INDEX

Academic Subject Protocol	BookTalk Paired Novels, 123
(ASP), 55–56	BookTalk Sequence of Strategies
Access, 82–83	and Performance
Administering Running Records, 37	Assessments, 124
Adolescent literacy, 82	Brain research, 132–133
access vs. pathways, 82–83	,
achievement, 20	California Achievement Test, 89
focus on whole learner, 90–91	CCSS.ELA-Literacy.L.K.5, 43
framing in history, 85–86	Checking for understanding, 68
worked examples, 86–90	Chiropterologist, 39
Adolescents, 83–85, 91	Classical Conditioning Meme, 73
effective literacy-learning	Classrooms, 5, 44, 68
environment for, 87	atmosphere, 87
Alphabet books, 37	leveraging what students
Alphabetic principle, 160	bring to, 143
American Association of Colleges for	Cognitive challenge, 149–151
Teacher Education, 97	Coherence across instructional
Analogies, 41	settings, 148
Anti-rubrics, 78–79	Cohort model structure, 107
Appropriate pacing, 147	Collaborative for Academic, Social,
Assessment, 68–70	& Emotional Learning
Assistive instructional strategies, 150	(CASEL), 132
Association Advancing Quality in	Commercial programs, 138
Educator Preparation	Common Core State Standards, 82
(AAQEP), 97	Community
, ,	activism, 47–48
Best practices and strategies	efforts, 48
for teaching phonemic awareness,	schools, 48
163–168	Competencies, 40–42
for teaching phonics, 168–173	Conceptual knowledge, 151
Best practices in phonics instruction, 169	Consonant-vowel-consonant (CVC),
Big ideas, 146	172–173
Bloom's Taxonomy, 52–53	Constructively responsive questioning,
BookTalk Four Essay Prep	52–55
author's message quotes, 130	Coral reefs, 151–154
preliminary assignment, 127–128	Council for Accreditation of
BookTalk Four Writing Assignments,	Educator Preparation
125–127	(CAEP), 97, 99

182 INDEX

Link to National Board Certification, 104 Critically conscious value, 106 Culturally responsive pedagogy, 137 Culturally responsive teaching, 134 Culture, 22–23, 134 Curriculum, 137 Decodable texts, 172–173 Digital learning, 3 Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for for 8 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for for 6–8 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for for 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 8 Effective literacy-leaching, constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 Eissenhower Southwest Consortium for the Improvement of Mathematics and Science Teaching (ESCIMAST), 133 Engagement, motivation and, 145 Emglish learners (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–55 marrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between deson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction model, 106 Exerpt Yudent Succeeds Act, 132 Expert/novice" supervision m	Coursework and Faculty Projects	Ecosystem, 144
Certification, 104 Critically conscious value, 106 Culturally responsive pedagogy, 137 Culturally responsive teaching, 134 Culture, 22–23, 134 Curricula, 85 Curriculum, 137 Decodable texts, 172–173 Digital learning, 3 Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Fiffective teaching, constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 Eisenhower Southwest Consortium for the Improvement of Mathematics and Science Teaching (ESCIMAST), 133 Engagement, motivation and, 145 English learners (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 61 dearners, 87 Effective teaching, onstructively responsive questioning, 52–55 Eisenhower Southwest Consortium for the Improvement of Mathematics and Science Teaching (ESCIMAST), 133 Engagement, motivation and, 145 English learners (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around tire questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands Critically conscious value, 106 Culturally responsive pedagogy, 137 Culturally responsive teaching, 134 Curricula, 85 Curriculum, 137 Decodable texts, 172–173 Digital learning, 3 Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Effective teaching, constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 Eisenhower Southwest Consortium for the Improvement of Mathematics and Science Teaching (ESCIMAST), 133 Engagement, motivation and, 145 English learners (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated for duestroining, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implemention giteracies
Culturally responsive pedagogy, 137 Culturally responsive teaching, 134 Culture, 22–23, 134 Curricula, 85 Curriculum, 137 Decodable texts, 172–173 Digital learning, 3 Digital learning, 3 Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary plearning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Eisenhower Southwest Consortium for the Improvement of Mathematics and Science Teaching (ESCIMAST), 133 Engagement, motivation and, 145 English learners, (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 62–65 narrowing ap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around tree dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around tree dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty i	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
Culturally responsive teaching, 134 Culture, 22–23, 134 Curriculum, 137 Curriculum, 137 Decodable texts, 172–173 Digital learning, 3 Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary learnes, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Fractual errors, 71 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Eisenhower Southwest Consortium for the Improvement of Mathematics and Science Teaching (ESCIMAST), 133 Engagement, motivation and, 145 English learners (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Facility research productivity, 105 Facility responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementation, 106 explication, 52–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 52–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language pr
Culture, 22–23, 134 Curriculum, 137 Curriculum, 137 Decodable texts, 172–173 Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Fractual errors, 71 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Eisenhower Southwest Consortium for the Improvement of Mathematics and Science Teaching (ESCIMAST), 133 Engagement, motivation and, 145 English learners (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–55 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Facility research productivity, 105 Facility responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in progr
Curriculum, 137 Curriculum, 137 Decodable texts, 172–173 Digital learning, 3 Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 for the Improvement of Mathematics and Science Teaching (ESCIMAST), 133 Bangagement, motivation and, 145 English learners (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–55 marrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Expert/novice' supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance		Eisenhower Southwest Consortium
Curriculum, 137 Decodable texts, 172–173 Digital learning, 3 Digital learning, 3 Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary labits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Mathematics and Science Teaching (ESCIMAST), 133 Engagement, motivation and, 145 English learners (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 52–57 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 55–57 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 55–57 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 62–65 narrowing ap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing ap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing ap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 52–61 na
Decodable texts, 172–173 Digital learning, 3 Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Teaching (ESCIMAST), 133 Engagement, motivation and, 145 English learners (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 55–57 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 52–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous implementing differentiated questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing
Decodable texts, 172–173 Digital learning, 3 Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies arely research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 English learners (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 53–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement,	Curriculani, 137
Digital learning, 3 Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 English learners (ELs), 52 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 55–57 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 55–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 52–57 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 55–57 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 52–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 52–65 narowing gap teven lesson task demands and language proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty in program leadership role	Decodable texts 172–173
Digital literacies, 4 for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 constructively responsive questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–57 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 55–67 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 52–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 53–64 Ethical value, 106 Expert/novice* supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Factual errors for disciplinary learning, 6–8 extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary labits of practice, 5 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 questioning, 52–55 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 52–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance extending and deepening pedagogies and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 maps for planning and implementing differentiated questioning, 55–57 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance and practices, 10–11 framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Factual errors, 71 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 improvement, 107 implementing differentiated questioning, 55–57 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 55–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance framework for intersections, 5–6 problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Guestioning, 55–57 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Facility resear problematizing and critical examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 modifying input to calibrate levels of questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance examination of pedagogies and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 of questioning, 62–65 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 53–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance and practices, 11–12 youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 narrowing gap between lesson task demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance youth deserve in, 8–9, 13 Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Farly literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 demands and language proficiency, 57–61 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance Digital tools, 6 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance Disciplinary habits of practice, 5 Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Organizing instruction around three dimensions of linguistically responsive questioning, 6161–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance Disciplinary learning, digital literacies for, 6–8 responsive questioning, Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 Exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 Exemplary processes, 21–29 Exemplary pro for, 6–8 Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 Exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners early literacy learners learly literacy learners learly literacy learners learly literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 responsive questioning, 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance Disciplinary literacies, 4–5 early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 61–62 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance early research and implementation, 18–21 exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 English proficiency, 63–64 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Ethical value, 106 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance exemplary processes and promising practices, 21–29 framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Every Student Succeeds Act, 132 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance
framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Exemplary processes, 21–29 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Focus on continuous Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance		The state of the s
framework for intersections, 5–6 instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 "Expert/novice" supervision model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance instructional focus across grades, 19 DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 model, 106 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance
DNA of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Explicit teaching, 147–148 Extended text sets, 150–151 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	-
of learning, 68 strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Extended text sets, 150–151 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance		The state of the s strand model, 69 Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance
Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Focus on continuous Early literacy learners improvement, 107 reasonable expectations for, 38 Factual errors, 71 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance		2
Early literacy community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 Faculty research productivity, 105 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 Feedback, 68, 70 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Focus on continuous Early literacy learners improvement, 107 reasonable expectations for, 38 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty in program leadership roles, 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Focus on continuous	strana model, os	Factual errors, 71
community activism, 47–48 competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 104–105 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance	Early literacy competencies, 40–42 early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Faculty research productivity, 105 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance early readers struggle, 34–35 in home, 35–40 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Failure to thrive (FTT), 43 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance in home, 35–40 Feedback, 68, 70 realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Focus on continuous Early literacy learners improvement, 107 reasonable expectations for, 38 Feedback, 68, 70 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous Functional magnetic resonance	- · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · realities for some children, 43–47 standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Field experience approach, 106 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance standards for early literacy learners, 42–43 Early literacy learners reasonable expectations for, 38 Final reflective thoughts, 138–139 Focus on continuous improvement, 107 Functional magnetic resonance learners, 42–43 Focus on continuous Early literacy learners improvement, 107 reasonable expectations for, 38 Functional magnetic resonance Early literacy learners improvement, 107 reasonable expectations for, 38 Functional magnetic resonance reasonable expectations for, 38 Functional magnetic resonance	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · reasonable expectations for, 38
	standards for, 42–43	imaging (fMRI), 70

Index 183

Games, 75 Gamification, 74–76 Gaming, 74–76	Learning, 147 DNA of, 68 language, 75
Generation Z, 84	sourcing processes, 27
Gold standard, 99	Lesson task demands, 57–61
Grammatical ambiguity, 41	Lexical ambiguity, 41
	Linguistic simplification, 62
Heterogeneous grouping, 88	Linguistically responsive questioning, 54
High frequency word reading, 172	instruction around three
Humor, 42	dimensions of, 61–62
	Literacy, 82, 131–132
ILA Teacher Preparation	analysis, 116–120
Taskforce, 97	coaching, 104
Inequities in Literacy Education,	development, 3
43–48	leaders in field, 105
Inferences, 40–41	leadership, 104
Inquiry, 11	mentoring, 106
cycles, 23–25	pedagogies, 13
learning, 8, 11	practices of promise, 135–139
Inquisitive value, 106	scholars, 35
Instruction, 68–70	SEL, 132–134
impact, 87–90	teacher preparation programs, 96
Instructional change, 23	Literacy education (LE), 98
Instructional dimensions	Literacy instruction
accelerating reading	call for change, 143–144
and promote learning,	cognitive challenge, 149–151
144–151	instructional dimensions
Instructional improvement, 23	accelerating reading
Instructional intensity, 147	and promote learning,
Intellectual value, 106	144–148
Interactionists, 62	understanding coral reefs,
International Literacy Association	151–154
(ILA), 68, 96, 97	Literacy teacher preparation and
National Recognition, 99–100	certification
National Recognition Moving	context, 96–99
Literacy Preparation	ILA national recognition, 99–100
Forward, 101–102	ILA National Recognition Moving
National Recognition with	Literacy Preparation
Distinction, 99–100	Forward, 101–102
Internet, 4	National Recognition with and research, 153	Distinction, 99–100
and research, 155	UTSA, 105–108
Vnowledge goals 145 146
Knowledge goals, 145–146	WVU LE Program, 102–105
Lamanaga masfaiana - 57 (1	Literature, 136–137
Language proficiency, 57–61	Motohing toyte to students 140 150
Language-intensive, 56–57	Matching texts to students, 149–150

Matrix, 76–78

Learners, 56

184 INDEX

	71 1 170 161
Metacognitive and strategic	Phonics, 159–164 behaviors, 147	best practices and strategies for
"Mini-bosses", 75	teaching, 168–173
Misconception, 71	caveats and lingering questions
Monopoly, 74	about, 173–176
Motivation and engagement, 145	scope and sequence, 169
Multicultural literature, 136	Phonics instruction, 38–39
Multiple-meaning words, 41	Phonics knowledge in other connected texts, 173
National Advisory Committee	in texts with some level of
(NAC), 105	decodability, 172–173
National Assessment of	Picture books, 37
Education Progress	Practices
(NAEP), 97	extending and deepening, 10–11
National Association for Multicultural	problematizing and critical
Education, 134	examination of, 11–12
National Council for Accreditation	Print-only resources, 7
of Teacher Education	Procedural errors, 71
	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
(NCATE), 97, 99	Procedural knowledge, 147
National Recognition, 107	Professional value, 106
Negotiation, 62	Promising practices, 21–29
Neighborhood realities for young	Purpose, 121
children, 47	problem with, 112–113
Network of Educators on Americas	relevance as key to, 113–114
(NECA), 56
Networked communication	Questioning, 52 tools, 4	maps for planning and
Nursery rhymes, 36–37	implementing differentiated,
	55–57
Online information, 4	modifying input to calibrate levels of, 62–65
Pathways, 82–83
Pedagogies, 9	RAND model, 21–22
extending and deepening, 10–11	of reading comprehension, 22
problematizing and critical	RAND Reading Study Group examination of, 11–12	(RRSG), 21–22
Pew Internet and American Life	Reader response, sequenced survey, 3	instruction in, 115–116
Phonaesthetics, 36	Reading
Phonemes, 160	to children, 36
Phonemic awareness, 159–164	to deepen understanding, 152
best practices and strategies for	disability, 35
teaching, 163–168	Realities
caveats and lingering questions	for children in lower elementary about, 173–176	school years, 45–46
testing, 38	for some children, 43–47
· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	101 001110 0111101011, 10 17

Index 185

Referential relationships, 41	Syllable awareness, 160
Relationship building, 146	Synonymy, 43
Research, 133	Systematic observation, 37 commitment, 107
internet and, 153	Targeting students' needs, 148
Resources, 137	Tasks, 22–23
Rhyme/rhyming, 36–37, 175	Teacher Education Accreditation
Routines	Council (TEAC), 97
development, 170-171	Teachers, 134
support students in, 171	Teaching Tolerance.org, 137
	Technology, 3
Scaffolding, 147–148	Text selection, 146
Scholars, 134	Texts, 22–23
"Screening" instruments, 42	3-D models of cell division, 6
Seductive efficiency, 38	Time, 37
SEL Toolkits, 138	Timely and efficacious
Self-efficacy, 146	feedback, 148
Sequenced instruction, 112	Timely feedback, 147
problem with purpose, 112–113	Timely support, 83
in reader response, 115–116	Tracking, 89
from reader response to literary	Transcription errors, 71
analysis, 116–120	Transformational errors, 71
relevance as key to purpose,	Transformative value, 106
113–114	TREAD verbs, 56, 58
Single-point anti-rubric, 78	Tuition model, 105
SLIDE verbs, 56	Tutoring, 106
Sliding scale anti-rubric, 78–79	Twenty-first Century Assessment,
Social and personal competencies	72–74
(SPC), 138
Social-emotional learning (SEL),	University of Texas at San Antonio
132–134, 138	(UTSA), 96
Social-media platforms, 90	UTSA, 105–108
Sociocultural context, 23
Standards for early literacy learners,	Value-driven program, 106
42–43	Verbs, 56
Standards Revision Committee	Virtual reality applications, 6
(SRC), 98	Vocabulary expectations, 42
Stanford Achievement Test, 89	Vocabulary Levels Test, 62
Story mapping, 39
Students, 22–23	West Virginia University (WVU), 96
choice, 146	Whole Learner, 90–91
improvement, 120	Writing assignment, 112
work analysis, 71–72	WVU LE Program, 102–105
Success as greatest motivator, 91
Supportive learning environment, 135	Youth deserve digital literacies, 8–13