

INDEX

- Aesthetics of conversation, 94–96
Affective capitalism, 73, 81
Affordance, 27–35
Agency, 27–28, 33–35
    structure versus religious authority structure, 106
        symbiotic, 26–27, 31
Agenda-building processes
    definition of, 164
    media role shaping, 163
        conduit role, 167–169
        facilitator role, 170–171
        mediator role, 169–170
        political actor role, 171–172
Algorithmic public relations, 26, 31
Animal diplomacy, 70, 72
Artistic image, 97
Assemblage model of public relations,
    27–28, 34–36
Attractiveness, 70, 73
Authentic communication, 71–72
Automation, 26, 31–32

Barbary Coast, 52–53
Behavioural image—symbolic image distinction, 89–90, 93, 97
Belt and Road Initiative (BRI), 74
Boosterism, 166–167
BP, 61, 63–64
Branded community, 41–42
Branded content, 39–40, 41–42, 44,
    45, 53, 54–55
BRI. See Belt and Road Initiative
    (BRI)
Brundtland Commission, 59
Business internationalisation, 1

Cambridge Analytica scandal, xvi, 26, 27
Canadian Wind Energy Association
    (CanWEA), 65
CanWEA. See Canadian Wind
    Energy Association
    (CanWEA)
Capitalism
    affective, 73, 81
    cognitive, 73
    industrial, 73
CGTN, 81
CH. See Crimson Hexagon (CH)
Chartered Institute of Public Relations (CIPR), 129–130
China’s panda diplomacy on Twitter, xvii, 69
    findings, 75–79, 85
    method, 74–75
    public diplomacy, 69–74, 80, 81
China Xinhua News, 81
CIPR. See Chartered Institute of Public Relations (CIPR)
Citizen journalism, 181
Coaches, communication professionals as, 156–157
Coaching to PR professionals, xviii
Cognitive capitalism, 73
Commercial message video, 45
Communication behaviours, 151–154
Communication professionals, 16
    as coaches, 156–157
    in liquid modernity, role of, 177
    communication, 180–182
    disinformation, 179–180
    information, 179–182

- misinformation, 179–180
  - scientific and technological organizations, 182–184
- Communication roles, 146
  - mapping, 150
- Communication value, 12–14
- Communication Value Circle (CVC), 11–15
- Community activism, 134–135
- Computation, 26
- Conduit role, 167–169
- Conversational branding, 90–91, 92–93, 96
  - modelling, 93–94
- Conversational branding, xvii
- Conversational model, landmarks for, 90–92
- Cooperation, 132–134
- Corporate brand(ing), 90
  - employees in, 147–148
- Corporate communication, 118
- Corporate identity, xvii, 87
  - aesthetics of conversation, 94–96
  - conversational branding, 92–93
  - conversational branding, modelling, 93–94
  - conversational model, landmarks for, 90–92
  - distinguished from corporate image, 89
  - literature review, 88–90
- Corporate Identity Manuals (Blue Books), 96
- Corporate image—corporate identity distinction, 89–90
- Corporate marketing, 90
- Corporate personality, 89
- Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), 63–64, 145, 147–148
- CR. See Critical realism (CR)
- Crimson Hexagon (CH), 73–74, 81
- Crisis communication, 27–28
  - data-driven, 33–35
  - digital, 29–30
  - employees in, 149
- Critical realism (CR), 129–130
- CSR. See Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR)
- C-suite leaders, 118
- CVC. See Communication Value Circle (CVC)
- Data-driven crisis communication, 33–35
- Datafication of public relations, xvi, 26, 27–28, 28, 30, 30–33, 34, 34–35
- Diegesis, 87–88
- Digital crisis communication, 29–30
- Digitalisation of public relations, 26, 27–28, 29, 30–31, 33–35
- Digital natives, 57–58
- Digital public relations, paradigms of, 28–29
- Digitalisation, xvi
- Disinformation, 179–180
- Distributed leadership, 134–135
- Dual structure management of organized religion, 105, 107–108
- Dunning-Kruger effect, 58–59
- EAOD. See Employee anonymous online dissent (EAOD)
- Emotional responses, 42, 43–44, 50, 52–53
- Emotion-producing practices, impact on branded video, 39
  - Barbary Coast*, 52–53
  - categories of branded video, 44–45
  - future research, 54–55
  - limitations of, 54
  - Lost and Found Service*, 50–51
  - managerial implications, 53–54
  - methods and model, 45–50
  - practices and effects, 42–44
  - value and emotions, 41–42
  - Wild Turkey Bourbon: Matthew McConaughey Short Film*, 51–52

- Employee advocacy, 157
- Employee anonymous online dissent (EAOD), 148
- Employee communication, 146
- Employees, as strategic
  - communicators in public relation, 143
  - communication roles, mapping, 150
  - employee communication roles, typology of, 150–153
  - future research, 154–157
    - communication professionals, as coaches, 156–157
    - employee communication roles, as in-role behaviour, 157
    - five different contexts or audiences, 155–156
  - literature review, 145–150
    - communication roles, 146
    - corporate branding, 147–148
    - crisis communication, 149
    - engagement, empowerment and organizational identification, 146–147
    - knowledge management, innovation and participation, 149–150
    - role theory, 145–146
    - social media, 148
- Empowerment, 146–147
- Energy transition, engaging millennials in, 57
  - methodology, 61–62
  - results, 62–65
  - theoretical background, 58–61
- Engagement, 146–147
  - of millennials in energy transition, 57
    - methodology, 61–62
    - results, 62–65
    - theoretical background, 58–61
- EUPRERA Congress (2018), themes of, 138–139
- European Communication Monitor, 146
- Expansive communication, 17
- Experiential knowledge, 4–5
- Export acceptance, 5
- Export awareness, 5
- Export evaluation, 5
- Export intention, 5
- Export trial, 5
- ExxonMobil, 61, 64
- Facebook, 27, 28, 31–32, 61, 63
  - News Feed algorithm, 26
- Face-to-face communications, 132–133, 138–139
- Facilitator role, 170–171
- GAINS (Gestalt Approach to International Business Strategies) paradigm, 7–10
- Globalisation, 2, 181
- Google Doodle, 91–92
- Graphic design paradigm of conversational model, 90
- Growth period of international development, 9–10
- Huffington Post, 64
- Hypermodern communication, 95–96
- Hyper-modernity, 178
- Hyper-reality, 178–179
- Indirect reciprocity, 133–134
- Industrial capitalism, 73
- Information, 179–180
- Initiating communication, 15–16
- Innovation, employees in, 149–150
- Innovation-Related Internationalisation Model, 4, 5
- In-role behaviour, employee communication roles as, 157
- Instagram, 61
- Institutional communication, 181, 182–183
- Integrative communication, 17–18

- Intentions, types of, 94–95
- International dynamics framework, of strategic communication, 14–18
  - expansive communication, 17
  - initiating communication, 15–16
  - integrative communication, 17–18
  - transformative communication, 16
- International dynamics framework for internationalisation, 8–10
- International entrepreneurship
  - approach of internationalisation, 6–7
- Internationalisation, definition of, 3–4
- Internationalisation of firms,
  - theoretical approaches to, 3–8
  - international entrepreneurship approach, 6–7
  - network approaches, 6
  - stage models, 4–6
- Invitational vlogger, 45

- Knowledge-based theory of the firm, 149–150
- Knowledge management, employees in, 149–150

- LinkedIn, 61
- Lippincott & Margulies, 88
- Liquid modernity, 178–179
  - role of communication
    - professionals in, 177
    - communication, 180–182
    - disinformation, 179–180
    - information, 179–182
    - misinformation, 179–180
    - scientific and technological organizations, 182–184
- Lost and Found Service*, 50–51

- Marketing, 116, 117, 118, 120, 121–122, 123
  - practices, 40, 50
- Marketing and public relations
  - paradigm of conversational model, 90
- Maturation period of international development, 8–10
- Media roles
  - in public relations research, 166–167
  - shaping agenda-building processes, 163, 168
    - conduit role, 167–169
    - facilitator role, 170–171
    - mediator role, 169–170
    - political actor role, 171–172
- Mediator role, 169–170
- Megaphoning, 149–150
- Micro-boundary spanning, 149–150
- Millennials engagement in energy transition, xvii, 57
  - methodology, 61–62
  - results, 62–65
  - theoretical background, 58–61
- Misinformation, 179–180
- Multi-layered scholarship, xv

- NCC. See Networked Crisis Communication (NCC)
- Network approaches of internationalisation, 6
- Networked Crisis Communication (NCC), 30
- Normative management, 106–107

- Online branded video
  - positive impressions for viewers, xvi–xvii
- Online firestorms, 28–29, 33–34
- Online video effectiveness, 42–44
- Organizational identification, 146–147
- Organized religion, 99

- Paracrises, 29–30
- Paris Climate Agreement, 61–62
- Participation, of employees, 149–150

- Path model, 45–46, 53–54
- PESO-model, 61
- Phronesis, 135–137
- Pioneer period of international development, 8–10
- Pluralization, 103–104
- Political actor role, 171–172
- Populism, 179
- Post-modernism, 179
- Post-truth, 178, 180
- PR. See Public relations (PR)
- Proactive agenda-setting, 166–167
- Professional detachment, 166
- PRSA. See Public Relations Society of America (PRSA)
- Psychic distance, 4–5
- Psychological image, 97
- Psychological paradigm of conversational model, 90
- Public diplomacy, 69–74, 80, 81
- Public relations (PR), xv, 70–71, 71, xv, xvi algorithmic, 26, 31
 assemblage model of, 34–36
 datafication of, 26, 27–28, 30–33, 34–35
 definition of, 117, 128
 digitalisation of, 26, 27–28, 29, 30–31, 33–35 for platform economy, 25
 in startup community, challenging misconceptions of, 115 methods, 119–120
 results, 120–124
 literature review, 118–119
- Public relations practitioners, social capital building by, 127
- challenges, addressing, 129–130
- face-to-face communications, importance of, 132–133, 138–139
- importance of, 130–131
- indirect reciprocity, importance of, 133–134
- key aspects, 135–138
- learning from community activism and distributed leadership, 134–135
- norms, 133
- synthesizing perspectives in conceptual framework, 135, 136
- theorizing to inform active participant interviews, 131
- unchartered territory, exploring, 128–129
- Public Relations Society of America (PRSA), 117
- Push/pull mechanisms, 5
- Raymond Loewy Associates, 88
- Relationship marketing theory, 103
- Religious authority structure, 105 distinguished from agency structure, 106
- Religious competition, 104
- Religious organizations, strategic communication of, 100, 102–103, 104, 105, 106–107, 109
- Religious-secular competition, theory of, 104
- Research gap, xviii
- Responsible Research and Innovation*, 184
- Return on investment (ROI), 12
- ROI. See Return on investment (ROI)
- Role theory in PR, 145–146
- RomTricolor campaign, 91–92, 95
- SC. See Strategic communication (SC)
- Science and Society* (2002–2006), 184
- Science in Society* (2007–2013), 184
- Science with and for Society* (2014–2020), 184
- Scientific and technological organizations, communication in, 182–184

- Scouting, 149–150
- Secularization, 100
- Secularization theory, 103–104
- Shell, 61, 64
- Small business, 116–117
- SMCC. See Social-mediated Crisis Communication (SMCC)
- Social agency, 109
- Social capital, xviii building, by public relations practitioners, 127
- Social constructionism, 130
- Social identity theory, 146
- Social media
     employees as communicators on, 148
     firestorms, 33
- Social-mediated Crisis Communication (SMCC), 30, 34
- Social norms, 133
- Stabilisation period of international development, 8–10
- Stage models of internationalisation, 4–6
- Stakeholders, 61, 62, 63–64, 65–66
- Stakeholder theory, 12, 135–137
- Startup
     community, challenging misconceptions of public relations in, 115
     definition of, 116
     distinguished from graduated startup, 116–117 reputation of, 117–119
- Strategic communication (SC), xv–xvi, xvii, xvii–xviii, 1, 182
     definition of, 10–11
     and goals of the firm, 10–14 value creating communication, dimensions of, 11–14 implications for research and practice, 21–22 international dynamics framework of, 14–18
     expansive communication, 17
     initiating communication, 15–16
     integrative communication, 17–18
     transformative communication, 16
     of religious organizations, 99
         dual structure management of organized religion, 107–108 future perspectives, 109–110 literature review of, 101–107 organized religion and strategic communication, 101–104 religious sector in Europe, 104–107 types of contributions, 109
     validation of, 18–21
- Sustainability, 57–59, 61–62, 64, 147–148
- Sustainable Society, 58–59
- Symbiotic agency, 26–27, 31
- Symbolic image, 90
     distinguished from behavioural image, 89–90, 93, 97
- Targeted involvement, 166–167
- Total, 61, 64
- Track-II diplomacy, 70–71
- Training to PR professionals, xviii
- Transformative communication, 16
- Trust, 132–133, 135, 138–139
- Twitter, 28, 61, 63, 65
     panda diplomacy in China using, xvii, 69
- UK Youth Climate Coalition (UYCC), 65
- UN. See United Nations (UN)
- United Nations (UN), 61–62, 65
- Uppsala Internationalisation Model, 4–5
- UYCC. See UK Youth Climate Coalition (UYCC)

- Value creating communication, dimensions of, 11–14
- VICE, 64
- Video of experience, 44
- Visual identity, 88–90, 96
campaignable, 91
- Wild Turkey Bourbon: Matthew
McConaughey Short Film*,
51–52
- WOM (Word of mouth), 147–148
- Working Party on Social Capital
(WPSC), 129–130
- WPSC. See Working Party on Social Capital (WPSC)
- YouTube, 39–40, 65
emotion-producing practices,
impact of, 39
- YouTube Pipe Community (YTPC),
45, 52
- YTPC. See YouTube Pipe
Community (YTPC)