of segments reported by airlines, 112
 - observations on segment reporting in, 112
 - proportion of total revenues represented by separately reportable segments, 113–114
 - reporting currency, 114
 - segmental cash flow information, 115
 - segmental performance measures, 114
 - total assets, total liabilities, and other asset items for each reportable segment, 114–115
 - types of products and services from which each reportable segment derives revenues, 113
- Norwegian Air, 13
- One-statement approach, 23
- OneWorld, 13
- Operating cash flow, 26
- Operating entities, 84
- Operating profit, 26, 85
- Origin method, 88
- Performance materiality, 154, 155
- Philippine Standards on Auditing, 130
- Philippines Financial Reporting Standards, 14
- Prevailing audit regulations in Spain, 129
- Professional ethics, 129
- Professional standards applicable in France, 129
- Profitability
 - indicators, 4
 - ratios, 75–77
- Property, plant, and equipment (PPE), 23, 27, 43–45
- Proportionate consolidation, 29
- Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB), 128
- Pure geographic regions, 84
- Pure line of business, 84

- Qatar Airways Company (QAC), 59
- Rare KAMs, 149
- Ratio analysis, 77
- Reportable segments
- factors used to identify airline's reportable segments, 85
 - proportion of total revenues represented by separately reportable segments, 85
 - types of products and services from which each reportable segment derives revenues, 85
- Reporting
- assets, 36
 - currency in segment reporting, 86
- Revaluation model, 27
- Revenue, 52 (See also Assets)
- from contracts with customers, 28
 - from external customers for products and services, 87, 93–94, 121
 - by geographical areas, 87–88, 94, 122
 - KAMs related to revenue recognition, 146–147
- ROA, 57–59, 75, 77
- ROE, 57–59, 75, 77
- Romanian Accounting Standards (RAS), 131
- Royal Jordanian Airlines Company (RJ), 59
- Ryanair, 12
- Saudi Airlines Catering (SAC), 59
- Segment information, 82
- “Segment profit”, 92
- Segment related disclosures, 82
- Segment reporting, 82 (See also Financial reporting)
- analysis in global context, 117–123
 - other asset items for each reportable segment, 86
- Segmental cash flow information, 87
- in Americas, 93
 - in Asia-Pacific, 110
 - in China and Northern Asia, 115
 - in Europe, 99
 - in Middle East and Africa, 105
- Segmental performance measures, 85–86
- in Americas, 92
 - in Asia-Pacific, 109
 - in China and Northern Asia, 114
 - in Europe, 97
 - in Middle East and Africa, 103
- Segments primarily include geographic regions, 84
- Segments primarily include lines of business, 84
- SIC-31 Revenue–Barter Transactions Involving Advertising Services, 52
- Singapore Financial Reporting Standards (International) (SFRS(I)), 14
- Singapore Standards on Auditing, 130
- Single segment, 84
- Skyteam, 13
- Solvency ratios, 73–75
- Sri Lanka Auditing Standards, 130
- Sri Lanka Financial Reporting Standards, 14
- Star Alliance, 13
- Statement of comprehensive income (SOI), 25, 39, 40, 48
- Statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income (SOPLOCI), 39–40
- Statement of Recognized Income and Expense (SORIE), 23, 40
- Straight-line method, 29, 45, 49
- Thai Airways International, 14–15
- Thai Financial Reporting Standards, 14
- Total assets, 33, 86
- Total liabilities, 86
- Traditional income statement, 25, 36

- Translation of Long-Term Foreign Currency Borrowings, 28
- Turkish Auditing Standards (TAS), 129
- Turkish Financial Reporting
 Standards (TFRS), 11
- Two-statement approach, 23

- Uniformity, 24, 28–29, 48
- United Arab Emirates (UAE), 8–9
- United States Generally Accepted
 Accounting Principles (US GAAP), 5

- Units of production, 29
- US Securities Exchange Commission
 (SEC), 9

- VietJet, 15
- Vietnamese Accounting Standards, 14
- Volaris, 9, 94, 95
- Voluntary disclosures of AF-KLM, 80

- Weighted average (WA), 23
- WestJet, 9, 140
- Whole business, 84, 90, 95, 101, 107,
 112, 117