

INDEX

- Absenteeism, 78, 80, 124
- Adaptive selling behavior, 101
- Agent
  - deception, 64
  - side coping, 60–63
- Behavioral strains, 120–122
  - relations of customer mistreatment with, 125–126
- Bi-directional relationships
  - employees, 77
  - stress relationship, 37
- “Blame the victim” approach, 61–62
- Broaden-and-build theory, 95, 97
- Burnout, 118, 120, 126
- Buyer–seller relationship, 14–16
- Call reluctance, 140
- Challenge stressor, 6–7
- Cognition activation model of stress, 6
- Conflict, 75, 96
- Conservation of resources theory (COR theory), 75–76
- Consumer behavior, stress in, 28–29
- Consumer researchers, 33
- Consumption
  - behavior, 34
  - consumption-related stress, 34
  - as source of stress, 34–36
- Contagion process, 81
- Coping behaviors, 139, 145–146
- Coping strategies, 144
- Core self-evaluations (CSE), 92, 96, 103–104
- Counterproductive work behavior (CWB), 118, 129
- Customer service, 71–72
  - orientation, 154
  - performance, 123
  - quality, 83
- Customer service stress
  - comparison with general workplace mistreatment, 122–123
  - current meta-analysis and hypotheses, 120
  - customer aggression, 119–120
  - customer mistreatment, 118–119
  - customer service relationship
    - with psychological strains, attitudinal strains, and perceived support, 124–125
  - inclusion criteria, 123
  - individual customer mistreatment, 127–128
  - limitations and future directions, 128–131
  - literature search, 123
  - method, 123
  - performance and behavioral strains, 121–122
  - psychological strain, job attitudes, and perceived work support, 120–121
  - relations of customer mistreatment with behavioral strains, 125–126
- Customer(s), 72–74
  - focus, 148

- incivility, 74
- mistreatment, 118–119, 123, 128, 130–131
- retaliation, 121
- satisfaction and loyalty, 74
- solutions, 7–9
- Defensive stereotyping, 64
- Distress, 36, 79, 139, 141
- Due diligence, 61
- Effective leader–follower relationships, 79
- Emotion(al)
  - contagion effects, 38, 42
  - emotion-focusing coping, 33
  - evocative event, 143
  - exhaustion, 75
  - labor, 38
  - strain, 118
  - well-being dimension, 94–95
- Employee
  - attitudes, 72
  - behavior influencing consumer stress, 41
  - employee–consumer satisfaction mirror, 37–38
  - health and well-being, 78
  - involvement initiatives, 80
  - mistreatment, 120
  - motivation, 72
  - satisfaction, 72
  - turnover, 52
- Empowerment, 92, 100, 104
- Financial incentives, 61
- Financial stressors, 140–141
- Front-line employees, 72
- Handling stress, 148
- Health-promoting factors, 94
- Healthy workplace movement, 78
- Hindrance stressor, 6–7, 13
- Hogan competency model (HCM), 146
- Hogan development survey (HDS), 149–150, 152–154, 154
  - and stress tolerance, 155–156
- Hogan personality inventory (HPI), 149, 151, 154
  - scales and stress tolerance, 154–155
- Inclusion criteria, 103, 123
  - in stress tolerance, 142–143
- Integrity, 64–65, 147–148, 154
- Internal selling (see also Sales), 3, 6–7
  - antecedents of internal selling, 7–11
  - conceptual model, 7–18
  - feedback loop, 18
  - as job demand, 5–6
  - limitation and future research directions, 20–21
  - managerial implications, 19–20
  - moderators in internal selling–salespeople outcome relationships, 12–17
  - and role stress, 11–12
  - sales job in contemporary business world, 4–5
  - theoretical contributions, 19
- Interpersonal sensitivity, 155
- Interpersonal skills, 149
- Interpersonal stressors, 139–140
- Intrapersonal skills, 146, 148
- Job
  - analysis, 146
  - attitudes, 120–121
  - dissatisfaction, 118
  - engagement, 99
- Justice, 94–95, 109
- Knowledge, 80–81
  - knowledge-intensive economy, 92
- Leadership, 2, 14, 21, 81–82
  - charismatic, 82
  - on employee health and safety, 81–82
  - negative, 40
  - R.I.G.H.T. model, 83
  - role, 76–78
  - transformational, 76, 80, 82–83
- Leveraging people skills, 148–149

- Managerial styles, 92
- Market orientation, 12–13
- Meta-analysis
  - analytic approach, 105–106
  - coding process, 103–104
  - criterion categories, 104–105
  - domain of positive psychology, 93–102
  - of general mistreatment, 122
  - inclusion and exclusion criteria, 103
  - meta-analytic procedures, 150
  - method, 103
  - positive psychology variable categories, 104
  - rating-source categories, 105
  - results, 106–107
  - search strategy, 103
- Mindfulness, 36
- Mirroring process, 38
- Mistreatment, 118
- Motivation, 79, 98
- Motivational constructs, 99
- Multifoci justice theory, 130

- National Advertising Division (NAD), 60–61
- Negative emotions, 32–33, 118
- Networking ability, 16–17
- Neuroticism, 96, 145, 148

- Occupational health, 41
- Occupational stress, 52, 54, 57, 118
- Optimal coping, 62–63
- Optimism, 92, 97–98, 104
- Organization(al), 38, 71–72, 143
  - behavior, 95
  - citizenship behaviors, 79
  - dynamics, 65–66
  - and environmental factors, 92
  - leaders, 81
  - organization-directed CWB, 129
  - stress, 40

- Perceptions
  - of support, 120
  - of time constraint, 32

- Performance strain, 121–122
  - relations of customer service with, 124–125
- Personality, 139, 143, 145
  - assessment, 154
  - differences, 145
  - HDS and stress tolerance, 155–156
  - HPI scales and stress tolerance, 154–155
  - impact on stress coping behavior, 149
  - interpreting stress tolerance through, 154
  - measures, 156–157
  - stress tolerance assessment using, 144–145
- Persuasion
  - agent stressors, 63
  - agents, 61
  - persuasion-tasked employees, 59
  - potential stressors in persuasion encounter, 58–60
- Persuasion knowledge (PK), 54
- Persuasion knowledge model (PKM), 52–53
  - to account for agent's side of interaction, 55–58
  - agent side coping, 60–63
  - conceptual model of agent side coping, 53
  - negative repercussions for consumers and firms, 63–66
  - potential stressors in persuasion encounter, 58–60
  - principles, 54–55
- Positive attitude, 148
- Positive organizational behavior (POB), 95
- Positive psychology, 103, 143
  - positive psychology–sales performance relationship, 102
  - researchers, 103
  - variable categories, 104
- Positive psychology constructs, 92–93, 95–96
  - as buffering variables, 96

- as facilitators of job tasks, 100–101
  - as motivators, 99
  - sales performance, 102
- Positive psychology domain, 93
  - adaptability, 101
  - common-method influences, 103
  - core self-evaluations, 96
  - empowerment, 100
  - engagement, 99
  - hope, 96–97
  - optimism, 97–98
  - POB, 95
  - proactivity, 101–102
  - PsyCap, 98
  - resilience, 98
- Predictor, 106
  - predictor-criterion relationships, 105
  - of stress tolerance coping behaviors, 148–153
- Pro-social behaviors, 14
  - consumer behaviors, 36
- Proactive strategies, 155
- Proactivity, 92, 101–102, 104
- Professionalism, 148
- Psychological capital (PsyCap), 17, 92, 98, 104, 143
- Psychological strain, 75, 118, 120–121, 139
- Psychological stress, 31
- Psychological well-being, 94–95
- Psychologically healthy workplace, 78
  - growth and development, 80–81
  - health and safety, 81
  - involvement, 80
  - recognition, 79–80
  - teamwork, 82
- Resilience, 92, 98, 104
- Retail therapy, 30
- Reward and recognition, 79
- Role stress, 3
- Role stressors, 2
- Sales (see also Internal selling)
  - agents, 52
  - focus, 148
  - rejection, 140
  - roles, 138
  - sales-focused behaviors, 147
  - sales-specific competencies, 146
  - sales-specific stress tolerance competencies, 149
  - stress in, 139–141
- Sales call anxiety (SCA), 140
- Sales jobs, 2–3
  - in contemporary business world, 4–5
- Sales performance, 105
  - as cause of positive psychology constructs, 102
  - criteria, 106
- Sales personnel, 138–139
  - stress tolerance behaviors for, 145–148
- Salespeople, 2, 56, 59, 92
  - active engagement in internal selling, 3
- Salesperson performance, 92, 95–96, 98
- Satisfaction mirror, 29
- Schneider's attraction–selection–attrition mechanism, 105
- Self-perception
  - model, 60, 65
  - theories of unethical behavior, 53
- Service
  - climate, 13–14
  - economies, 118
  - employees, 73–74
  - environment, 74–76
  - quality, 73
- Service-profit chain model, 72, 73, 83
  - leading psychologically healthy workplace, 78–82
  - role of leadership, 76–78
  - service environment, 74–76
- Social
  - acceptance, 94–95
  - actualization, 94–95
  - anxiety, 140
  - coherence, 94–95
  - contribution, 94–95

- exchange process, 80–81
- integrations, 94–95
- status, 10–11, 18
- stressors, 118
- well-being dimension, 94–95
- Store-induced stress, 35
- Stress (see also Customer service stress), 6, 28, 138
  - adding employees into consumer stress equation, 36–37
  - in consumer behavior, 28–29
  - coping, 30–34
  - customer–employee mirror process, 30
  - customer–employee stress mirroring downward spiral, 39
  - downward spiral, 41–42
  - employee behavior influencing consumer stress, 41
  - employee–consumer satisfaction mirror, 37–38
  - mirroring process, 39–40
  - moderating mechanisms, 42–43
  - reactions, 144
  - research, 19
  - research propositions and future directions, 38–43
- Stress in sales, 139, 157
  - financial stressors, 140–141
  - interpersonal stressors, 139–140
- Stress tolerance, 139, 141
  - assessment using personality, 144–145
  - behaviors for sales personnel, 145–148
  - HDS and, 155–156
  - HPI scales and, 154–155
  - implications, 156–157
  - individual differences in, 142–143
  - interpreting stress tolerance through personality, 154
  - predictors of stress tolerance
    - coping behaviors, 148–153
    - top rated sales competencies, 148
    - workplace behaviors, 146
- Stressor-emotion model, 58
- Stressors, 29, 34–36, 38, 75, 118, 139, 142
- Supervisors, 79
  - leadership behavior, 74
  - supervisory roles, 65
- Teamwork, 21, 79, 82
- Temperance, 94–95, 109
- Time management, 148
- Time stress, 31
- Traditional hiring criteria, 138
- Transactional leadership, 82
- Transactional stress theory, 3, 6
- Transformational leadership, 76–77, 80, 82–83
- Validation, 149
- Verbal communication, 148
- Well-being, 28–29, 36, 38, 52, 54, 57
  - customer–employee mirror process, 30
  - deficits, 34
  - dimensional model, 62
- Wells Fargo cross-selling fraud scandal, 51–52
- Work
  - aggression, 123
  - bullying, 123
  - environment, 139
  - incivility, 123
- Workplace
  - aggression, 119
  - mistreatment, 118–119
  - workplace-oriented personality assessment, 154