

Index

Note: Page numbers followed by “n” indicate notes.

- Advocacy, 39–40
- Agency, 48, 129–131
- Ahead of her time, 145–146
- Alternative ways of organizing, 141–142
- Anticommunist politics, 140
- Authorial voice, 14–15
- Auto-ethnographers, 135
- Auto-ethnography, 1, 39–40, 129
- Axiology, 21–22

- Black, 114
- Black community, 116

- Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC), 23
- Canadian Confederation of Unions (CCU), 90
- Capitalist dominance, 7
- Caste system, 101
- Civil Rights, 123
- Civil Rights Act of 1964, 140
- Classical management, 9
- Collective biography, 1, 37–39, 129
- Critical autonomy, 133
- Critical historiographer, 31
- Critical historiography, 12, 30–32
- Critical race theory (CRT), 125
- Cross-writing, 41
- Cultural presuppositions, 141

- Dear reader, 15–16, 150
- Death, 138
- Depoliticizing gender, 26n2

- Desmond, V., 111
 - biographical introduction, 111–114
 - conversation with, 115–123
 - post-interview reflections, 123–125
 - pre-conversation, 114–115
- Desmond School of Beauty Culture*, 112, 119
- Dialogic ethnography, 45
- Dies Committee (see House of Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC))
- Discourses, 25, 129–131, 135–136, 141
 - of gender, 137
 - importance, 149
 - surfacing, 49–50

- Embodied writing, 49
- Emotional engagement, 134
- Emotionality, 49, 133–135
- Emotions, 49, 134
- Empowerment, 133
- Epistemology, 21

- Facts, 30, 41
- Federal Theater Project (FTP), 73
- Feminism, 23–26, 49, 132, 158–159
 - and critical historiography, 12
 - feminist discourse on, 10–12
 - feminist polemic on state of MOS on, 9–10
- Feminist critique
 - of organizational analysis, 10
 - on suppression of agency, 132–133

- Feminist discourse on feminism, 10–12
- Feminist polemic, 1
 - on state of MOS on feminism, 9–10
- Feminist poststructuralism, 25
- Feminist strategy for studying past, 50
- Feminist theory, 157
- Feminist work, 10
- Fiction, 40–41
- Fictional techniques, 45
- Ficto-feminism, 1–3, 28–29, 37, 129
 - advantages, 135, 149–150
 - application, 160
 - auto-ethnography, reflexivity and advocacy, 39–40
 - breadcrumbs, 150–152
 - challenges, 147–149
 - collective biography, 37–39
 - emotionality and resonance, 49
 - facets, 129
 - feminist strategy for studying past, 50
 - fictional techniques, 45
 - fictocriticism, 40–44
 - limitations, 46
 - performativity, 48
 - reflexivity, embodied/emic insights, 49
 - revealing facets, 12–13
 - strategy for studying past, 146
 - subjective self and subjective subject, 47–48
 - surfacing discourses, 49–50
 - temporality and time travel, 46–47
 - unlocking agency in subject and writer, 48
 - writing, 44–45
- Fictocritical approaches, 42
- Fictocriticism, 1, 40–44, 129
 - generative capacity, 40
 - proponents, 42
- First-name basis, 8–9
- Flanagan, H., 73
 - biographical introduction, 73–74
 - conversation with, 74–84
 - post-interview reflections, 84–86
 - pre-conversation, 74
- Franklin D. Roosevelt (FDR), 56
- Gender, 26–29, 136–137
 - history, 26–30
 - logic system, 24
- Gendering, 26–29
- Great Depression, 65
- Heroines, 144–145
- Historical fiction, 42
- Historiography, 30
- History, 138–139, 158–159
 - books, 6
 - gender, 26–30
- House of Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC), 80, 138
- Identity, 48
- Indian Act of 1876, 101
- Industrial and Labor Relations (ILR), 57
- Influence, 131
- Intimacy level, 8
- Jim Crow rule, 117
- Knowledge, 157
- Legitimacy of dominant objective practice, 28
- Liminal spaces, 50
- Literary non-fiction, 42
- Logic, 22
- Management and organizational studies (MOS), 1, 4, 7, 30
 - inclusion in, 8
 - scope, 10
- Management history (MH), 1, 4, 7
 - inclusion in, 8
 - scope, 10

- Marlowesque madness, 139
 Marxist feminists, 7
 Marxist tradition, 27
 Metaphysical primer, 21
 - critical historiography, 30–32
 - feminism (s), power and politics, 23–26
 - gender, gendering and gender history, 26–29
 - literature and data, 22–23
 - theoretical framework and entry points, 23
 Methodology, 22
 Modern management, 9
 Modes of production, 7

 New Deal, 4–5, 56, 75
 Nonfiction writing, 44
 NSAACP, 140

 Objective realism, 31
 Ontology, 21
 Organizations, 27
 Out of place, 145–146
 Overlooked figure, 5–6

 Parent, M., 89
 - biographical introduction, 89–90
 - conversation with, 90–104
 - post-interview reflection, 104–106
 - pre-conversation, 90
 Patriarchy, 27
 Performance texts, 135
 Performativity of ficto-feminism, 48
 Perkins, F., 55
 - biographical introduction, 55–56
 - conversation with, 57–68
 - post-interview reflection, 69–70
 - pre-conversation, 56–57
 Personal feminist polemic, 1
 Personal polemics, 24
 Polemics, 1
 - autobiography, 24
 - of heart, 24
 Politics, 23–26
 Post truth, 44n1
 Postcriticism (see Fictocriticism)
 Postmodern ideas, 29
 Postmodern theory, 29
 Postmodernism, 29
 Poststructural approach, 28
 Poststructuralism, 26
 - critical critique, 29
 Power, 23–26, 29
 Power within conceptions, 133
 Power-over conceptions, 24
 Power-to conceptions, 24, 133
 Power-with conceptions, 24, 133
 Proto-management theorist, 2
 Psychoanalytical approach, 28
 Public relations skills, 136

 Qualitative study, 22
 Quiet Revolution, 100, 116

 Reactive feminist polemic, 1
 Reasoned feminist polemic, 1
 Reflexive writing, 47
 Reflexivity, 39–40, 129–131
 - embodied/emic insights, 49
 Reliable narrator, 15–16
 Relief Act of 1935, 76–77
 Researcher emotion, 49
 Resonance, 49, 133–135
 Rhizomatic approaches, 44
 Royal Prerogative of Mercy free pardon, 113n2

 Scholarly contribution, 160–161
 Scientific Management, 9
 Skepticism, 42
 Socioeconomic programmes, 56
 Sociology of knowledge, 32
 Sociopolitical context, 139–141
 Subject, 8
 - unlocking agency in, 48
 Subjective self, 47–48
 Subjective subject, 47–48

- Subjectivity, 138
- Supreme Court decision in 1954, 140
- Symons Report of 1975, 98

- Temporality, 46–47
- Theorization, 135
- Thisness presentism, 158–159
- Time travel, 46–47
- Traces, 42
- Truth, 159

- Unreliable narrator, 15–16

- Valourization, 142–144
- Valuable, 7

- Verisimilitude, 135
- Vi's Studio of Beauty Culture*, 112, 119
- Villains, 144–145
- Voice of Women, 140n2

- Whisper campaign, 66
- Women, 4–8
 - activism, 140
 - history, 29n4
 - in public positions, 139
- Works Progress Administration (WPA), 75
- Writer, unlocking agency in, 48
- Writing, 44
 - literary non-fiction, fictitious conversation, 44–45