INDEX

Academic experiences of Black girls with disabilities, 120–122 discipline and teacher bias, 120–121 educational opportunity and teacher bias, 121–122 educational/academic outcomes, 120–122
Academic skills, 14–15
Adaptive cultures, 9
Adultification of Black girls, 209
Aesthetic resistance, 188
African American elementary girls, 210
  identity model, 51
  people, 186
  women, 210, 213
Afrocentric feminist epistemology, 190–191, 193
"Am I: Too African to be American or Too American to be African?" (documentary film), 153
American preK-12 school systems, 101–102
Americans with Disabilities Act, 120
Androgynous leadership style, 208–209, 212–213
"Antagonism", 59
Anti-oppressive educators, 19
Anxiety, 99–100
Attachment, 13
"Aversive racism", 213

Beauty identity examinations among Black women, 188
Behavioral science research, 99
Bicultural negotiation, 141–143
Bio-ecological framework, 9
Bioecological model, 9
Biracial girls school experiences of, 70–73
  sociohistorical context, 70–71
Biraciality, 71, 73, 88–89
Black aesthetic, 186
Black African immigrants, 140
  girls approach, 143–144
  in United States, 140–141
Black Athlete Sister Circle (BASC), 111–113
Black college women's coping strategies, 199
Black community, 1
Black educators
  early childhood education and development of Black girls, 33–34 guiding framework, 31–32
  policy, 46
  practice, 45–46
  racial-ethnic identities development in young children, 31–32
  reflections from classroom, 35–43
  research, 44–45
  supporting Black girls in early childhood, 34
Black females, 17, 211
Black feminist, 187
  thinkers, 189
  thought, 188–190
Black Feminist Thought (BFT), 102–103
Black girl experience critical race theory and critical race feminism, 55–60
  friendships, 58–60
  implications, 61–62
  intersectionality, 53
  policy, 62

practice, 61–62
racial and gender identity development, 51–55
research, 62
socialization of Black girls, 53–55
Black girl student-athletes, 96, 100–101
centrality of Black girl student-athletes' experiences, 97 classroom experiences and disciplinary sanctions, 98–99
coach as influencer, 107–109
data collection and analysis, 104–105 enhancing educator preparedness, 110–114 experience stereotype, 100
findings, 105–110
frames for understanding racialized and gendered experiences, 98–100 identity at intersection of "black girl" and "student-athlete", 100–102 interact with peers, 109–110
school diversity and fitting in, 105–107 stereotypes and difference, 99–100 stories in preK-12, 102–105
theoretical framework, 103–104
Black Girlhood Studies, 100–101
Black girls, 31, 207–208, 210
academic experiences of, 120–122
challenges faced by, 208–214
in curriculum, 38
with disabilities, 127–132
discipline disparities for, 17
early childhood education and development of, 33–34 encouraging Black girls to lead and develop positive self-concept, 40
executive women, 212–214
helping Black girls understand feelings and emotions, 38–39
to play and navigate girlhood, 39
postsecondary and early career, 210–212
postsecondary readiness, 122–127
recommendations for policy, 133
recommendations for practice, 132–133
recommendations for research, 133
school age, 208–210
school counselors and school psychologists working together, 127–132
supporting Black girls in early childhood, 34
Black immigrant, 138–139
students, 139–140
women, 139–140
Black Lives Movement, 1
Black male masculinity, 16
Black natural hair channels, 202
Black people, 187
Black undergraduate women, 162 barriers to engagement, 179–180 impact of campus climate, 174, 178, 180–181
College Student Report, 169
data analysis, 170
engagement in service-learning, research with faculty member, or internships, 170–171 extent of engagement with HIPs, 178–179 factors contribute to Black undergraduate women's engagement or non-engagement, 171 HIPs, 164–166
instrumentation, 169–170
internships, co-ops, career preparation experiences, 166 knowledge of HIPs, 171–178
lack of knowledge, 179–180

methods, 167–170
participants and procedures, 168–169
purpose of study, 166
recommendations for policy, 182
recommendations for practice, 181
recommendations for research, 181
research design, 167–168
research with faculty, 165–166
results, 170–178
semi-structured interview protocol, 169–170
service-learning, 165
significance of study, 167
student engagement, 162–164
theoretical framework, 166–167
Black women, 187, 207–208
access to natural communities, 199–200
being in community of sisters, 201–202
Black feminist thought, 188–190
challenges faced by, 208–214
collegians' experiences, 190
data analysis, 193
educational settings, 215–216
executive women, 212–214
experiences going natural in college, 187
findings, 198–202
hair, and beauty, 188
leaders, 212
learning and loving self, 200–201
methods, 190–198
participants, 194–195, 198
policy, 217
positionality, 191–192
postsecondary and early career, 210–212
prevalence of respectability politics, 198–199
purpose of study, 187
racial battle fatigue, 188
recommendations, 214–218
recommendations for policy, 204
recommendations for practice, 203–204
recommendations for research, 202–203
recruitment and data collection, 192–193
research, 217–218
school age, 208–210
within school environment, 2–3
site of study, 192
social realities of, 2–3
study significance, 187
trustworthiness, 193–194
work settings, 216–217
and young girls, 1–2
Black-White biracial girls, 3–4
Black-White biracial women academic literature context, 72–73 background coloring school experiences of biracial girls, 70–73 balancing influences of home–school connections, 85–87 bringing work to life through application, 87–91
data analysis, 74–76
data and methods, 73–77
data sources, 73–74
home and school as connected places, 87
learning experiences of, 70
learning from biracial women's reflections on elementary experiences, 77–87
makings of "school" contexts, 79–82
mutually constitutive experiences, 77–79
policy, 90–91
practice, 89–90
research, 88–89
researcher positionality, 76–77
theoretical framing, 73
unwritten curriculum, 82–85
Black-White female gap, 8
#BlackGirlMagic, 54

#BlackLivesMatter, 1–3
Blackness, 3–4, 51–52, 70–71, 87–88, 139
Brown girls, 210

Campus climate, impact of, 174–178
Career preparation experiences, 166
Categorical content approach, 104
"Circuits of dispossession", 19
Classism, 56–57, 198–199
Classroom
  addressing race and racism in, 42–43
  experiences, 98–99
  reflection from, 35–43
  settings, 54
Co-Ops, 166
Coach as influencer, 107–109
Cognitive stimulation, 13
Cognitive-developmental theory, 52
College Student Report, 164, 169
College student-athletes, 112–113
Color silence, 32
"Colorblind" approach, 32
Colorism, 71, 73
"Conflict", 59
Consistent learner, 14, 33–34
Context-shaping identities, 77–79
Contextual factors, 60
Conventions on Rights of Child (CRC), 22
Create Respectful and Open World for Natural Hair Act (CROWN Act), 186, 204
Criminalization of Black girls, 50–51, 62
Crisis of educational exclusion, 8
Critical legal studies, 55–56
Critical race feminism (CRF), 56–57, 144–145
Critical Race Feminism (FemCrit), 9–10, 16, 55, 60
Critical race theory (CRT), 9, 50–51, 55, 60, 73, 165
Cultural negotiation, 148–149
Culturally based mentoring, 61
Culturally relevant pedagogy, 43
Culturally responsive interventions, 60
Culturally responsive teaching, 55
Curriculum, Black girls in, 38

Data analysis process, 193–194
Deficit-based discourses, 13–14
Dell Scholars Program, 139–140
Demographic shifts, 102
Developmental theorists, 31
Disciplinary sanctions, 98–99
Discipline disproportionality, 2–3
Discrimination, 9, 50–51, 211
Disidentification, 107
Disinvestment
  Black girls and women challenges faced as executive women, 214
  Black girls and women challenges faced in postsecondary and early career, 212
  Black girls and women challenges faced in school age, 210
Documenting Effective Educational Practice project (DEEP project), 164
Dualities in language and ways of speaking, 149–150

Early childhood, 31
  education and development of Black girls, 33–34
  program, 9
  supporting Black girls in, 34
Early childhood educators, 45
Early Childhood Longitudinal Study-Birth Cohort (ECLS-B Cohort), 12, 21–22, 33–34
Early education experiences, 15–16
Education system in United States, 8
Educational opportunity, 121–122
Educational stakeholders, 3–4
Educator interaction, 79

Educator preparedness
BASC, 112–113
call for teacher advocates, 113–114
enhancing, 110–114
entering relationship with Black girls, 111–112
practice, 111–114
research, 110–111
Educators, 45, 107
Emotions, helping black girls understanding, 38–39
Equity audits, 110–111
Essentialism, 52
Ethnicity, 194–196
"European-textured straight hair", 199–200
Excelling learner, 14, 33–34
Exclusionary practices, 16
Executive women
challenges faced by black girls and women in, 212–214
disinvestment, 212
disinvestment, 214
implicit bias, 213
invisibility/hypervisibility, 214
Experiential knowledge, 73
Expulsion, 11, 15
Eye tracking technology, 31

Familial structure, 12
Family, 53–54
engagement, 13–14
and home environment, 12–14
investment model, 12 working with, 61–62
Feelings, helping black girls understanding, 38–39
Feminine, 55
Film-based qualitative inquiry approach, 145–146
Firebird, 38
First-generation immigrant students, 138–139
Friendships, 58–60

Gates Millennium Scholars, 139–140
Gender, 52–54
bias, 207–208
challenges in postsecondary and early career, 211
challenges in school age, 209
development, 51–55
essentialism, 52
identity, 52
implications, 16–17
intersectionality, 53
Gendered microaggressions, 188
Gendered racial identity, 53
"Gendered racial penalty" for Black girls, 33
Girls Leading Outward intervention (GLO intervention), 215
"Glass cliff", 214
Gloria Ladson-Billings, 9
Good Hair documentary, 196
Gun-Free Schools Act (GFSA), 19

Health skills, 14–15
Heterosexism, 198–199
High impact practices (HIPs), 162, 164, 166
extent of engagement with, 178–179
knowledge of, 171–178
High school, 98
student-athletes' intelligence, 99–100
High-quality instruction, 18
Higher education, 3–4, 187
scholarships, 139–140
Home environment, 13
Home–school connections, balancing influences of, 85–87
Hypervisible, Black women leaders, 212
Hypodescent, 71

Identity development, 31
of Black girls, 51
through literacy practices, 143–144
Identity-shaping contexts, 77–79

Implicit bias
challenges as executive women, 213
challenges in postsecondary and early career, 211
challenges in school age, 209
Individualized Education Program (IEP), 123–124
Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEA), 123–125
Institutional racism, 9
Institutional Review Board, 168
Institutionalized racism, 50–51
Integrative model, 9
Interlocking systems of oppression, 188–189
Internships, 166, 171
Interpersonal power, 176
Intersectional approaches, 2–3
Intersectional identities
challenges in postsecondary and early career, 210–211
challenges in school age, 208–209
Intersectionality, 53, 166–167, 175–176, 210
Intersections of multiple racial identities, 73
Invisibility/hypervisibility
challenges as executive women, 214
challenges in postsecondary and early career, 211–212
challenges in school age, 209–210

Journal of African American Males in Education, 33

Kindergarten, 33–34
Black girls from preschool through, 14

Leadership
identity, 208
strategies, 212–213
Literacy
practices, 143–144
skills, 31
Little Rascals, The (short films), 96
Low birth weight (LBW), 14–15

Marginality, 208
Marginalization, 50, 57–58
Memoir, 73–74
Memos, 193–194
Mentoring, 61, 216
Misogynoir Black women, 186–187
Monoracism, 73
MultiCrit theory, 73, 88–89
Multiracial children, 72
Mutually constitutive experiences, 77–79
My Brother's Keeper Initiative (MBK Initiative), 11

Narrative inquiry approach, 104
National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP), 14
National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), 139
National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), 104
National Merit Scholarship, 139–140
National Office for School Counselor Advocacy (NOSCA), 127–128, 132
National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE), 162–163
Natural communities, access to, 199–200
Natural hair, 186
Black women's experiences with, 191
Black women's hair choices, 188
Black women's online engagement related to hair, 188
Black women's perceptions and decisions about hair, 188 community, 191, 196
community on YouTube, 196 examinations of good hair and beauty identity among Black women, 188

jurisdiction, 187
meaningfulness of, 186
women's experiences with, 186
Negative stereotypes, 100
Networks, 216–217
No Child Left Behind legislation, 119–120
Non-Black girls, 33

Office for Civil Rights (OCR), 33, 57
"One drop rule", 71
Online natural hair community, 201–202
Online YouTube community, 202
Oppression, 9, 187

P-16 Education, 153–155
bicultural negotiation, 141–143
Black immigrants living in United States, 138
cultural negotiation, 148–149
film-based qualitative inquiry approach, 145–146
findings, 147–153
identity development through literacy practices, 143–144
implication for policy, 153–154 implication for practice, 154–155
implication for research, 154
linked perceptions of students' gender identity and beauty, 152–153
literature review, 140–141
methodology, 145–147
procedure for data collection and analysis, 146–147
theoretical frameworks, 144–145
tumultuous racial identity formation, 150–152
Parent education, 12
Parenting, 13
Patriarchy, 207–208
Pedagogical practices for teachers and professors cognizant, 154–155
Pedagogy, 146
Peer relationships, learning through, 82–85
learning how to survive among peers, 82–85
Physical health, 14–15
Positionality, 191–192
Postsecondary and early career challenges faced by black girls and women in, 210–212
disinvestment, 212
implicit and gender bias, 211
intersectional identities, 210–211
invisibility/hypervisibility, 211–212
Postsecondary educational opportunity, 120
Postsecondary readiness, 122–127
school counselors role in, 125–127 school psychologist and school counselor collaboration, 123 school psychologists role in, 123–125
Power relations, 175–176
Predominantly White institution (PWI), 102–103
Predominately-white institutions (PWI), 163, 166
PreK–12
Black girl student-athletes' stories in, 102–105
education, 3–4
school contexts, 99
schooling, 2–3
Primary sampling units (PSUs), 22
Projects in Humanization (PiH), 76–77
Protections, Affection, Correction, and Connection (PACC), 17
Public school educators, 113

Qualitative approach, 191
Questionnaire, 169

Race in classroom, 42–43
Race in the Schoolyard, 9

Racial bias, 207–208
Racial disproportionality, 98
Racial identity, 51–52
  development, 51–55
  formation, 150–151
  intersectionality, 53
Racial socialization, 53
Racial-ethnic identities development in young children, 31–32
Racial-ethnic socialization literature, 72
Racialization, 139, 141
Racism, 9, 56–57, 73, 198–199, 211
  in classroom, 42–43
Recruitment and data collection, 192–193
Referential mnemonics development, 147
Reflection, 34–35
  addressing physical differences in classroom, 35–36
  addressing race and racism in classroom, 42–43 challenging narrative by noticing, 36–37
  from classroom, 35–43
  encouraging Black girls to lead and develop positive self-concept, 40
  Eric's comments about "dark" girls in class, 41
  helping black girls understand feelings and emotions, 38–39
  Nicole's mother's concerns about daughter's changed behavior, 42 providing positive examples of Black girls in curriculum, 38 providing spaces for Black girls to play and navigate girlhood, 39 reflections by David J. Johns, kindergarten teacher and third grade teacher, 40–43
  "Where's Your Crown?" reflections from Cierra Kaler-Jones, 37–40
  "You Are from Africa So You Have to Be Blacker", 35–37
Relational aggression, 3–4, 59–60, 62
Research methods, 4
Research with faculty member, 165–166, 171
  Black undergraduate women engagement in, 170–171
Researcher positionality, 76–77
Resistance, 189
Respectability politics, 198–199
  prevalence of, 198–199

#SayHerName, 2–3
School age
  challenges faced by black girls and women in, 208–210
  disinvestment, 210
  implicit and gender bias, 209
  intersectional identities, 208–209
  invisibility/hypervisibility, 209–210
School counselor
  collaboration, 123
  role in postsecondary readiness, 125–127
  working together, 127–132
School psychologist, 123
  role in postsecondary readiness, 123–125
  and school counselor collaboration, 123
  working together, 127–132
"School-to-prison pipeline", 20
School(s), 54
  Black girls marginalization in, 57–58
  curricula, 55
  diversity and fitting in, 105–107
  experiences of biracial girls, 70–73
  leaders, 46
  makings of "school" contexts, 79–82

school-based disciplinary policies, 55 success, 13–14
Science, technology, arts, and math (STEAM), 216
Science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM), 210
Second-generation immigrant students, 138–139
Self-reflection, 122–123
Semi-structured interview protocol, 169–170
Sense of belonging, 174–175
Service learning, 165, 170, 178–179
"Sex", 52
Sexism, 50–51, 56–57, 198–199
Sister Circle methodology, 112
Sisterhood, 50, 61
among Black girls, 60
networks, 3–4
sense of, 61
Snowball sampling method, 192–193
Social governance, 71
Social inequality, 174–175
Social learning theory, 52
Social media, 96–97
Social position, 9
Social psychology, 100
Social science research, 99
Social support, 122–123
Socialization, 51
of Black girls, 53–55
Societal perceptions, 54
Socio-emotional skills, 14–15
Socioeconomic status (SES), 12, 169–170, 175
Socioemotional development, 31
Sociopolitical consciousness, 32
Sport participation, 100
Sports, Black women in, 101–102
State of Florida v. George Zimmerman, 1
Stereotype, 100
of Black girls, 56–57
threat, 177
Structural power, 175–176
Struggling learner, 14, 33–34
Student(s)
achievement, 119–120
departure theory, 162–163
engagement, 162, 164
linked perceptions of students' gender identity and beauty, 152–153
student-teacher relationships, 44–45
Subjugation, 139
SuperScholar, 139–140
Suspensions, 11, 15, 21

Teacher bias, 121–122
Thematization process, 193
Time, 9
Tinto's theory, 162–163
Tipping point, 16
"Tokens", 212
Top-down policies, 90
"Transitioning", 187
Transnationalism, 144–145, 150
"Traumatic experience", 194–196
Trustworthiness, 193–194
Tumultuous racial identity formation, 150–152
Two-phase sequential explanatory mixed method, 4

United States
Black African immigrants in United States, 140–141
Black immigrants living in, 138–139
chattel slavery in, 71
racial subpopulations in, 70
Unwritten curriculum, 82–85
"Urban pedagogies", 21
US Department of Education, 50–51, 57
US preK-12 school system, 98–99

Verbal communication, 58
"Visibility/invisibility conundrum", 214

War on Poverty, 8
Welfare Queen, 10
White families, 13–14
White femininity, 17, 55
White privilege, 55–56, 207–208
White supremacy, 55–56
Whiteness, 3–4, 51–52
Woman civil rights leaders, 212
Workplace, 207–208
  Black women's hair in, 188

Young black girls academic, socio-emotional, and health skills, 14–15
  conceptual framework, 9–10
  early education experiences, 15–16
  family and home environment, 12–14
  gender implications, 16–17
  making experiences of, 8–22
  making young black girls' experiences visible, 17–18 policy implications, 19–21
  practice implications, 18–19
  research implications, 21–22 urgency to focus on young black girls' early educational experiences, 10–11 young black girls' early years, 12–16
YouTube channels of natural hair community, 196

Zero Tolerance Policies, 19, 21